Kennedy Ridicules Nixon 'Experience'

Lacks Qualities To Lead Nation, Senator Says

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy picked up the Republican campaign slogan that "experience counts" and taunted Vice President Richard M. Nixon with it Thursday night.

The Democratic presidential candidate ticked off a series of foreign policy issues on which he said Nixon had been reckless, wrong or incorrect.

"I think we need leadership that is better informed; leadership that is less complacent about the future; leadership that is more sound in its judgments," He added. "And we need leadership willing to face the facts."

Kennedy went after Nixon on this score in a speech for a Democratic rally in the Municipal Auditorium here after a fast-paced swing through Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

Johnson Joins Kennedy

When Kennedy entered Texas at Amarillo, he was joined by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, his vice-presidential running mate, for the first time since Sept. 13.

They rode together in Johnson's plane to Wichita Falls for another airport rally, giving them a chance to discuss strategy for the closing days before the Nov. 8 election.

President Eisenhower, a Texan by birth, carried the state in 1952 and 1956. Texas is regarded as one of the big question marks in this year's election.

In the text of a speech for the Amarillo rally, Kennedy accused Nixon of using "the blackmailer's tactics of distorted threats."

This was in connection with an attack on Nixon's foreign program. It turned out to be a paper charge as Kennedy never delivered it. But neither did he withdraw the text.

Nixon Record Under Fire

Earlier in Phoenix, Ariz., and Albuquerque, N.M., Kennedy lit into his Republican rival on natural resources development and expansion of the Social Security system.

In his final speech Thursday night Kennedy said Nixon's record and experience in foreign affairs do not demonstrate he poses the qualities required for the critical 60s.

Referring to crises that have developed in countries visited by Nixon, he said: "Mr. Nixon would like us to forget the fact that he did not foresee these crises or recommend new policies, or secure their adoption. But the American people will not forget, for they know experience counts."

Kennedy planned early Friday to start a day of campaigning in Norfolk, Va., going later to Roanoke, Va.; Toledo, Ohio; Chicago, and New York City.

Roa Sees U.S. Cuba Invasion 'To Elect' Nixon

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa said Thursday night it was logical to expect a U.S. invasion of Cuba by next Tuesday to put Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the White House.

Roa made his forecast in a statement issued at the United Nations. The statement was in reply to President Eisenhower's remark that the United States would defend the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo in eastern Cuba if it were attacked.

Roa said Nixon's election depends on "another 'glorious victory' of North American imperialism in Cuba."

He added that "it is logical to presume that this aggression must take place before Nov. 8."

The Cuban foreign minister said public opinion in the United States has been conditioned to "applaud hysterically, with no sign of any conscience, the monstrous crime which it is intended to commit and which we again denounce before the whole world."

Roa said the United States intends to create a provocation against the Guantanamo Naval Base which will serve as a pretext for "the armed invasion and occupation of Cuba."

He added that the Cuban government has taken strict precautions in an effort to avoid any pretext for provocation and will repel any invasion in hand-to-hand fighting.

Cyclone, Tidal Wave Kill 4,000

CHITTAGONG, East Pakistan (UPI) — At least 4,000 persons were killed in the cyclone and tidal wave which struck a 100-mile coastal area Monday, a high official said Thursday.

This port city was one of the worst hit areas as were the offshore islands which took the heaviest force of the Oct. 10 cyclone and tidal wave.

Gaitskell Re-elected Labor Party Chief

LONDON (UPI) — Hugh Gaitskell was re-elected leader of the British Labor Party Thursday night, confounding the experts who had predicted three general election defeats in a row would mean his political eclipse.

The soft-spoken, mild-mannered Gaitskell received 166 votes cast by the labor members of Parliament to 81 for Harold Wilson who had challenged him on the issue of party unity. His new term is for the 1960-61 session of parliament.

"Spinning Top" Relaying Data On Ionosphere

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Explorer VIII, America's newest satellite, is spinning through the ionosphere as further evidence of U.S. progress in unlocking the mysteries of space.

The 90-pound "spinning top" satellite rocketed into orbit atop a Juno II booster early Thursday. Its mission is to make the most exhaustive study ever attempted of the ionosphere, several layers of electrically charged particles which reflect radio waves back to earth.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported several hours after launch that good, clear signals were being received from the satellite. It is zipping around the globe every 112 minutes in an orbit ranging from 258 to 1,422 miles above the earth.

"Data is being received from seven of the eight experiments in the payload," a spokesman said. The eighth was not to start functioning until later.

Explorer VIII is the first of several satellites planned to probe the ionosphere, which extends from 50 to about 1,000 miles altitude. Scientists hope that thorough charting of this electrical field will lead to better communications between continents, ships and planes—and between ground stations and future manned space vehicles.

Because of its radiowave reflective qualities, the ionosphere is vital to long-range communications, enabling signals to travel around the curvature of the earth.

But the composition of the ionosphere constantly shifts because of such things as solar storms, auroral displays, sunlight and shadow. The changes hamper communications. NASA feels Explorer VIII will explain just how much the ionosphere is affected by these phenomena and thus open the way for overcoming them.

The "spinning top" is so nicknamed because it is shaped like a child's toy top and spins in flight for stabilization.

Guantanamo Exercise Today

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP) — The entire defense machinery of this strategic U.S. naval base will go into action in a training exercise Friday.

Navy officials took pains Thursday to point out that this exercise in hostile Cuba is similar to training maneuvers normally conducted monthly.

However, recent propaganda statements by Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government and President Eisenhower's announcement that Guantanamo will be held sharpens attention on the maneuvers.

Virtually every man able to carry a gun—except for civilians—will stream out at dawn to the 27-mile-long boundary of the base to man the perimeter's defenses.

Red Chinese Jet Fighter Pilots Reported In Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — Chinese residents of Cuba have been mixing in public with a small group of Communist Chinese technicians the result being an impression of sizable Peiping support for the Castro regime, reliable sources here said Thursday.

These sources say they understand about 30 Red Chinese military technicians have arrived in Cuba. Six of them are believed to be pilots.

Some of the newly arrived Red Chinese have been seen at social affairs sponsored by Castro units. With them have been substantial numbers of local Chinese known to and recognized by Cubans, the reports say.

The sources doubt that Red Chinese pilots are here to teach Cuban pilots how to fly jets. Instead they probably are here to fly such planes themselves as a stopgap until Cuban pilots can be trained here or abroad.

Diplomatic sources say they understand an added number of Soviet, Czech and either Red Chinese or North Korean military technicians are here now and are being sent throughout Cuba.

Some are thought to be here in connection with the delivery of Soviet MIG jetfighters from Czechoslovakia. Others are believed assigned to help instruct the Cuban army and militia in how to handle new antiaircraft, antitank and field artillery pieces delivered from Czechoslovakia.

Reports persist that many small Soviet-designed tanks already are here and that some have been sent to the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba to help flush out stubborn insurgent bands.

Two California Scientists Win Nobel Prizes

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Two California scientists won 1960 Nobel prizes Thursday for separate feats in harnessing the atom to haul mysteries of the universe to light.

Dr. Willard F. Libby, 51, of the University of California at Los Angeles, a former member of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, was awarded the chemistry prize for devising the atomic time clock.

This is a method through which scientists, by checking on the decay and disappearance of radioactive carbon 14 from such objects as parchment, charcoal, stone or pottery, can fix the dates of ancient events—give or take several centuries.

Dr. Donald A. Glaser, 34, of the University of California at Berkeley, became the physics laureate as the inventor of the bubble bath chamber, through which the paths of atomic particles are photographed from trails of tiny bubbles as they speed through superheated liquids.

Each will receive a check for $43,627 from the trust fund left by Alfred Nobel, the Swedish inventor of dynamite.

Each was gratified at his selection by the Royal Swedish Academy of Science.

"I've been very lucky over the years," Libby commented in Los Angeles, "but this is the greatest honor I've ever received."

In Berkeley, Glaser said: "I am overjoyed. It's a magnificent honor and I'm very grateful."

Glaser is the 73rd American named for Nobel honors since the annual awards started in 1901. Libby is the 74th.

The other 1960 winners are Saint-John Perse, French poet and former diplomat, for literature; and Sir Frank MacFarlane Burnet of Australia and Dr. Peter Brian Medawar of Britain for medicine.

For the 17th time, the peace prize is being withheld.

President Considers Invitation To Nigeria

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower may make a trip to Nigeria, in West Africa, either before or after he leaves the White House.

The door was left open for such a visit in an exchange of messages, made public Thursday by the White House, between Eisenhower and the Nigerian Prime Minister, the Hon. Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa.

The prime minister called on Eisenhower in Washington Oct. 8. He followed up with an invitation from his government for Eisenhower to visit Nigeria "at any time convenient to the President."

U.N. Congo Report Criticizes Mobutu

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Dag Hammarskjold laid before the General Assembly Thursday a report from his chief Congo aide charging that Col. Joseph Mobutu's army-backed regime, spurred by Belgians, had brought the Congo to the verge of collapse.

The report declared that only two governing institutions still stand in the Congo — Parliament and the office of chief of state, held by President Joseph Kasavubu.

It asserted that if a minimum of order was restored, it would open the day for Congo leaders to seek peace by using both Parliament and Kasavubu's office.

Meanwhile, it declared, only the efforts of the U.N. force and its administrators have saved the situation from disaster.

Most of the report consisted of the findings by the secretary-general's special representative in the Congo — Indian Ambassador Rajeshwar Dayal.

But it included also the texts of sharp exchanges between Hammarskjold and Belgium's U.N. representative and between the secretary-general and the Belgian-supported premier of Katanga Province, Moise Tshombe. At issue was the role of Belgians in the affairs of the strife-torn African republic.

The report came in advance of a general Assembly session on the Congo set for Monday. Dayal was on his way to New York to confer with Hammarskjold.

The Assembly was called to consider a demand by eight African and Asian nations that Congo's vacant Assembly seat be filled by representatives of Patrice Lumumba, the deposed Soviet-supported premier.

But U.N. diplomats predicted the Hammarskjold report was sure to be injected in the debate—especially by the Soviet Union, which has repeatedly accused Belgium of trying by subterfuge to reimpose its influence in the Congo in defiance of the United Nations.

Spies Get Bonn Defense Plans

BONN, Germany (AP) — The Soviet Union is in possession of details of West Germany's defense plans through 1961, Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss said Thursday night.

Strauss told reporters Moscow obtained the plans through an espionage ring which was broken up last Friday with the arrest of a German member of Parliament. The information was in a document called "MC-70," described by a Defense Ministry official as "the most secret document we have."

Officials said the spy ring was smashed with the arrest of six persons, including Alfred Frenzel, 61, a Social Democrat deputy and member of the Bundestag Defense Committee. Strauss was asked how much of MC-70 was furnished to the committee.

"The document itself did not go to the committee, but I personally briefed the committee on it," he replied. "I explained in outline our requirements and from year to year the details."

Fears had been expressed that major Atlantic alliance defense secrets had been betrayed. But Strauss said he gave the committee only defense details concerning West Germany.

Motion For Finch Mistrial Refused

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The defense in the second Finch murder trial moved for a mistrial Thursday, alleging jury coercion. The judge denied it.

Grant B. Cooper, attorney for Dr. R. Bernard Finch, argued that:

1. The length of deliberation—more than 53 hours—is oppressive and coercive.

2. Superior Court Judge LeRoy Dawson's statement to the jury Wednesday that "you should be able to reach a verdict" is further coercion.

Dr. Finch and his mistress, Carole Tregoff, are charged with the 1959 slaying of the surgeon's socialite wife, Barbara. They claim her shooting was accidental. The first trial ended when the jury could not agree.

Thursday morning's arguments came after Judge Dawson had announced he intended to poll the jury to see how it stands. He later changed his mind.

Ike's Brother Resigns Posts

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's brother, Milton, handed in resignations from three government advisory posts Thursday. The President accepted two.

Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, wrote his brother he had intened to resign before the end of the President's second term and is doing so now because doctors have advised him recuperation from a back injury will require at least three more months.

He asked to be relieved of membership on the President's Advisory Committee on Government Organization, the National Advisory Committee on Inter-american Affairs, and the Board of Visitors of the United States Naval Academy.

The President accepted the resignation from the first two with "great reluctance." He said that at the suggestion of the Navy Department and in accordance with a conversation with his brother, Milton Eisenhower will continue on the Board of Visitors to the academy. The President said he is delighted.

Accused Soviet Spy Released On $50,000 Bail

NEW YORK (AP) — The Soviet government finally won freedom on $50,000 bail Thursday for Igor Y. Melekh, a United Nations secretariat employe accused of spying in this country for Moscow.

However, Melekh was placed under federal court mandate to remain in Manhattan and not to set foot on any pier or in any railroad or air terminal.

The U.S. government vigorously protested Melekh's release during a day of legal wrangling in federal court. It was marked by the presence of two Soviet Embassy officials from Washington who carried a briefcase with the $50,000 in cash.

The bail officially was posted in the name of Melekh's wife, Irina, to whom it was loaned by the Soviet Embassy.

Melekh, 47, is due in Chicago at a date yet to be specified to answer an indictment accusing him and another man of seeking military maps and photographs of Chicago for transmission to the Soviet Union.

Under arrest with Melekh is Willie Hirsch, 52, a German alien. Hirsch, a free-lance illustrator for medical publications, has lived most of his life in New York. Bail for each man was set at $50,000 following their arrest here last week. Hirsch has been unable to raise bail.

Bookmakers Rate Kennedy Favorite

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bookmakers' odds on the presidential election gave a 7½-5 edge to Sen. John F. Kennedy in New York Thursday.

Odds quoted for New York state were 3-1 for Kennedy over Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

One large Midwest bookie was quoted as rating Kennedy an 11-5 choice, and in Las Vegas, Nev., Kennedy was a 9-5 favorite.

Big gambling houses in Nevada have taken down their listings on the presidential race because of a 1919 statute making it illegal for gamblers to accept bets on a presidential election.

Conflict Settled As Girls Granted Free Beer Break

LONDON (AP)—A giant lurch forward in worker-management relations took place Thursday. A British shampoo firm began giving 26 girl employes a free daily beer break.

Thus was settled one of the strangest conflicts in the history of industrial discord.

The girls work for Lincoln Hair Products, Ltd., in suburban Acton. The firm makes shampoo. A main component of this unusual hair-wash is a strong, high-grade beer, said to bring out the highlights of a woman's crowning glory in nothing flat.

Pouring beer into shampoo day after day made for temptation. In the course of time, the girls developed the habit of passing up their tea break and dipping their cups into the beer barrel instead.

When the head of the firm, Eric Lincoln, found out about this last Monday he put his foot down. The girls promptly walked out under banners proclaiming "We want our beer break."

Lincoln gave in Wednesday night, and a compromise was reached.

The girls agreed to quit drinking the beer they were supposed to be putting in the shampoo. Lincoln agreed to keep another barrel on tap in their canteen, and to give each girl half a pint free at lunch time.

GOP Nominee Bids For Dixie Demos' Votes

Says U.S. Defenses "Not Shaky," Links Kennedy To Reuther

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Thursday night the United States is moving toward "a spectacular break-through" in intelligence under which "we won't need to fly over to gain the information to prevent Russia from launching a surprise attack."

The vice president did not elaborate on the nature of the "breakthrough," but he apparently was referring to a picture-transmitting satellite.

Nixon linked his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, with labor leader Walter Reuther as he moved across Texas in an effort to win the state's 24 electoral votes which Eisenhower captured in 1952 and 1956.

Nixon said Reuther "will have a lot to do with calling the tune in the White House" if Kennedy is elected president.

"I can think of nothing more detrimental to this nation than for any president to owe his election to, and thereby be captive of a political boss than Walter Reuther, presiden of the United Automobile Workers Union," Nixon said in remarks prepared for a rally at Memorial theater.

U. S. Defenses "Not Shaky"

The administration's defense policies were defended by the vice president in a televised address at San Antonio shortly before he left for Houston.

"The United States defenses are strong, and they are not shaky," Nixon said. "If they were shaky, you can be sure Mr. Khrushchev would be pushing us around in Berlin and the various other parts of the world where we have called his bluff."

Before predicting the "spectacular breakthrough" in his San Antonio telecast, Nixon defended the U2 intelligence plane flights with the comment: "Remember Pearl Harbor — right at the moment when we were negotiating with the Japanese, they struck at Parl Harbor."

Earlier, Nixon drew roaring cheers from crowds estimated by Police Chief George Bichsel at more than 41,000 at The Alamo and along a 10-mile parade route.

Cheered At Columbia, S. C.

He came here from Columbia, S. C., where he got a rousing reception from a police-estimated crowd of 35,000 at Columbia.

Bidding for the votes of Texas Democrats, Nixon, in his speech in front of the historic Alamo, called the platform the party adopted at its Los Angeles convention the most radical ever adopted by a political party.

He added that any Democrat who could vote to back the platform and the party's presidential candidate supporting it would be "disloyal to the true principles of the Democratic party."

The standard-bearers of the party, Nixon said, have abandoned the principles of Jefferson and Woodrow Wilson.

Nixon was cheered when, in alluding to Kennedy, he declared: "It's time for the candidate to quit running down the United States and start speaking up for the United States."

Ike Again Hits Campaign Trail

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower hits the campaign trail again Friday, in Cleveland and Pittsburgh, in the GOP's stretch drive to elect Richard M. Nixon to the presidency.

Eisenhower already has been in Pennsylvania, for a speech at Philadelphia last Friday, and spent Wednesday by Nixon's side in New York.

The White House said Thursday the President was pleased by his reception in New York and hopes his trip there will help the Republicans throughout the country, especially with any voters still undecided.

Friday morning Eisenhower will fly to Cleveland to speak at a rally in the heart of the city, drop in on a couple of Republican rallies after lunch, then fly on to Pittsburgh.

At Pittsburgh the chief executive will travel into town by motorcade and speak at a dinner rally at a hotel. The event will be televised nationally over NBC from 9 to 9:30 p.m. EST. Afterward, Eisenhower will fly back to Washington.

Pennsylvania has 32 electoral votes, Ohio 25. Both states are battlegrounds.

U.N. Congo Report Criticizes Mobutu

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Dag Hammarskjold laid before the General Assembly Thursday a report from his chief Congo aide charging that Col. Joseph Mobutu's army-backed regime, spurred by Belgians, had brought the Congo to the verge of collapse.

Meanwhile, it declared, only the efforts of the U.N. force and its administrators have saved the situation from disaster.

Most of the report consisted of the findings by the secretary-general's special representative in the Congo — Indian Ambassador Rajeshwar Dayal.

But it included also the texts of sharp exchanges between Hammarskjold and Belgium's U.N. representative and between the secretary-general and the Belgian-supported premier of Katanga Province, Moise Tshombe. At issue was the role of Belgians in the affairs of the strife-torn African republic.

The report came in advance of a general Assembly session on the Congo set for Monday. Dayal was on his way to New York to confer with Hammarskjold.

The Assembly was called to consider a demand by eight African and Asian nations that Congo's vacant Assembly seat be filled by representatives of Patrice Lumumba, the deposed Soviet-supported premier.

But U.N. diplomats predicted the Hammarskjold report was sure to be injected in the debate—especially by the Soviet Union, which has repeatedly accused Belgium of trying by subterfuge to reimpose its influence in the Congo in defiance of the United Nations.

Spies Get Bonn Defense Plans

BONN, Germany (AP) — The Soviet Union is in possession of details of West Germany's defense plans through 1961, Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss said Thursday night.

Strauss told reporters Moscow obtained the plans through an espionage ring which was broken up last Friday with the arrest of a German member of Parliament. The information was in a document called "MC-70," described by a Defense Ministry official as "the most secret document we have."

Officials said the spy ring was smashed with the arrest of six persons, including Alfred Frenzel, 61, a Social Democrat deputy and member of the Bundestag Defense Committee. Strauss was asked how much of MC-70 was furnished to the committee.

"The document itself did not go to the committee, but I personally briefed the committee on it," he replied. "I explained in outline our requirements and from year to year the details."

Fears had been expressed that major Atlantic alliance defense secrets had been betrayed. But Strauss said he gave the committee only defense details concerning West Germany.

Motion For Finch Mistrial Refused

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The defense in the second Finch murder trial moved for a mistrial Thursday, alleging jury coercion. The judge denied it.

Grant B. Cooper, attorney for Dr. R. Bernard Finch, argued that:

1. The length of deliberation—more than 53 hours—is oppressive and coercive.

2. Superior Court Judge LeRoy Dawson's statement to the jury Wednesday that "you should be able to reach a verdict" is further coercion.

Dr. Finch and his mistress, Carole Tregoff, are charged with the 1959 slaying of the surgeon's socialite wife, Barbara. They claim her shooting was accidental. The first trial ended when the jury could not agree.

Thursday morning's arguments came after Judge Dawson had announced he intended to poll the jury to see how it stands. He later changed his mind.

Accused Soviet Spy Released On $50,000 Bail

NEW YORK (AP) — The Soviet government finally won freedom on $50,000 bail Thursday for Igor Y. Melekh, a United Nations secretariat employe accused of spying in this country for Moscow.

However, Melekh was placed under federal court mandate to remain in Manhattan and not to set foot on any pier or in any railroad or air terminal.

The U.S. government vigorously protested Melekh's release during a day of legal wrangling in federal court. It was marked by the presence of two Soviet Embassy officials from Washington who carried a briefcase with the $50,000 in cash.

The bail officially was posted in the name of Melekh's wife, Irina, to whom it was loaned by the Soviet Embassy.

Melekh, 47, is due in Chicago at a date yet to be specified to answer an indictment accusing him and another man of seeking military maps and photographs of Chicago for transmission to the Soviet Union.

Under arrest with Melekh is Willie Hirsch, 52, a German alien. Hirsch, a free-lance illustrator for medical publications, has lived most of his life in New York. Bail for each man was set at $50,000 following their arrest here last week. Hirsch has been unable to raise bail.

Ike's Brother Resigns Posts

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's brother, Milton, handed in resignations from three government advisory posts Thursday. The President accepted two.

Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, wrote his brother he had intened to resign before the end of the President's second term and is doing so now because doctors have advised him recuperation from a back injury will require at least three more months.

He asked to be relieved of membership on the President's Advisory Committee on Government Organization, the National Advisory Committee on Inter-american Affairs, and the Board of Visitors of the United States Naval Academy.

The President accepted the resignation from the first two with "great reluctance." He said that at the suggestion of the Navy Department and in accordance with a conversation with his brother, Milton Eisenhower will continue on the Board of Visitors to the academy. The President said he is delighted.

Bookmakers Rate Kennedy Favorite

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bookmakers' odds on the presidential election gave a 7½-5 edge to Sen. John F. Kennedy in New York Thursday.

Odds quoted for New York state were 3-1 for Kennedy over Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

One large Midwest bookie was quoted as rating Kennedy an 11-5 choice, and in Las Vegas, Nev., Kennedy was a 9-5 favorite.

Big gambling houses in Nevada have taken down their listings on the presidential race because of a 1919 statute making it illegal for gamblers to accept bets on a presidential election.

Conflict Settled As Girls Granted Free Beer Break

LONDON (AP)—A giant lurch forward in worker-management relations took place Thursday. A British shampoo firm began giving 26 girl employes a free daily beer break.

Thus was settled one of the strangest conflicts in the history of industrial discord.

The girls work for Lincoln Hair Products, Ltd., in suburban Acton. The firm makes shampoo. A main component of this unusual hair-wash is a strong, high-grade beer, said to bring out the highlights of a woman's crowning glory in nothing flat.

Pouring beer into shampoo day after day made for temptation. In the course of time, the girls developed the habit of passing up their tea break and dipping their cups into the beer barrel instead.

When the head of the firm, Eric Lincoln, found out about this last Monday he put his foot down. The girls promptly walked out under banners proclaiming "We want our beer break."

Lincoln gave in Wednesday night, and a compromise was reached.

The girls agreed to quit drinking the beer they were supposed to be putting in the shampoo. Lincoln agreed to keep another barrel on tap in their canteen, and to give each girl half a pint free at lunch time.

Red Chinese Jet Fighter Pilots Reported In Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — Chinese residents of Cuba have been mixing in public with a small group of Communist Chinese technicians the result being an impression of sizable Peiping support for the Castro regime, reliable sources here said Thursday.

These sources say they understand about 30 Red Chinese military technicians have arrived in Cuba. Six of them are believed to be pilots.

Some of the newly arrived Red Chinese have been seen at social affairs sponsored by Castro units. With them have been substantial numbers of local Chinese known to and recognized by Cubans, the reports say.

The sources doubt that Red Chinese pilots are here to teach Cuban pilots how to fly jets. Instead they probably are here to fly such planes themselves as a stopgap until Cuban pilots can be trained here or abroad.

Diplomatic sources say they understand an added number of Soviet, Czech and either Red Chinese or North Korean military technicians are here now and are being sent throughout Cuba.

Some are thought to be here in connection with the delivery of Soviet MIG jetfighters from Czechoslovakia. Others are believed assigned to help instruct the Cuban army and militia in how to handle new antiaircraft, antitank and field artillery pieces delivered from Czechoslovakia.

Reports persist that many small Soviet-designed tanks already are here and that some have been sent to the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba to help flush out stubborn insurgent bands.

Gaitskell Re-elected Labor Party Chief

LONDON (UPI) — Hugh Gaitskell was re-elected leader of the British Labor Party Thursday night, confounding the experts who had predicted three general election defeats in a row would mean his political eclipse.

The soft-spoken, mild-mannered Gaitskell received 166 votes cast by the labor members of Parliament to 81 for Harold Wilson who had challenged him on the issue of party unity. His new term is for the 1960-61 session of parliament.

GOP Nominee Bids For Dixie Demos' Votes

Says U.S. Defenses "Not Shaky," Links Kennedy To Reuther

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Thursday night the United States is moving toward "a spectacular break-through" in intelligence under which "we won't need to fly over to gain the information to prevent Russia from launching a surprise attack."

The vice president did not elaborate on the nature of the "breakthrough," but he apparently was referring to a picture-transmitting satellite.

Nixon linked his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, with labor leader Walter Reuther as he moved across Texas in an effort to win the state's 24 electoral votes which Eisenhower captured in 1952 and 1956.

Nixon said Reuther "will have a lot to do with calling the tune in the White House" if Kennedy is elected president.

"I can think of nothing more detrimental to this nation than for any president to owe his election to, and thereby be captive of a political boss than Walter Reuther, presiden of the United Automobile Workers Union," Nixon said in remarks prepared for a rally at Memorial theater.

U. S. Defenses "Not Shaky"

The administration's defense policies were defended by the vice president in a televised address at San Antonio shortly before he left for Houston.

"The United States defenses are strong, and they are not shaky," Nixon said. "If they were shaky, you can be sure Mr. Khrushchev would be pushing us around in Berlin and the various other parts of the world where we have called his bluff."

Before predicting the "spectacular breakthrough" in his San Antonio telecast, Nixon defended the U2 intelligence plane flights with the comment: "Remember Pearl Harbor — right at the moment when we were negotiating with the Japanese, they struck at Parl Harbor."

Earlier, Nixon drew roaring cheers from crowds estimated by Police Chief George Bichsel at more than 41,000 at The Alamo and along a 10-mile parade route.

Cheered At Columbia, S. C.

He came here from Columbia, S. C., where he got a rousing reception from a police-estimated crowd of 35,000 at Columbia.

Bidding for the votes of Texas Democrats, Nixon, in his speech in front of the historic Alamo, called the platform the party adopted at its Los Angeles convention the most radical ever adopted by a political party.

He added that any Democrat who could vote to back the platform and the party's presidential candidate supporting it would be "disloyal to the true principles of the Democratic party."

The standard-bearers of the party, Nixon said, have abandoned the principles of Jefferson and Woodrow Wilson.

Nixon was cheered when, in concluding to Kennedy, he declared: "It's time for the candidate to quit running down the United States and start speaking up for the United States."

Ike Again Hits Campaign Trail

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower hits the campaign trail again Friday, in Cleveland and Pittsburgh, in the GOP's stretch drive to elect Richard M. Nixon to the presidency.

Eisenhower already has been in Pennsylvania, for a speech at Philadelphia last Friday, and spent Wednesday by Nixon's side in New York.

The White House said Thursday the President was pleased by his reception in New York and hopes his trip there will help the Republicans throughout the country, especially with any voters still undecided.

Friday morning Eisenhower will fly to Cleveland to speak at a rally in the heart of the city, drop in on a couple of Republican rallies after lunch, then fly on to Pittsburgh.

At Pittsburgh the chief executive will travel into town by motorcade and speak at a dinner rally at a hotel. The event will be televised nationally over NBC from 9 to 9:30 p.m. EST. Afterward, Eisenhower will fly back to Washington.

Pennsylvania has 32 electoral votes, Ohio 25. Both states are battlegrounds.

Ike Almost Certain To Attend Paris NATO Meet, Diplomatic Reports Say

LONDON (UPI)—President Eisenhower "almost certainly" will go to Paris next month for the annual NATO council meeting, press and diplomatic reports here and in the French capital said Thursday.

The expected visit, regarded as a farewell gesture to the United States' European allies by Eisenhower, would turn the conference into a full-dress Western summit meeting.

While there has been no official word received by the Western governments, Eisenhower's presence could be of great help because of his closeness with European leaders and the role he played as NATO commander, diplomats said.

The Dec. 16 meeting primarily will be a review of the Western defense alignment. European diplomats said Eisenhower could help bridge some of the current difficulties in the organization, particularly with French President Charles de Gaulle who wants France to have its own nuclear striking force independent of NATO.

If Eisenhower goes to Paris, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, West German chancellor Konrad Adenauer and other allied leaders would attend the meeting. De Gaulle was held unlikely to stay away from it in such an event, even if he is deeply dissatisfied with the organization.

Some diplomatic observers suggested that Eisenhower might bring De Gaulle back into the NATO fold, or at least, persuade the French leader to abandon his passive attitude toward the alliance.

Major policy considerations for the future of the organization are being considered now.

Reports China, Soviet At Odds Denied By Chou

LONDON (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai of Red China denied in an interview Thursday night there is any rift with the Soviet Union. And he said the United States can have peaceful relations only if it pulls out of Formosa and the offshore islands.

The interview was taped in Peiping and shown throughout Britain by the British Broadcasting Corp. The interviewer was Felix Green, a British journalist now living in San Francisco.

Asked about reports in the West that the Soviet Union is worried about Red China's growing power, Chou replied: "The Socialist countries cannot possibly be apprehensive of each other. Their common interest is to help and support each other for a common upsurge in their national economy and continuously raise the material and cultural standards of their own peoples.

"The solidarity among all the countries of the Socialist camp is unbreakable. What is more, the solidarity between the two great countries, China and the Soviet Union, is the bulwark of the defense of world peace."

Fulbright Denies President's Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., Thursday denied what he called President Eisenhower's campaign claim that there have been no Communist gains during his administration "in any area where American influence and arms were involved."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told a news conference the President was ignoring "recent developments in Cuba where, for many years, our arms and influence have been heavily involved" and also developments elsewhere.

Fulbright was taking exception to statements Eisenhower had made in a televised speech in New York Wednesday night in behalf of the Republican ticket of Richard M. Nixon for president and Henry Cabot Lodge for vice president.

Brooks Seeks Probe Of Loan To Don Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., said Thursday he has serious allegations the Civil Aeronautics Board was influenced in its decisions by the $205,000 loan made to Vice President Richard M. Nixon's brother by Hughes Tool Co.

Brooks said in a statement that he will submit the matter to his government activities subcommittee "for approval to conduct a thorough investigation at the earliest opportunity."

Hughes Tool Co. is controlled by industrialist Howard Hughes who also controls Trans World Airlines, which is under CAB jurisdiction.

Brooks did not say the source of the allegations that the CAB was influenced but said: "It has been reported that following this loan in December, 1956, TWA was granted a route from St. Louis to Miami, that TWA's Far Eastern route was extended to Manila, that TWA was given a passenger fare increase, and that the 12-year restriction imposed by the CAB on commercial transactions between the Hughes Tool Co. and TWA was lifted after the granting of this $205,000 loan."

The matter of the loan to the vice president's brother, Donald Nixon, has figured in the political news for the last week.

The first report of it was in a column by Drew Pearson.

Texas Oilman Shifts Support To Kennedy

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Multimillionaire oilman H. L. Hunt, who admitted distributing an anti-Catholic sermon in July, said Thursday he now is supporting the Kennedy-Johnson Democratic ticket.

"I am supporting Kennedy," Hunt declared. "I think that it's much to the best interest of Texas that the Democratic ticket carry Texas because it will leave Lyndon Johnson and Sam Rayburn—upon whose standing in Congress the welfare of Texas depends—in a very tough spot if they fail."

Asked, as an oilman, about his feelings on the various party statements concerning the oil depletion allowance, he replied: "I would feel safer about the depletion allowance with Rayburn and Johnson influential in Congress and the executive department than otherwise. I would not expect Kennedy to want to cut the depletion allowance."

Hagerstown Almanack Sees Rough Winter

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Old fashioned advice for modern M.D.s:

"Doctor, collect thy fee while the patient aileth, for then thou art a god; if he recovers, thou art a thief; if he dies, thou art a murderer."

This homely homily is just one of many "Timely Thoughts and Reflections" in the 164th edition of J. Gruber's Hagerstown Town and Country Almanack.

The 48-page booklet just off the press hasn't changed its format much since the days it was printed in German by John Gruber because most of the residents of this area spoke nothing else.

On the weather scene, the almanack predicts plenty of snow and cold this winter, a late spring and much rain throughout 1961.

Snow is predicted for at least six days in January, 13 days in February and six days in March. Until mid-April there'll be numerous hard frosts, it says.

Cloudy, blustery cold weather is predicted for the first three months of 1961, with only 22 days of fair weather.

School Bible Ruling Put Off

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Board of Education Thursday postponed action for two weeks on a request for repeal of a 55-year-old ruling which requires the reading of the Bible or the Lord's prayer before classes in city schools.

The board referred the regulation to its three-member rules committee for further study. The committee will report to the school board at its next meeting, Nov. 17.

Appearing before the board was Mrs. Madalyn Murray who claims the ruling is unconstitutional and in direct opposition to the United States policy of separation of church and State.

Fred E. Weisgal, an attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union also appeared on behalf of Mrs. Murray.

Maryland Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert ruled Wednesday that compulsory religious ceremonies were legal. But, he said, any student opposing the reading of the Bible or the Lord's prayer may be excused from the classroom.

Mrs. Murray temporarily withdrew her son, William, from school in protest against the regulation. He has since returned but has been excused from class during the Bible readings.

Mobile is the only seaport in Alabama.

Papers Urging Curb On Slots "Gobbled Up"

LA PLATA, Md. (AP) — All copies of two Charles County weekly newspapers, which urged voters to approve a referendum changing slot machine laws, were purchased from news dealers Thursday soon after they were delivered.

"It seems obvious to me that the slot machine interests have bought up the papers," said Thomas P. Headen, editor of the Charles County Leaf.

Headen said about 700 copies of his paper, and a smaller amount of The Times-Crescent, were purchased from big dealers in La Plata, Waldorf and Indian Head. Both papers were published Thursday.

Both papers, Headen said, carried editorials supporting a proposed law to limit the number of slot machines in any Charles County establishment to 35 and to raise license fees.

Headen said both papers also carried two pages of advertisements in support of the proposed law and two pages of advertisements urging that no changes be made.

Supporting the status quo were the Restaurant and Tavern Owners Association, and the Southern Maryland Novelty Company, the largest distributor of slot machines in Charles County. The ads supporting the changes were sponsored by the county Democratic party.

Headen said the Maryland Independent, which was published Tuesday and carried only the advertisements of the slot machine interests, was not disturbed on the news stands. The Independent is published by former State Sen. James B. Monroe, who was the author of the existing slot machine law in 1949.

Headen said most of the Leaf's 4,100 circulation is delivered by mail.

When the news stand copies were brought up, Headen sent out about 300 replacements. Some dealers, he said, turned down extra copies with the explanation they "didn't want to get mixed up in anything." Normally, he said, the dealers call for more copies when they sell out.

About 175 copies of the Leaf were purchased at one drug store, Headen said.

Earlier this week, the Charles County Grand Jury indicted nine persons on charges of perjury, conspiracy to operate slot machines and of selling liquor without proper licenses.

Largest lake wholly within the borders of New York state is Oneida Lake, in the Finger Lakes region.

2d Bar Group Opposes Judgeship Amendments

By The Associated Press

Another bar association group came out Thursday against proposals to let members of the Maryland Legislature fill new judgeships they helped to create.

The Executive Committee of the Bar Association of Baltimore City announced it had adopted a resolution opposing two proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on in Tuesday's election.

The amendments would add two new circuit judgeships for Prince Georges County and one each for Montgomery County, Kent County, and the Fourth Judicial Circuit, which includes Garrett, Allegany and Washington Counties.

The proposed amendments would also delete a general constitutional provision which prohibits a member of the legislature from filling a judgeship for which he has voted a salary increase or decrease, or for a new judgeship he has voted to create.

The Bar Association committee said its resolution did not oppose the addition of the judgeships to the four jurisdictions.

"However, we believe that the long standing prohibition in our State constitution barring legislators from such newly created positions created during their term of office should not now be changed by Questions Nos. 8 and 11 (the proposed amendments)," a committee statement said.

The city lawyer's group thus joined the Executive Committee of the Harford County Bar Association, which came out against the proposed amendments Wednesday.

The First District race between Republican Edward T. Miller and Democratic Rep. Thomas F. Johnson heated up with a charge by Miller that labor union officials had distributed a "slander sheet" unfairly attacking him.

And in the Second District, Republican candidate J. Fife Symington Jr. accused Rep. Daniel B. Brewster of trying to "hide from the truth behind a wall of silence." Symington expressed displeasure because Brewster has refused to reply to a series of attacks the Republicans has made on the record of the incumbent.

In Annapolis, the Maryland Association of County Commissioners went on record in favor of two proposed constitutional amendments designed to set up separate tax assessment classifications for farmland and non-farmland.

At Chestertown, Washington College students voted Thursday 190-130 in favor of Richard M. Nixon over John F. Kennedy for president.

Kennedy Wins Straw Vote In W.Va. Schools

RICHWOOD, W. Va. (AP) — Democrats, led by presidential nominee John F. Kennedy, won a straw vote taken among 36 high schools in West Virginia.

The straw vote was conducted by the West Virginia Hillbilly, a weekly newspaper published here, and WSAZ-TV, Huntington.

Kennedy polled 7,057 votes to 5,589 for Vice President Nixon, his Republican opponent.

LET'S PUT OUR PEOPLE BACK TO WORK

RE-ELECT JOHN R. FOLEY TO CONGRESS

As a person who has worked hard all his adult life, John Foley knows the problems of the family man and woman. He is keenly sensitive to the trouble that comes to families in an area where industry is changing.

In Congress he has consistently supported and worked for legislation to revitalize areas suffering from a lack of jobs.

He was one one of the authors of H. R. 4996, a companion measure to the bill passed by Congress but tragically vetoed by the Republican Administration. This bill would have made loans and grants available to communities like Cumberland and Hagerstown to launch programs that would have encouraged new industry, given assistance to hard-hit small business men and manufacturers, and provided for re-training workers in new skills.

And John Foley knows how closely the prosperity of the farmer is related to the prosperity of the small businessman and city worker. As the son of a country lawyer serving a farm community, he has seen these things at first hand.

He has fought hard and successfully to protect local milk-marketing agreements. He is a firm opponent of the Republican platform which would permit the dumping of milk products from the midwestern milksheds into our local markets.

A vote for John Foley is a vote to put people back to work and keep them at work. It is a vote for fair prices for our farmers. It is a vote to put America on the move again.

ON NOVEMBER 8
Vote For JOHN R. FOLEY For Congress
By authority of Foley for Congress Committee, Saul I. Stern, Treasurer

Brooks said in a statement that he will submit the matter to his government activities subcommittee "for approval to conduct a thorough investigation at the earliest opportunity."

Hughes Tool Co. is controlled by industrialist Howard Hughes who also controls Trans World Airlines, which is under CAB jurisdiction.

Brooks did not say the source of the allegations that the CAB was influenced but said: "It has been reported that following this loan in December, 1956, TWA was granted a route from St. Louis to Miami, that TWA's Far Eastern route was extended to Manila, that TWA was given a passenger fare increase, and that the 12-year restriction imposed by the CAB on commercial transactions between the Hughes Tool Co. and TWA was lifted after the granting of this $205,000 loan."

The matter of the loan to the vice president's brother, Donald Nixon, has figured in the political news for the last week.

The first report of it was in a column by Drew Pearson.

Texas Oilman Shifts Support To Kennedy

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Multimillionaire oilman H. L. Hunt, who admitted distributing an anti-Catholic sermon in July, said Thursday he now is supporting the Kennedy-Johnson Democratic ticket.

"I am supporting Kennedy," Hunt declared. "I think that it's much to the best interest of Texas that the Democratic ticket carry Texas because it will leave Lyndon Johnson and Sam Rayburn—upon whose standing in Congress the welfare of Texas depends—in a very tough spot if they fail."

Asked, as an oilman, about his feelings on the various party statements concerning the oil depletion allowance, he replied: "I would feel safer about the depletion allowance with Rayburn and Johnson influential in Congress and the executive department than otherwise. I would not expect Kennedy to want to cut the depletion allowance."

Hagerstown Almanack Sees Rough Winter

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Old fashioned advice for modern M.D.s:

"Doctor, collect thy fee while the patient aileth, for then thou art a god; if he recovers, thou art a thief; if he dies, thou art a murderer."

This homely homily is just one of many "Timely Thoughts and Reflections" in the 164th edition of J. Gruber's Hagerstown Town and Country Almanack.

The 48-page booklet just off the press hasn't changed its format much since the days it was printed in German by John Gruber because most of the residents of this area spoke nothing else.

On the weather scene, the almanack predicts plenty of snow and cold this winter, a late spring and much rain throughout 1961.

Snow is predicted for at least six days in January, 13 days in February and six days in March. Until mid-April there'll be numerous hard frosts, it says.

Cloudy, blustery cold weather is predicted for the first three months of 1961, with only 22 days of fair weather.

School Bible Ruling Put Off

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Board of Education Thursday postponed action for two weeks on a request for repeal of a 55-year-old ruling which requires the reading of the Bible or the Lord's prayer before classes in city schools.

The board referred the regulation to its three-member rules committee for further study. The committee will report to the school board at its next meeting, Nov. 17.

Appearing before the board was Mrs. Madalyn Murray who claims the ruling is unconstitutional and in direct opposition to the United States policy of separation of church and State.

Fred E. Weisgal, an attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union also appeared on behalf of Mrs. Murray.

Maryland Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert ruled Wednesday that compulsory religious ceremonies were legal. But, he said, any student opposing the reading of the Bible or the Lord's prayer may be excused from the classroom.

Mrs. Murray temporarily withdrew her son, William, from school in protest against the regulation. He has since returned but has been excused from class during the Bible readings.

Papers Urging Curb On Slots "Gobbled Up"

LA PLATA, Md. (AP) — All copies of two Charles County weekly newspapers, which urged voters to approve a referendum changing slot machine laws, were purchased from news dealers Thursday soon after they were delivered.

"It seems obvious to me that the slot machine interests have bought up the papers," said Thomas P. Headen, editor of the Charles County Leaf.

Headen said about 700 copies of his paper, and a smaller amount of The Times-Crescent, were purchased from big dealers in La Plata, Waldorf and Indian Head. Both papers were published Thursday.

Both papers, Headen said, carried editorials supporting a proposed law to limit the number of slot machines in any Charles County establishment to 35 and to raise license fees.

Headen said both papers also carried two pages of advertisements in support of the proposed law and two pages of advertisements urging that no changes be made.

Supporting the status quo were the Restaurant and Tavern Owners Association, and the Southern Maryland Novelty Company, the largest distributor of slot machines in Charles County. The ads supporting the changes were sponsored by the county Democratic party.

Headen said the Maryland Independent, which was published Tuesday and carried only the advertisements of the slot machine interests, was not disturbed on the news stands. The Independent is published by former State Sen. James B. Monroe, who was the author of the existing slot machine law in 1949.

Headen said most of the Leaf's 4,100 circulation is delivered by mail.

When the news stand copies were brought up, Headen sent out about 300 replacements. Some dealers, he said, turned down extra copies with the explanation they "didn't want to get mixed up in anything." Normally, he said, the dealers call for more copies when they sell out.

About 175 copies of the Leaf were purchased at one drug store, Headen said.

Earlier this week, the Charles County Grand Jury indicted nine persons on charges of perjury, conspiracy to operate slot machines and of selling liquor without proper licenses.

2d Bar Group Opposes Judgeship Amendments

By The Associated Press

Another bar association group came out Thursday against proposals to let members of the Maryland Legislature fill new judgeships they helped to create.

The Executive Committee of the Bar Association of Baltimore City announced it had adopted a resolution opposing two proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on in Tuesday's election.

The amendments would add two new circuit judgeships for Prince Georges County and one each for Montgomery County, Kent County, and the Fourth Judicial Circuit, which includes Garrett, Allegany and Washington Counties.

The proposed amendments would also delete a general constitutional provision which prohibits a member of the legislature from filling a judgeship for which he has voted a salary increase or decrease, or for a new judgeship he has voted to create.

The Bar Association committee said its resolution did not oppose the addition of the judgeships to the four jurisdictions.

"However, we believe that the long standing prohibition in our State constitution barring legislators from such newly created positions created during their term of office should not now be changed by Questions Nos. 8 and 11 (the proposed amendments)," a committee statement said.

The city lawyer's group thus joined the Executive Committee of the Harford County Bar Association, which came out against the proposed amendments Wednesday.

The First District race between Republican Edward T. Miller and Democratic Rep. Thomas F. Johnson heated up with a charge by Miller that labor union officials had distributed a "slander sheet" unfairly attacking him.

And in the Second District, Republican candidate J. Fife Symington Jr. accused Rep. Daniel B. Brewster of trying to "hide from the truth behind a wall of silence." Symington expressed displeasure because Brewster has refused to reply to a series of attacks the Republicans has made on the record of the incumbent.

In Annapolis, the Maryland Association of County Commissioners went on record in favor of two proposed constitutional amendments designed to set up separate tax assessment classifications for farmland and non-farmland.

At Chestertown, Washington College students voted Thursday 190-130 in favor of Richard M. Nixon over John F. Kennedy for president.

Kennedy Wins Straw Vote In W.Va. Schools

RICHWOOD, W. Va. (AP) — Democrats, led by presidential nominee John F. Kennedy, won a straw vote taken among 36 high schools in West Virginia.

The straw vote was conducted by the West Virginia Hillbilly, a weekly newspaper published here, and WSAZ-TV, Huntington.

Kennedy polled 7,057 votes to 5,589 for Vice President Nixon, his Republican opponent.

LET'S PUT OUR PEOPLE BACK TO WORK

RE-ELECT JOHN R. FOLEY TO CONGRESS

As a person who has worked hard all his adult life, John Foley knows the problems of the family man and woman. He is keenly sensitive to the trouble that comes to families in an area where industry is changing.

In Congress he has consistently supported and worked for legislation to revitalize areas suffering from a lack of jobs.

He was one one of the authors of H. R. 4996, a companion measure to the bill passed by Congress but tragically vetoed by the Republican Administration. This bill would have made loans and grants available to communities like Cumberland and Hagerstown to launch programs that would have encouraged new industry, given assistance to hard-hit small business men and manufacturers, and provided for re-training workers in new skills.

And John Foley knows how closely the prosperity of the farmer is related to the prosperity of the small businessman and city worker. As the son of a country lawyer serving a farm community, he has seen these things at first hand.

He has fought hard and successfully to protect local milk-marketing agreements. He is a firm opponent of the Republican platform which would permit the dumping of milk products from the midwestern milksheds into our local markets.

A vote for John Foley is a vote to put people back to work and keep them at work. It is a vote for fair prices for our farmers. It is a vote to put America on the move again.

ON NOVEMBER 8
Vote For JOHN R. FOLEY For Congress
By authority of Foley for Congress Committee, Saul I. Stern, Treasurer

Dream Of Owning Big Boat Comes True

By LEO SOROKA

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Tom Meanley, a lover of water sports, has moved from a lowly canoe to owner of the Memphis Queen, a 256-passenger Mississippi River excusion boat.

Ever since Meanley moved south from the West Coast, he has had his heart set on a big boat. But he didn't have the money then.

What makes it so unusual that the 43-year-old Meanley now is sole owner of such a big boat is the fact that he is a newspaper reporter. Just how did Meanley come around to raise nearly $90,000 to buy the Memphis Queen?

Meanley tells it in simple words:

"I tried to get rich farming. I lost money money farming, but every time I'd sell out, I'd make money on the land because I never bought anything but cheap land."

Meanley is the grandson of E. W. Scripps, the founder of Scripps-Howard newspapers. He worked as a copy boy on the San Diego Sun in 1937, and later joined the editorial staff of the El Paso Herald-Post, moving to the Memphis Press-Scimitar here in 1940.

Editor Edward J. Meeman assigned Meanley to the farming beat, and he became so absorbed in his work that he bought land to do his own farming while not writing news stories.

Meanley spent his early years on a cattle ranch in the San Diego River Valley, which then flooded frequently, he said. Thus, he had his first taste of water sports.

When he came here, Meanley bought a canoe to explore all the little streams around Memphis.

Writing water sport stories, he campaigned for a boat ramp for small boaters in the city's new industrial harbor, and the ramp was built.

"So I had to buy a bigger boat, an outboard motor boat," he said, "to take advantage of all the work I put into getting that boat ramp built."

Then, Meanley's river exploring got ambitious. He and his wife, Carol, made a 500-mile trip down the Tennessee, Ohio and Mississippi Rivers. The next year the Meanleys negotiated a 1,400 mile trip from Memphis to Clearwater, Fla.

"The boat was not very comfortable," Meanley said, "so early this year we bought a bigger outboard boat—and tried to do the Bahamas."

Meanley's navigation wasn't good. He missed his first island by 12 miles and had to radio the Coast Guard for directions.

"My wife, who got seasick while I was trying to find land, said I'd better stick to the Mississippi River where I am never out of sight of land," he said.

"I thought that was a pretty good idea."

In covering water sports, Meanley became friends with Capt. Ed Langford of the Memphis Queen, which has a dummy paddlewheel that looks like the real thing.

It was on Labor Day that Meanley dropped in on Langford at his boat on the Mississippi. As usual, Meanley says Langford was full of news, "but he was looking pretty bad."

"This is strictly off the record," the captain told Meanley. "I'll tell you if you'll promise to keep it to yourself. I'm going to the hospital for an operation. The doctor says if I come through all right, I'll still have to take it easy for a long time. I'm going to sell the Memphis Queen."

Boat is Tourist Attraction

Meanley's first thought was to try to find some Memphis interests who would buy the boat and keep it going because the boat was too valuable to the city touristwise to lose.

Meanley returned to the waterfront that same afternoon and went with Langford on the skipper's last cruise on the Queen.

"Tell me as a friend, Skipper," Meanley said. "If I bought the boat myself, would I come out all right?"

"You'd have more money than you ever earned before in your life," Langford said. "And I'd rather you had the Queen than anybody else."

It took Meanley 30 days to get the necessary cash to buy the boat, and in early October, Meanley wrote the story for his newspaper that he was now the owner of the Memphis Queen.

Meanley's project right now, is to learn how to pilot the big boat and get his license.

A-Test Resumption Urged

NEW YORK (UPI)—Thomas E. Murray, former member of the Atomic Energy Commission, Thursday urged the next president to resume nuclear tests while pressing negotiations with Russia for arms control.

Murray warned that it must be presumed that Russia is developing nuclear technology along a revolutionary line and may achieve a new weapon against which the United States would have no effective defense or retaliation.

He urged, therefore, that the United States end the nuclear tests moratorium it set two years ago.

Murray made his statements in an open letter to presidential candidates Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy, who had replied to a previous open letter Murray had written them on Sept. 6.

He told the candidates he did not think they had come to grips with the basic issue in the matter of nuclear tests, or "given public evidence of a full understanding of the essential danger created by our current test moratorium and by the arms control policies that surround and support it."

"At the root of the whole matter is the obvious fact that nuclear technology is open to incessant and rapid change," he said.

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Swedish Princesses Birgitta and Desiree will meet U.N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjold during their visit to the United States, the palace announced.

The princesses arrive at New York International Airport Monday.

Bets On Elections Illegal In Nevada, But-

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—It may surprise more than a few people in this state where gambling is legal to learn that it's against the law to bet on election races.

It may be an even bigger surprise to bookmakers in Las Vegas and Reno who are not only taking bets on the presidential race but are publicizing it.

But it's illegal—and has been illegal since 1929.

The law provides: "Every person who makes, offers or accepts any bet or wager upon the result of any election, or upon the success or failure of any person or candidate, or upon the number of votes cast, either in the aggregate or for any particular candidate, or upon the vote to be cast by any person, is guilty of a misdemeanor."

If it's against the law why is it so popular?

Atty. Gen. Roger Foley said: "This office can't take official cognizance if there's any misdemeanor. That's a matter for the district attorneys and local law enforcement agencies or the State Gaming Control Board."

Fight Bubonic Plague

KAMAPAL, Uganda (PUI)—The Uganda government has sent insecticides and spray equipment to the west Nile district to prevent bubonic plague from spreading there from the Congo.

A government spokesman said the plague has not been identified definitely in Uganda yet but there are strong indications it has reached border villages.

Foley added, however, there is no doubt that any violation of the apparently forgotten law constitutes a crime.

Informed of the law, Las Vegas bookmakers wiped odds on the presidential race off their boards. They said they'd check with local authorities.

The latest odds had quoted Sen. John F. Kennedy 8-5 to defeat Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

In covering water sports, Meanley became friends with Capt. Ed Langford of the Memphis Queen, which has a dummy paddlewheel that looks like the real thing.

It was on Labor Day that Meanley dropped in on Langford at his boat on the Mississippi. As usual, Meanley says Langford was full of news, "but he was looking pretty bad."

"This is strictly off the record," the captain told Meanley. "I'll tell you if you'll promise to keep it to yourself. I'm going to the hospital for an operation. The doctor says if I come through all right, I'll still have to take it easy for a long time. I'm going to sell the Memphis Queen."

Boat is Tourist Attraction

Meanley's first thought was to try to find some Memphis interests who would buy the boat and keep it going because the boat was too valuable to the city touristwise to lose.

Meanley returned to the waterfront that same afternoon and went with Langford on the skipper's last cruise on the Queen.

"Tell me as a friend, Skipper," Meanley said. "If I bought the boat myself, would I come out all right?"

"You'd have more money than you ever earned before in your life," Langford said. "And I'd rather you had the Queen than anybody else."

It took Meanley 30 days to get the necessary cash to buy the boat, and in early October Meanley wrote the story for his newspaper that he was now the owner of the Memphis Queen.

Meanley's project right now, is to learn how to pilot the big boat and get his license.

A-Test Resumption Urged

NEW YORK (UPI)—Thomas E. Murray, former member of the Atomic Energy Commission, Thursday urged the next president to resume nuclear tests while pressing negotiations with Russia for arms control.

Murray warned that it must be presumed that Russia is developing nuclear technology along a revolutionary line and may achieve a new weapon against which the United States would have no effective defense or retaliation.

He urged, therefore, that the United States end the nuclear tests moratorium it set two years ago.

Murray made his statements in an open letter to presidential candidates Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy, who had replied to a previous open letter Murray had written them on Sept. 6.

He told the candidates he did not think they had come to grips with the basic issue in the matter of nuclear tests, or "given public evidence of a full understanding of the essential danger created by our current test moratorium and by the arms control policies that surround and support it."

"At the root of the whole matter is the obvious fact that nuclear technology is open to incessant and rapid change," he said.

Bets On Elections Illegal In Nevada, But-

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—It may surprise more than a few people in this state where gambling is legal to learn that it's against the law to bet on election races.

It may be an even bigger surprise to bookmakers in Las Vegas and Reno who are not only taking bets on the presidential race but are publicizing it.

But it's illegal—and has been illegal since 1929.

The law provides: "Every person who makes, offers or accepts any bet or wager upon the result of any election, or upon the success or failure of any person or candidate, or upon the number of votes cast, either in the aggregate or for any particular candidate, or upon the vote to be cast by any person, is guilty of a misdemeanor."

If it's against the law why is it so popular?

Atty. Gen. Roger Foley said: "This office can't take official cognizance if there's any misdemeanor. That's a matter for the district attorneys and local law enforcement agencies or the State Gaming Control Board."

Fight Bubonic Plague

KAMAPAL, Uganda (PUI)—The Uganda government has sent insecticides and spray equipment to the west Nile district to prevent bubonic plague from spreading there from the Congo.

A government spokesman said the plague has not been identified definitely in Uganda yet but there are strong indications it has reached border villages.

Foley added, however, there is no doubt that any violation of the apparently forgotten law constitutes a crime.

Informed of the law, Las Vegas bookmakers wiped odds on the presidential race off their boards. They said they'd check with local authorities.

The latest odds had quoted Sen. John F. Kennedy 8-5 to defeat Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Volcanic eruptions and earthquakes have fed superstitions and folklore through the ages. The ancient Indians of Peru believed such upheavals meant their creator had returned to see how people were behaving.

'Spy Missions' By Cuba Planes Are Reported

NEW YORK (UPI) — Informed diplomatic sources said Wednesday that Cuban aircraft are flying daily "spy missions" over Central American nations and neighboring Caribbean Islands.

They said the flights originate from Havana and are being carried out over Guatemala, El Salvador, Nicaragua and the Swan Islands, off Honduras.

Aircraft being used for the spy missions were identified as four-motored Super Constellations of the Cubana airlines and twin-engined C46 Curtiss Commandos of the Cuba Aeropostal Company.

The sources said the commercial aircraft have been stripped of passenger-carrying luxuries and loaded down with special photographic equipment including telescopic-lens-equipped cameras.

The spy flights started six days ago and have been carried out daily since, the sources said.

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Has the stock market reached the bottom of its recent decline?

There's much discussion but little agreement about this on Wall Street.

Walter K. Gutman of Stearns & Co. is one who thinks the market has given rather clear signs that it has made a bottom.

"The four-million-share day when we had the gold scare represented a fair amount of cleanout, and the market has gotten used to the idea of a Kennedy victory," he says.

"If it felt that a Kennedy victory was going to induce heavy selling by large accounts, it would go down before election. Since it is going up, I have to assume it is no longer scared of Kennedy."

Goodbody & Co. considers that the market is giving a good performance and may test the highs made in mid-October. However, the firm doesn't think it likely that an extended rally can get going at this time.

"There is still a good deal of tax selling probable in the issues which have had a substantial decline, and the market may show cross currents," says Goodbody. "There is yet no clear indication that the market has made a real bottom."

Despite gains this week, Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. fails to find technical evidence of a shift to a long term upward course.

He says that while many groups and individual issues have given signs of bottoming out, he believes prices will stay in the 565-600 range of the Dow Jones industrial average with additional tests at the top and bottom levels.

Mueller Says Economy Good

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Frederick Mueller said Wednesday there are soft spots in steel and housing, but "the American economy, as a whole, is good."

He spoke at a news conference which the Los Angeles County Republican Central Committee said was called to reply to Democratic campaign charges that the nation's economic production is off.

"It's true that production is in a decline, but there is too much emphasis on production," Mueller said. "Some 55 per cent of our people are employed in services.

"We are not in a recession. We are undergoing what is an inventory readjustment. Personal income is at an all-time high. Auto sales for October were the highest in history.

"There are soft spots in steel and housing, but other phases of the economic picture are sound."

The secretary said he did not know whether the recent price increase on the world gold market had run its course.

Infant Death Rate Declines But Still Reflects 1957-58 Setback

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government reported Wednesday that the infant death rate has declined since 1958, but still shows the effects of a 1957-58 setback.

The Federal Children's Bureau reported a steady decline in infant deaths during the 1950's was interrupted by increases in 1957 and 1958. The death rate has headed downward again since then it said, but still hasn't made up the lost ground.

Mrs. Catherine B. Oettinger, chief of the Children's Bureau said the 1957-58 development calls for redoubled efforts "to assure that infant mortality in the United States is brought to and held at the lowest possible point."

She warned that improved rates since 1958 are still above levels which could have been expected if general downward trends between 1950 and 1957 had continued."

The Children's Bureau analysis and Mrs. Oettinger's statement were based on data in a newly published United Nations document which showed an overall reduction of the U.S. infant mortality rate of nearly 8 per cent between 1950 and 1958. Following an all-time low of 26 first year deaths per 1,000 live births in 1956, the report said, the number of such deaths increased to 26.3 in 1957 and 27.1 in 1958.

Nine nations had better records than the United States 1958. They were Sweden, with a rate of 15.8; The Netherlands, 17.2; Australia, 20.5; Norway, 20.5; Switzerland, 22.2; United Kingdom, 23.3; Denmark, 23.4; New Zealand, 23.4 and Findland, 24.5.

The Soviet Union reported a rate of 40.6 infant deaths per 1,000 live births in 1957, the latest year for which data from that country was reported.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—What kind of foods can a person with ulcers eat?

Does vitamin A have to be taken with vitamin D or can it be taken alone?

Through a unique Dial-A-Dietician program, homemakers in Detroit get speedy answers to such questions.

The D-A-D program, which believes it is unique in the nation, does more than supply inquiring homemakers with correct information. It also helps fight nutrition nonsense and food quackery.

Many persons calling the dietetic number ask about the caloric value of foods. Another frequently repeated question concerns information about cholesterol and fat.

A report, published in the current Journal of the American Dietetic Association, showed that other popular questions center about the following:

—Sodium and salt, diet questions on diabetes, on ulcers, and heart disease.

—Minerals in foods, losses in food preparation, vitamins in foods, carbohydrate content of foods.

The report was written by Muriel G. Wagner, of the Merrill-Palmer Institute; E. Patricia Navin, of the Grace Hospital and Marqueta C. Huyck, of the Department of Home Economics at Wayne State University.

The way the program's set up, the inquiring homemaker gets a telephone answering service operator when she calls.

The operator records the question and takes the homemaker's phone number and name. This information then is relayed to the dieticians.

As soon as possible, a dietician calls the homemaker and answers the question.

Some of the callers are referred to their doctors because their questions about diet indicated they had medical problems.

In a check of callers who had received information through the dial-a-dietician service, the Detroit Dietetic Association received all the encouragement it needed to continue the experimental program.

Freedom Too Much For Man Jailed 63 Years

LOGANSPORT, Ind. (UPI)—After 63 years in prisons and mental institutions, five months of freedom was all Henry Sullivan could stand.

Sullivan, 85, returned to Logansport State Hospital Wednesday, probably for the rest of his days.

He thus made good the prediction of hospital administrator Ernest Fogel when Sullivan won his freedom last June 1.

"He'll be back," Fogel said. He said Sullivan, who went to prison in 1897 on a petty burglary charge would find that freedom was too much for him.

Sullivan had literally talked his way to freedom. He pointed that he had been shifted from one mental institution to another after his imprisonment but had never been formallycommitted as a mental case. He demanded that he be sent to prison again or be set free. A judge ordered him freed.

Sullivan emerged into a world he had never known. He got a room in a Logansport boarding house and tried to live like a freeman. But he was old and his health was poor.

Last month he had to go to a city hospital for a week for treatment of a kidney ailment. Wednesday, social workers and hospital aides transferred the feeble old man from his boarding house to his old home at the state hospital.

It was unlikely that he would ever leave the hospital again except for brief visits to the world outdoors.

24-Year-Old White Lie Kills Guiltless Man

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) —Sylvester Richter, 48, had a habit that annoyed his wife — he talked about his old girl friends.

Twenty-four years ago his wife, Marie, now 42, thought she'd do something about it. She told her husband she had an affair.

She named her "lover" as Charles Kalish, a nearby farmer.

Later, with remorse, Mrs. Richter told her husband she had made up the story.

But Richter didn't believe her. The thought became an obsession with him. No amount of words on his wife's part could convince him the story was a lie.

Richter brought it up often—especially when he had had a few drinks.

Three day ago Mr. and Mrs. Richter went to the Kalish farm to settle the thing once and for all.

Richter had been drinking. He took a rifle with him.

Kalish wasn't home. Mr. and Mrs. Richter waited for him. When he arrived, Richter shot him. Both fled the Kalish farm.

Shortly before he died, Kalish named Richter as his slayer. After extensive police questioning Richter admitted the shooting.

Wednesday, Richter was charged with first degree murder. His wife was also charged with first degree murder.

Of the story she told 24 years ago, Mrs. Richter tearfully insisted: "I didn't do anything."

Said Richter of the shooting: "I just wanted to scare him not kill him."

Find New "Evidence"

LONDON (UPI)—Radio Moscow said Sunday new evidence has been found in Soviet archives which prove that Britain and the United States tried to "strangle" the Russian revolution in 1918.

The broadcast monitored here said the documents show some 50,000 British and American troops "invaded" northern Russia and the Far East to "strangle our revolution in the cradle."

Space Shot Switch Termed Political

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Victor L. Anfuso, D-N.Y., accused the administration Wednesday of playing politics with space by advancing a satellite shot scheduled for Nov. 15 to the eve of the presidential election.

Anfuso, a member of the House Space Committee, said the shift in the launching date to Nov. 7 was "politically inspired."

"There is no need for election eve stunts to impress the American voter," he said in a statement.

A spokesman for the national aeronautics and space administration denied that politics was involved in its decision to launch an instrument carrying Mercury capsule atop a Redstone rocket next Monday, instead of the Nov. 15 date originally planned.

Science At Work

By The Associated Press

An aging satellite, a typewriter that listens, a rocket that hit the moon: These are topics this week of Science at Work.

Growing Older

The huge balloon satellite — Echo I—born in space Aug. 12, is growing older, getting wrinkles on its aluminum-coated skin.

The wrinkles make the mirror-like balloon a much poorer reflector of radio signals, the job it was sent into space to do.

The wrinkles are caused by loss of gas pressure inside the balloon, the extreme temperature changes as it moves in and out of the earth's shadow, and the effects of air drag some 720 miles high. At present Echo is visible in the United States only during the early morning hours.

Take A Letter

A new experimental typewriter that listens to its Japanese masters and writes down what they say was demonstrated recently to world acoustical experts. Built at Japan's Kyoto University, it cost $30,000 and can convert spoken Japanese into written Japanese if pronunciation is clear.

Moon Landing

Earth scientists may have actually seen and photographed the Soviet moon rocket that smashed into the face of the moon.

Hungarian astronomers report seeing a sharp black dot the size of a pencil point on the moon on Sept. 13, 1959—just when the Soviet rocket was to hit. The dot became progressively lighter and bigger, looking finally like a smudge from a pencil-tip erase.

Swedish astronomers at the same moment photographed a black dot in the same lunar location. Another photo two minutes later showed only traces of the dot.

Two and one-half times as many Americans died of cancer during World War II as were killed in action in the armed forces.

"He'll be back," Fogel said. He said Sullivan, who went to prison in 1897 on a petty burglary charge would find that freedom was too much for him.

Sullivan had literally talked his way to freedom. He pointed that he had been shifted from one mental institution to another after his imprisonment but had never been formallycommitted as a mental case. He demanded that he be sent to prison again or be set free. A judge ordered him freed.

Sullivan emerged into a world he had never known. He got a room in a Logansport boarding house and tried to live like a freeman. But he was old and his health was poor.

Last month he had to go to a city hospital for a week for treatment of a kidney ailment. Wednesday, social workers and hospital aides transferred the feeble old man from his boarding house to his old home at the state hospital.

24-Year-Old White Lie Kills Guiltless Man

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) —Sylvester Richter, 48, had a habit that annoyed his wife — he talked about his old girl friends.

Twenty-four years ago his wife, Marie, now 42, thought she'd do something about it. She told her husband she had an affair.

She named her "lover" as Charles Kalish, a nearby farmer.

Later, with remorse, Mrs. Richter told her husband shehad made up the story.

But Richter didn't believe her. The thought became an obsession with him. No amount of words on his wife's part could convince him the story was a lie.

Richter brought it up often—especially when he had had a few drinks.

Three day ago Mr. and Mrs. Richter went to the Kalish farm to settle the thing once and for all.

Richter had been drinking. He took a rifle with him.

Kalish wasn't home. Mr. and Mrs. Richter waited for him. When he arrived, Richter shot him. Both fled the Kalish farm.

Shortly before he died, Kalish named Richter as his slayer. After extensive police questioning Richter admitted the shooting.

Wednesday, Richter was charged with first degree murder. His wife was also charged with first degree murder.

Of the story she told 24 years ago, Mrs. Richter tearfully insisted: "I didn't do anything."

Said Richter of the shooting: "I just wanted to scare him not kill him."

Find New "Evidence"

LONDON (UPI)—Radio Moscow said Sunday new evidence has been found in Soviet archives which prove that Britain and the United States tried to "strangle" the Russian revolution in 1918.

The broadcast monitored here said the documents show some 50,000 British and American troops "invaded" northern Russia and the Far East to "strangle our revolution in the cradle."

Space Shot Switch Termed Political

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Victor L. Anfuso, D-N.Y., accused the administration Wednesday of playing politics with space by advancing a satellite shot scheduled for Nov. 15 to the eve of the presidential election.

Anfuso, a member of the House Space Committee, said the shift in the launching date to Nov. 7 was "politically inspired."

"There is no need for election eve stunts to impress the American voter," he said in a statement.

A spokesman for the national aeronautics and space administration denied that politics was involved in its decision to launch an instrument carrying Mercury capsule atop a Redstone rocket next Monday, instead of the Nov. 15 date originally planned.

Science At Work

By The Associated Press

An aging satellite, a typewriter that listens, a rocket that hit the moon: These are topics this week of Science at Work.

Growing Older

The huge balloon satellite — Echo I—born in space Aug. 12, is growing older, getting wrinkles on its aluminum-coated skin.

The wrinkles make the mirror-like balloon a much poorer reflector of radio signals, the job it was sent into space to do.

The wrinkles are caused by loss of gas pressure inside the balloon, the extreme temperature changes as it moves in and out of the earth's shadow, and the effects of air drag some 720 miles high. At present Echo is visible in the United States only during the early morning hours.

Take A Letter

A new experimental typewriter that listens to its Japanese masters and writes down what they say was demonstrated recently to world acoustical experts. Built at Japan's Kyoto University, it cost $30,000 and can convert spoken Japanese into written Japanese if pronunciation is clear.

Moon Landing

Earth scientists may have actually seen and photographed the Soviet moon rocket that smashed into the face of the moon.

Hungarian astronomers report seeing a sharp black dot the size of a pencil point on the moon on Sept. 13, 1959—just when the Soviet rocket was to hit. The dot became progressively lighter and bigger, looking finally like a smudge from a pencil-tip erase.

Swedish astronomers at the same moment photographed a black dot in the same lunar location. Another photo two minutes later showed only traces of the dot.

Two and one-half times as many Americans died of cancer during World War II as were killed in action in the armed forces.

Foley, Mathias Favor Reapportionment Plan

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two of Maryland's seven incumbent Democratic congressmen have given unqualified endorsement to a proposed amendment to the U.S. Constitution requiring representation in State legislatures according to population.

Three of the seven Republican congressional candidates also have endorsed the proposal without reservation.

The views of seven of the 14 congressional nominees were made public in a poll by the Maryland Committee for Fair Representation, an organization supporting reapportionment in the Maryland General Assembly.

The committee said the other seven candidates did not answer the questionnaire. The candidates were asked whether they supported a federal constitutional reapportionment bill sponsored by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

Candidates who said they favored the bill were Democrats Reps. Edward Garmatz of the Third District and John Foley of the Sixth District and three Republican candidates — Charles McC. Mathias Jr. in the Sixth District; Carlyle J. Lancaster in the Fifth, and Robert J. Gerstung in the Third.

Rep. Richard E. Lankford, Fifth District Democrat, said he would support the bill "as a last resort."

Rep. Daniel B. Brewster, Second District Democrat, expressed doubt about the wisdom of federal action but said it should be considered if local action fails.

No replies were received from Democratic Reps. George H. Fallon of the Fourth District, Thomas F. Johnson of the First or Samuel N. Friedel of the Seventh, or their respective Republican opponents Melvin J. Kenney, Edward T. Miller and David M. Blum.

Nor was there any answer from Brewster's Republican opponent in the Second District, J. Fife Symington.

Maryland Briefs

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has announced its annual stockholders' meeting will be held here Nov. 21.

BALTIMORE (AP) — A record $5,063,911 was raised by the Community Chest-Red Cross United Appeal for 1960, campaign officials reported. However, the amount fell 7½ per cent under the goal of $5,409,557.

CHESTERTOWN, Md. (AP) — A distinguished service citation has been awarded by the National Agricultural Agents to Stanley B. Sutton, assistant Kent County agricultural agent here. The award to Sutton, active in 4-H Club work in Kent County since 1931, was presented at the organization national convention at Miami, Fla.

BALTIMORE (AP) — An 18-year prison sentence has been imposed on Lester G. Newcomb Jr., 20, of Baltimore, convicted of second degree murder in the fatal shooting of his step-father last February. Newcomb accused the victim, Howard S. Smith, 38, of using indecent language.

SALISBURY (AP) — Paul H. Blaisdell, an official of the Insurance Information Institute, Thursday endorsed driver training programs in high schools. He urged the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs to oppose any effort to eliminate such programs from secondary school curricula.

Review Of Milk Order Pledged

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — A high-level review of a controversial milk marketing order opposed by Eastern Shore dairymen has been promised by Clarence Miller, assistant secretary of agriculture, Chamber of Commerce spokesmen reported here.

Representatives of the Cambridge-Dorchester chamber, back from a meeting with Miller at Washington, said Thursday the study would precede any new public hearing on the order.

Chamber spokesmen said Miller advised he would confer with Cambridge officials after the review had been completed, and a hearing would be set if necessary at that time.

A three-man delegation from the chamber Wednesday presented Miller with a petition asking for an early public hearing on the matter. The petition questioned why the department felt it necessary to include Eastern Shore dairy operations in with regulations governing the Baltimore metropolitan zone.

Pair Sentenced For Perjury

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — Two Baltimore men were sentenced to 18 months each in the House of Correction Thursday on perjury charges stemming from the Stephanos Glaros robbery trial.

The sentences were imposed by Chief Judge W. Laird Henry Jr. in Dorchester County Circuit Court after James P. Davis, 38, and Jesse W. Keller, 34, both of Baltimore, pleaded guilty to the charges.

The two men were indicted by the county grand jury last week.

Davis, Keller and Paul Samuel Dickens, 27, also of Baltimore, testified in behalf of Glaros at Glaros' trial here in October, 1959. Dickens pleaded guilty to perjury last June 16 and was sentenced to 18 months in the House of Correction.

At Glaros' trial, the three men testified they had played cards with Glaros the night of Nov. 7-8, 1958 at Keller's Baltimore home.

That was the night of the $155,000 safe robbery in a general store owned by George O. Powley at Wingate, Md., about 20 miles south of Cambridge.

Glaros was sentenced to 15 years in the Maryland Penitentiary for the robbery. The money has never been recovered.

PTA Told Maryland Needs Better Qualified Teachers

BALTIMORE (AP)—The superintendent of Baltimore City schools Thursday urged improved educational quality in Maryland through recruitment of more well-trained and better qualified teachers who are able to interpret their subject.

Dr. George Brain told delegates attending the opening session of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers that today's children are learning much superfically—but little in depth.

Dr. Brain placed the burden of improved quality on local PTA units, and noted that a necessary corollary of good teaching requires "that higher salaries are essential."

About 600 delegates attended the first general session of the two-day conference to hear Dr. Brain's keynote address.

At a Thursday night meeting, the delegates were to discuss and vote on their legislative program, including the controversial Warfield Commission report which proposes that three State teachers colleges be made branches of the University of Maryland.

Dr. Brain urged the delegates to carry the fight for the organization's priority legislation, including increased support for junior colleges and libraries, the liberal character of the teachers colleges and a minimum salary scale of from $4,000 to $6,000.

As for his program to improve the quality of education, Dr. Brain said there must be an increasing recognition on the part of the public to support and develop higher education, with the PTA "in the vanguard of community forces" offering the support.

"Mind power is replacing manpower," he said. "Man's destiny depends more and more on education."

Paper Ups Prices

BALTIMORE (AP)—The street sale price of the Baltimore News-Post will be increased to 7 cents, effective Monday.

Continuing increases in all costs affecting newspaper operations made the increase necessary, the paper said Thursday. A street sale price of 5 cents has been in effect since June 3, 1946.

The cost of home delivery will be increased 5 cents a week to a new rate of 35 cents weekly.

Baltimore Transit Plan Is Endorsed

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Legislative Council will receive a favorable report next Wednesday on a bill to create a Metropolitan Transit Authority in the Baltimore area.

However, there remained considerable doubt that Anne Arundel County would join Baltimore City and Baltimore County in the plan. Sen. Louis N. Phipps of Annapolis has voiced strong objections to the proposal.

Testifying before the council's Judiciary Committee Wednesday night, Phipps described the transit plan as an attempt to bail Baltimore City out of its economic problems.

Despite Phipps' objections, the council endorsed the bill with Anne Arundel County delegates, Ridgely P. Melvin and Charles R. Brockmyer, asked the committee to keep the county in the plan.

At Elkins there were 26 men laid off. Affected are employes in the Diesel house and car yard. Harry Howell, general foreman at Elkins, said a "slowdown in business" caused the cutback.

You are not likely to see more than 2,000 stars on the clearest night.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Take Care Of Your Beauty Tools

If your beauty efforts are to pay off, the tools you use over and over again must be just as well cared for as you like yourself to be. This means that all your grooming aids should be kept clean at all times and repaired or replaced when necessary. If they are neglected, the marks of neglect will show up on you.

First of all, be sure your hands are clean and your fingernails clean and filed smooth before you ever touch your face or your scalp. Hands are great carriers of grime and infection. Nails, especially when they have rough edges, can do real injury.

Don't touch your face or hair any oftener than necessary once your makeup and coiffure are complete. If you've developed the unconscious habit of fussing nervously with your face or scratching your head, thanks to a poor complexion or dandruff, tackle your problems and the habits will take care of themselves. Scratching at the surface of these problems will only spread them.

Allow nothing that touches your face or scalp to be less than immaculate. Face cloths, sponges, powder puffs, complexion brushes, scalp massagers, combs, hairbrushes — give them all a good laundering regularly. Use disposable puffs and tissues whenever you want to save time and trouble.

Comb-clean you hairbrush daily, shampoo it whenever you shampoo your hair. That's the time to wash combs, too, and to check them for broken teeth. Once your comb begins to tear apart, throw it away . . . because a broken comb will only tear your hair and scrape your scalp.

How often do you launder your hairnet? Remind yourself to dunk it in the suds whenever you wash your combs and brushes. Be especially careful about clean nets, combs and brushes if you have a scalp problem. Otherwise dandruff reinfests your head and multiplies.

Every so often, run a cold-hearted maintenance check over all the metal and plastic equipment you use over and over again. The file, the scissors, the tweezers, the razor, the curlers and bobby pins, the dressy clips and combs you wear in your hair.

Be positive that all the parts that touch you are in topnotch condition. Toss away the troublemakers—the scissors that won't cut, the tweezers that have lost their bite, the bobby pins and clips with sharp edges and no spring. Replace them philosophically, like any good artisan, who knows the job he does is only as good as the tools of his trade.

Sound playing technique, not infrequently, is based on the proposition that the enemy must be compelled to open certain suits. This is many times accomplished by the "elimination" or "strip and end" play. In today's hand declarer could have achieved his purpose by means of a partial strip.

While the combined holding does not offer a good play for slam, no fault is to be found with the bidding. It will be observed that there are present some wasted values and the two hands do not match up particularly well.

Declarer won the club opening, extracted trumps in three rounds and ruffed his losing club with dummy's last trump. Since the diamond loser appeared inevitable, the spade suit had to be brought in without the loss of a trick. In the vague hope that he would drop the spade honors, South played the king and ace, but to no avail. A third round of spades was led which East won with the queen. East, of course, got safely out of the lead with a club and declarer was obliged to give up a trick to the king of diamonds at the end.

South could have won the hand. By playing in an unusual manner he could have forced East to lead from the king of diamonds. The winning play would have been to draw two trumps and, when East fails to follow to the second round, trumps are temporarily abandoned. Declarer ruffs out the proceeds to give East his spade trick, after cashing the ace and king. East finds it impossible to make a good lead. He cannot get out with a club since that will permit declarer to discard the ten of diamonds as he ruffs in dummy. East will, therefore, be forced to lead a diamond from his king which declarer permits to ride to dummy's queen.

39 WM Employes Are Furloughed

The Western Maryland Railway has furloughed 39 employes here and in Elkins effective Monday.

Four workers at Maryland Junction and nine at the Ridgeley facility were laid off. They are in the maintenance of equipment department.

At Elkins there were 26 men laid off. Affected are employes in the Diesel house and car yard. Harry Howell, general foreman at Elkins, said a "slowdown in business" caused the cutback.

You are not likely to see more than 2,000 stars on the clearest night.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Take Care Of Your Beauty Tools

If your beauty efforts are to pay off, the tools you use over and over again must be just as well cared for as you like yourself to be. This means that all your grooming aids should be kept clean at all times and repaired or replaced when necessary. If they are neglected, the marks of neglect will show up on you.

First of all, be sure your hands are clean and your fingernails clean and filed smooth before you ever touch your face or your scalp. Hands are great carriers of grime and infection. Nails, especially when they have rough edges, can do real injury.

Don't touch your face or hair any oftener than necessary once your makeup and coiffure are complete. If you've developed the unconscious habit of fussing nervously with your face or scratching your head, thanks to a poor complexion or dandruff, tackle your problems and the habits will take care of themselves. Scratching at the surface of these problems will only spread them.

Allow nothing that touches your face or scalp to be less than immaculate. Face cloths, sponges, powder puffs, complexion brushes, scalp massagers, combs, hairbrushes — give them all a good laundering regularly. Use disposable puffs and tissues whenever you want to save time and trouble.

Comb-clean you hairbrush daily, shampoo it whenever you shampoo your hair. That's the time to wash combs, too, and to check them for broken teeth. Once your comb begins to tear apart, throw it away . . . because a broken comb will only tear your hair and scrape your scalp.

Television and Radio

by John Crosby

The Bawds Run Amok

This is the year of the prostitute, all right, all right. Never in my memory, which extends almost back to the First Punic War, have the light ladies run so amok in the plays and all over the screen.

On Broadway—let's see now—you'll find "The Hostage," Brendan Behan's lusty tale of a latter day Irish rebellion set in a brothel; there's "Irma La Douce," utterly charming confection about a Paris streetwalker; and there's "Tenderloin" about the red light district which the critics universally deplored. Off-Broadway, there's "The Balcony," also set in a brothel. In the movie palaces, "Never On Sunday," a story of a Greek bawd, is doing excellent business. Coming in shortly is "Suzie Wong," the story of a prostitute in Hong Kong which was a book and play before it was a movie. And in the bookstalls is the memoir of Virginia MacManus, schoolteacher turned call girl. Where will it all end?

David Merrick, who produced "Irma La Douce," has been quoted as saying that the rumors that "Irma" is dirty will give it a three-year run. The N. Y. "Herald Tribune" critic, Walter Kerr, has been spreading the rumor that "Irma is not dirty, a perfectly awful thing to say about a play. (If I were Merrick I'd sue him for libel). Merrick, it will be remembered, also produced "Suzie Wong" on Broadway as well as "The Good Soup," another play about a prostitute last year. In fact, Merrick has made more money out of prostitution than Polly Adler. Like Polly, he has had his ups and downs with it. "The Good Soup" was shot down by the critics in record time.

However, I'll forgive Merrick for inflicting "Suzie Wong" on us because he gave us "Irma La Douce," which I loved. I found "Irma delicious, cool, ironic, and cerebral. (Cerebral! Oh, brother, Merrick will sue now). Of all the ladies playing golden-hearted streetwalkers, Elizabeth Seal, who stars in "Irma," is easily the most adorable as well as the most talented.

That's a sweeping statement, too, because there are scores of actresses playing harlots somewhere on Broadway or London or Paris (where "Irma La Douce" is a big hit). All nineteen-year-old actresses (you may quote this as one of Crosby's Laws) yearn to play streetwalkers and, after they turn thirty, they want to play nuns. It sometimes seems they alway achieve both ambitions.

Of all the girls I've seen recently playing prostitutes the most convincing—if that's a compliment and I rather doubt it—is Melina Mercouri in "Never On Sunday." Miss Mercouri is a sort of Greek Lauren Bacall, full of large gestures, tremendous bounce, exuberance, and vitality. Jules Dassin, who plays opposite her and who wrote, directed, and produced the picture, ranks high on my list as one of the worst actors I ever saw. On the other hand, he's a very bad writer, too. "Never On Sunday" isn't much but its Greek gaiety and glimpses of Greek low-life and Miss Mercouri make it worth the time.

The golden-hearted strumpet has been around a long, long time. She's always been good theater. But does she exist? Since the world began, the lady of ill fame has been presented on the stage as the true philosopher—open-hearted, gay, kind, generous, loving, true—advising us to Live, Live, Live!

I hate to cast doubt on this ancient image but are harlots really that good-natured? Right after the war they were. Aaah, the streetwalkers in London and Paris and Rome! What gay and charming and merry and, above all, hungry girls! Hunger produces great prizefighters, excellent second basemen, and marvelous streetwalkers. Prosperity ruins all those professions. All the insouciant and lovely semipros have long since married and settled down.

The streets have been taken over by the full time professional, the veterans. Good hearted? Golden dispositions? Come off it, Charlie! Without exception, your veteran has the disposition of a cobra and the belligerance of a Miura bull. There used to be a Spanish gypsy girl who worked the saloons of Paris. She had fingernails an inch long and when that paper-thin temper exploded—as it did every hour on the hour—the fingernails would go straight for the eyeballs. Failing that, she'd aim at the cheek which she could lay open to the bone. Beautiful girl! But the management of several bistros asked her not to come back because the bloodshed was ruining the tablecloths.

What a gutsy character she'd make in a play! And—at the risk of upsetting an ancient dramatic convention—she's be a lot more representative of her profession than those milkshop streetwalkers who smile like angels and are kind to their grandmothers. Kind to grandmothers, indeed! I think that gypsy girl ate her grandmother. For breakfast.

Attending School

Tic. Milton G. Hart of the La-Vale State Police Barracks is attending classes this week at the Harvard Associates and Police Science School, Boston. Tic. Hart, on the barracks' criminal investigation staff, was selected to attend the school's homicide investigation course.

Action Is Taken By Liquor Group

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners has acted on several applications.

The license of the Tee Hee Tavern which was held by Georgia Meyers has been transferred to Homer V. Willison. The establishment is located at 651 North Mechanic Street.

Transfer of the beer, wine and liquor license of the Windsor Bar on North Centre Street has been made to Harold E. Seifert. The board stated it understands the permit will later on be transferred to another location as a liquor store.

Richard Diamond, operator of the Steak House on North Mechanic Street, has received a beer license for his restaurant just off Baltimore Street.

The board also notified the operator of McNeill's Tavern at Woodland that certain Health Department regulations will have to be met within the next two weeks or else the beer license will be revoked.

Charge Against Woman Dismissed

The charge against a local woman for failing to appear in Police Court after being issued a summons as a witness Tuesday was dismissed Wednesday by Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt.

Mrs. Ruth Seifers, who said she didn't appear because she "slept in", was ordered Tuesday to post an appearance bond of $26.45. Magistrate Weatherholt dismissed the charge with a warning that she is to cooperate with the police department and court when and if she is ever summoned in the future.

Mrs. Seifers was to be a prosecution witness against William Jack Clair, of 211 Bedford Street, who was found guilty on police evidence of disturbing the peace with repeated telephone calls to Mrs. Seifers.

Red Youth To Meet

HELSINKI (UPI)—The Communist-run World Federation of Democratic Youth will meet here in 1962, it was learned Thursday.

Finnish non-Communist students opposed the plans and said they will not cooperate.

Television and Radio

by John Crosby

The Bawds Run Amok

This is the year of the prostitute, all right, all right. Never in my memory, which extends almost back to the First Punic War, have the light ladies run so amok in the plays and all over the screen.

On Broadway—let's see now—you'll find "The Hostage," Brendan Behan's lusty tale of a latter day Irish rebellion set in a brothel; there's "Irma La Douce," utterly charming confection about a Paris streetwalker; and there's "Tenderloin" about the red light district which the critics universally deplored. Off-Broadway, there's "The Balcony," also set in a brothel. In the movie palaces, "Never On Sunday," a story of a Greek bawd, is doing excellent business. Coming in shortly is "Suzie Wong," the story of a prostitute in Hong Kong which was a book and play before it was a movie. And in the bookstalls is the memoir of Virginia MacManus, schoolteacher turned call girl. Where will it all end?

David Merrick, who produced "Irma La Douce," has been quoted as saying that the rumors that 'Irma" is dirty will give it a three-year run. The N. Y. "Herald Tribune" critic, Walter Kerr, has been spreading the rumor that "Irma is not dirty, a perfectly awful thing to say about a play. (If I were Merrick I'd sue him for libel). Merrick, it will be remembered, also produced "Suzie Wong" on Broadway as well as "The Good Soup," another play about a prostitute last year. In fact, Merrick has made more money out of prostitution than Polly Adler. Like Polly, he has had his ups and downs with it. 'The Good Soup" was shot down by the critics in record time.

However, I'll forgive Merrick for inflicting "Suzie Wong" on us because he gave us 'Irma La Douce," which I loved. I found "Irma delicious, cool, ironic, and cerebral. (Cerebral! Oh, brother, Merrick will sue now). Of all the ladies playing golden-hearted streetwalkers, Elizabeth Seal, who stars in "Irma," is easily the most adorable as well as the most talented.

That's a sweeping statement, too, because there are scores of actresses playing harlots somewhere on Broadway or London or Paris (where "Irma La Douce" is a big hit). All nineteen-year-old actresses (you may quote this as one of Crosby's Laws) yearn to play streetwalkers and, after they turn thirty, they want to play nuns. It sometimes seems they alway achieve both ambitions.

Of all the girls Ive seen recently playing prostitutes the most convincing—if that's a compliment and I rather doubt it—is Melina Mercouri in "Never On Sunday." Miss Mercouri is a sort of Greek Lauren Bacall, full of large gestures, tremendous bounce, exuberance, and vitality. Jules Dassin, who plays opposite her and who wrote, directed, and produced the picture, ranks high on my list as one of the worst actors I ever saw. On the other hand, he's a very bad writer, too. "Never On Sunday" isn't much but its Greek gaiety and glimpses of Greek low-life and Miss Mercouri make it worth the time.

The golden-hearted strumpet has been around a long, long time. She's always been good theater. But does she exist? Since the world began, the lady of ill fame has been presented on the stage as the true philosopher—open hearted, gay, kind, generous, loving, true—advising us to Live, Live, Live!

I hate to cast doubt on this ancient image but are harlots really that good-natured? Right after the war they were. Aaah, the streetwalkers in London and Paris and Rome! What gay and charming and merry and, above all, hungry girls! Hunger produces great prizefighters, excellent second basemen, and marvelous streetwalkers. Prosperity ruins all those professions. All the insouciant and lovely semipros have long since married and settled down.

The streets have been taken over by the full time professional, the veterans. Good hearted? Golden dispositions? Come off it, Charlie! Without exception, your veteran has the disposition of a cobra and the belligerance of a Miura bull. There used to be a Spanish gypsy girl who worked the saloons of Paris. She had fingernails an inch long and when that paper-thin temper exploded—as it did every hour on the hour—the fingernails would go straight for the eyeballs. Failing that, she'd aim at the cheek which she could lay open to the bone. Beautiful girl! But the management of several bistros asked her not to come back because the bloodshed was ruining the tablecloths.

What a gutsy character she'd make in a play! And—at the risk of upsetting an ancient dramatic convention—she's be a lot more representative of her profession than those milkshop streetwalkers who smile like angels and are kind to their grandmothers. Kind to grandmothers, indeed! I think that gypsy girl ate her grandmother. For breakfast.

Tic. Milton G. Hart of the La Vale State Police Barracks is attending classes this week at the Harvard Associates and Police Science School, Boston. Tic. Hart, on the barracks' criminal investigation staff, was selected to attend the school's homicide investigation course.

Action Is Taken By Liquor Group

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners has acted on several applications.

The license of the Tee Hee Tavern which was held by Georgia Meyers has been transferred to Homer V. Willison. The establishment is located at 651 North Mechanic Street.

Transfer of the beer, wine and liquor license of the Windsor Bar on North Centre Street has been made to Harold E. Seifert. The board stated it understands the permit will later on be transferred to another location as a liquor store.

Richard Diamond, operator of the Steak House on North Mechanic Street, has received a beer license for his restaurant just off Baltimore Street.

The board also notified the operator of McNeill's Tavern at Woodland that certain Health Department regulations will have to be met within the next two weeks or else the beer license will be revoked.

Charge Against Woman Dismissed

The charge against a local woman for failing to appear in Police Court after being issued a summons as a witness Tuesday was dismissed Wednesday by Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt.

Mrs. Ruth Seifers, who said she didn't appear because she "slept in", was ordered Tuesday to post an appearance bond of $26.45. Magistrate Weatherholt dismissed the charge with a warning that she is to cooperate with the police department and court when and if she is ever summoned in the future.

Mrs. Seifers was to be a prosecution witness against William Jack Clair, of 211 Bedford Street, who was found guilty on police evidence of disturbing the peace with repeated telephone calls to Mrs. Seifers.

City Street Department Changes Made

A revamping of some segments of the City Street Department caused in part by the retirement of Andrew W. Heller, superintendent with 34 years of service, John J. Long, commissioner of streets and public property, announced yesterday.

Following Heller's retirement, the appointment of Raymond R. Valentine as his successor was approved by the Mayor and Council.

Civil service tests were held for the position and Valentine was selected from the eligible lists.

The North End and West Side districts have been consolidated due to the number of paved streets and alleys in the two sections.

Long pointed out that the paving program set up and being put into effect has started to cut maintenance costs.

Previously these two districts were under separate foremen and crews under Clarence R. Dyche on North End and Robert W. Clark on West Side.

Long said that following the retirement of Dyche, Clark was named foreman of the consolidated district.

Long also said a sewer maintenance and catch basin crews have been created. No new men have been added to the payroll, but the personnel of the two units were selected from the present roster of employes to expedite work in the general upkeep of all manholes and basins.

The commissioner said these have been deteriorating in the past few years, and the 12-month schedule for cleaning catch basins should produce better results in the future.

A new grader has been purchased in order that general street and alley work can be speeded up.

This piece of equipment will also be very useful in case of deep snowfalls in winter time.

Usually, Long observed, that when the present grader broke down and needed repairs, all major street and alley work would be held up.

Long also pointed out that the Mayor and Council recently passed an ordinance for a radio system for all city equipment.

With the installation of radios in Street Department trucks and vehicles, street, alley and sewer complaints should be corrected more efficiently and with more promptness.

As soon as complaints are phoned in to the warehouse, they will be dispatched to the crew chiefs in their respective districts.

SA Corps Cadets Plan Meeting Here

A busy day has been planned Saturday for some 250 Corps Cadet delegates from throughout the Maryland and Northern West Virginia Division of the Salvation Army, according to Captain Fred Overton, commanding officer of the SA Citadel here.

Registration of the delegates from 23 communities in Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia is scheduled for 9:30 a. m. at the Citadel, 115 North Mechanic Street.

Colonel George H. Marshall, chief secretary of the Salvation Army's Southern Territory, will address the young delegates during the first session starting at 10 a. m. Saturday. He is second in command for Salvation Army work in 15 Southern and border states, the District of Columbia and Mexico.

Corps Cadets are young people between the ages of 13 and 19 who are enrolled in a six-year Bible course which the Salvation Army offers.

At noon, the delegates will split up into five groups for 29-minute "bombardments" at five different downtown location. They will be at Baltimore and North George Street, Baltimore and North Centre streets, in front of the City Hall, in front of Fulton Myers Post, American Legion, and across Liberty Street from the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Man Charged In Shooting Of Three

A 26-year-old Winchester man, charged with felonious assault in the shooting of an eight-month-old baby and two adults, is being held by authorities there without bail.

Frank Delano Wolfe, was jailed on three charges in the shooting of Lester Haines, 23, his infant son Rickie, and Virginia Andrews, 23. The shooting occurred Saturday about noon, Winchester police said.

Police related this story:

Mrs. Andrews had taken Mr. and Mrs. Haines to see Mrs. Haines' parents in Berkeley Springs and the shooting took place soon after they had returned.

Wolfe was a roomer at the Haines' Winchester residence.

No date has been set for a preliminary hearing.

Mr. Haines was the most seriously injured, having been shot in the stomach. He underwent emergency surgery at Winchester Memorial Hospital Saturday night. He was reported by a hospital spokesman yesterday as being in "satisfactory" condition.

The baby was shot in the left shin bone and was reported in "good" condition. Mrs. Andrews, who was shot in the left thigh, has been released from the hospital.

Police have quoted Wolfe as saying he doesn't know what happened. Haines told police that Wolfe, during the shooting, yelled "I'll shoot whenever and wherever I please."

Haines was holding the baby when both were shot, and then Wolfe allegedly turned the gun on Mrs. Andrews.

Police found a .22 calibre target pistol near Wolfe, who was located sitting in the driveway to the family's garage soon after the incident. He has admitted having the gun, but doesn't know what happened, police said.

False Alarm Action Planned

Juvenile Court action will be taken against five local youths who reportedly admitted to placing a number of false fire alarms.

City Police said three of the young boys admit to having pulled a false alarm Saturday evening at the Paca and Smallwood street intersection. Two of the trio are brothers, and one helped the other reach the alarm box by holding him on his shoulders, police report.

The other two alarm-pullers, from North End, were picked up Friday night after turning in a false alarm at the Knox and Columbia Street intersection.

Authorities said numerous false alarms have been turned in during the past four or five weeks.

Marine Unit Has Opening

Major Billy C. Menges, commanding officer of the local 43rd Rifle Company, Marine Corps Reserve, announced that the unit has openings for men interested in the Reserve's six-month training program.

Major Menges said openings are available to those between ages 17 and 26 who are single and still in high school or who have completed their education. Those interested are invited to attend the regular drill at the Naval and Marine Reserve Training Center, McKaig's Hill, November 19 and 20, or by phoning PA 2-1404.

Those enlisting who have completed their education will be sent to Parris Island, S. C., during November, and those still in school will not be assigned until after graduation, Major Menges stated.

After completion of six months active duty, men will be assigned to the rifle company here and will be deferred from training and service under the law as long as they continue to serve satisfactorily with the local unit.

Deer Hunters Are Fined

Two Frostburg area men were fined $225 each Wednesday in Trial Magistrates Court at Frostburg on hunting law violations.

Magistrate Frank Kelly imposed $200 fines on Wayne W. Cutter and Charles E. Whetstone for hunting deer during closed season and also $25 each for trespassing on posted property.

The owners of the posted property appeared to prefer charges. The hunting licenses of both men are automatically revoked for one year due to the hunting violations.

The two men were arrested by District Game Warden Joseph J. Keating.

EARLY FREEZERS

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Egyptians, about the time the first pyramids were being built, pioneered a method of refrigeration whose principles, considerably refined, are used today.

They filled shallow earthen jars with boiling water and exposed them to the night air on the roofs of houses. Slaves kept the outsides of the jars moistened and the resulting evaporation cooled the water. Carried to them by fast slave messengers, the Egyptian nobles had civilization's first running cold water.

CHAPTER NO. 642

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", increasing the number of Judges in Prince George's County, RELATING TO THE ELIGIBILITY OF MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY FOR THE OFFICE OF JUDGE, and correcting an error in and removing obsolete language from said section and submitting this amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (Three-fifths of all Members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", the same if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of Maryland:

21. From and after January 1, 1955, there shall be in the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh circuits at least one judge for each county, who shall be a resident of the county in which he shall hold office, and who shall be elected by the voters thereof, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. The number of judges for any of the circuits or for any of the counties may be increased or decreased by the General Assembly from time to time, and any vacancy so created shall be filled as provided in Section 5 of this Article except that in the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh judicial circuits there shall never be less than one judge for each county and in all of the circuits there shall never be less than three for each circuit. The senior judge in length of service shall be the chief judge of the circuit; the other judge or judges shall be associate judges. In the first and second judicial circuits no two of said judges of the Circuit Court shall at the time of their election or appointment, or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in any one county. In the first and second judicial circuits, in case any candidate or candidates for judge at any election shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of the circuit, then and in that event there shall be declared elected only that candidate or those candidates residing in said county, in the order of the votes received, whose election would provide the permitted number of judges from said county, and also the candidate or candidates residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of judges duly qualified as to residence shall not be elected at any election, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices. From and after December 1, 1954, there shall be not less than three judges resident in Montgomery County and not less than two judges resident in Anne Arundel County, [and in Prince George's County,] and not less than three judges resident in Baltimore County. From and after December 1, 1960, there shall be not less than FOUR judges resident in Prince George's County. [The vacancies in Garrett, Montgomery, and Prince George's County created by the adoption of this amendment shall be filled as provided in Section 5 of this Article.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this article the vacancies in Anne Arundel, Baltimore, and St. Mary's Counties created by the adoption of this amendment shall not be filled by appointment as provided in Section 5 of this Article; but at the first biennial general election for Representatives in Congress, after the adoption of this amendment a judge shall be elected by the qualified voters of Anne Arundel, Baltimore, and St. Mary's Counties, respectively, to fill such vacancy in each county. Any other vacancy in the office of Judge of the Circuit Court for Anne Arundel, Baltimore, and St. Mary's Counties shall be filled as provided in Section 3 and 5 of this article.]

The said judges shall hold such terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now prescribed or may hereafter be prescribed by rules or regulations by the Court of Appeals or otherwise by law. One judge in each of the first seven circuits shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business; and the said judges, or any of them, may hold special terms of their Courts, when in their discretion, the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

All provisions of the Constitution of Maryland and all Acts of the General Assembly relating to the Court of Appeals or any other courts, and all rules heretofore adopted by the Court of Appeals, not inconsistent with the provisions of the sections amended or added by this amendment, shall remain in full force and effect unless and until amended or repealed by proper authority. All salaries now prescribed by law for associate judges of the Circuit Courts shall continue to apply to all judges (including chief judges) of the Circuit Court. No member of the General Assembly at which either of these amendments was proposed, or at which the number OR SALARY of judges for any of the Circuit circuits or any of the counties may be OR MAY HAVE BEEN increased or decreased by the General Assembly from time to time, if otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as judge of the Court of Appeals or any other court by reason of his membership in such General Assembly.

In the event and to the extent of any inconsistency between the provisions of any section amended or added by these amendments and any of the other provisions of this Constitution or the provisions of any existing law, the provisions of the sections amended or added shall prevail, and such OTHER PROVISIONS SHALL BE REPEALED OR ABROGATED to the extent of such inconsistency, except Section 35A of Article III of this Constitution; provided, however, that in the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of the sections thus amended or added and any of the other provisions of THE SECTIONS THUS AMENDED OR ADDED AND ANY OF THE OTHER PROVISIONS OF this Constitution as amended by any other amendments which may be adopted at the same time or times as these amendments, i.e., at the election held in November, 1944, or at the election held in November, 1954, OR AT THE ELECTION HELD IN NOVEMBER, 1960, the changes made by these amendments and all such other amendments to this Constitution shall all be given effect.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election, to be held in this State in the year 1960, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment", as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Carried to them by fast slave messengers, the Egyptian nobles had civilization's first running cold water.

CHAPTER 575

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 41A of Article IV of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "People's Courts", providing for candidates other than an incumbent judge to run for election to the People's Court of Baltimore City, and submitting this amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), that the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 41A of Article IV of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "People's Courts", the same if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become Section 41A of Article IV of the Constitution of Maryland:

There is hereby created a People's Court of Baltimore City. Said Court shall consist originally of a Chief Judge and two Associate Judges; the number of such Judges may thereafter be increased or decreased by the General Assembly by law but no such decrease shall affect the term of any Judge then in office or his right to stand for election for further terms as hereinafter provided. The Judges of said Court shall have the qualifications prescribed by Section 2 of this Article and shall have practiced law in the City of Baltimore for a total period of at least five years; shall hold office subject to the provisions of Sections 3 and 4 of this Article with regard to retirement and removal from office; and shall receive from the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore City such compensation as shall be fixed by law by the General Assembly, which shall not be diminished during continuance in office.

The Governor shall appoint to said Court, to take office on the first Monday of May, 1941, one Associate Judge for a term expiring December 31, 1942, one Associate Judge for a term expiring December 31, 1944, and a Chief Judge for a term expiring December 31, 1946; and, upon the creation of any additional office on said Court by increase in the number of Judges pursuant to this Section, shall appoint an Associate Judge for such term, not exceeding eight years and expiring on the thirty-first day of December immediately following a Congressional election, as the law creating such office shall prescribe. If any vacancy occurs during any such original term, the Governor shall appoint a successor to serve for the remainder of such term. After the expiration of said original terms, the terms of office of said Court shall be for eight years from the expiration of the preceding term, and shall be filled as follows:

(1) Any incumbent Judge of said Court shall be eligible, at the Congressional election immediately preceding the expiration of his period of appointment or term, for election or re-election to succeed himself (a) for a full term of eight years, except as provided in (b) hereof; or (b) for the unexpired remainder of the current eight year term, if his appointment will expire before the end of such term. [No] Any QUALIFIED person [other than] including an incumbent Judge shall be eligible for election to said Court. PROVIDED, HOWEVER, THAT ANY JUDGE WHO IS IN OFFICE WHEN THIS ACT TAKES EFFECT SHALL BE ENTITLED TO HAVE HIS NAME PLACED UPON THE BALLOT WITH NO PARTY DESIGNATION AND WITH NO OPPOSING CANDIDATE, AND THE VOTERS SHALL CAST THEIR VOTES FOR OR AGAINST THE CONTINUANCE IN OFFICE OF SAID JUDGE.

(2) Whenever a vacancy shall occur on said Court from any cause the Governor shall appoint to said Court a Judge who shall hold office under such appointment until the thirty-first day of December immediately following the first Congressional election occurring six months or more after the date of his appointment. No Judge of said Court, who has stood for election to succeed himself and not been elected, shall thereafter be appointed to said Court, and no Judge of said Court, who has failed to stand for election when eligible, shall be appointed to succeed himself.

(3) In order to qualify for election or re-election [an incumbent Judge] all candidates shall file with the Supervisors of Elections of Baltimore City not later than thirty days before the date of the applicable election a certificate [signed and duly acknowledged, stating the basis of his eligibility and the term or remainder of term for which he is eligible for election. Thereupon, the name of such Judge, together with a statement of the term or remainder of term for which he is eligible, shall be placed upon the ballot to be used in said City in such election, with no party designation whatever and with no opposing candidate, with space provided to permit any voter to cast his vote for or against the continuance in office of such Judge; if the votes cast for the continuance in office of such Judge represent a majority of all the votes cast for or against his continuance in office, such Judge shall hold office for the unexpired remainder of the term or for the full term of eight years, as the case may be.] of candidacy in a form to be supplied by the Supervisors.

Unless his office shall have been abolished pursuant to this section, each Judge of said Court shall continue to hold office after the expiration of his period of appointment or term until a successor shall qualify. As used in this section, "Congressional election" means any of the biennial elections at which members of the House of Representatives are regularly chosen.

Said Court shall have such jurisdiction (which may be made exclusive as to any class or classes of civil cases in Baltimore City), with such right of appeal, therefrom, and the Chief Judge and Associate Judges thereof shall have such powers and duties, as the General Assembly shall prescribe from time to time by law. The Judges of said Court shall have full power to regulate by rules the administration, procedure and practice of said Court; such rules shall have the force of law until rescinded or modified by said Judges or the General Assembly. Unless otherwise provided by law, (1) all powers granted by this section or by law to said Court or the Judges thereof as a body may be exercised by a majority of the Judges thereof, and (2) said Court shall not be a Court of Record.

There shall be a Chief Constable of said Court, who shall perform therein the duties prescribed for Clerks of Court by Section 10 of this Article and such other duties as shall be prescribed by law or by rule of said Court. Such Chief Constable shall be appointed, in the manner hereinafter prescribed, by the Judges of said Court; and such Chief Constable shall appoint, in the manner hereinafter prescribed, all original, subsequent and additional constables and clerks employed pursuant to this section, and shall supervise and direct the work of all such constables and clerks. There shall be appointed originally fourteen such constables and sixteen such clerks; the number of either may, on the joint recommendation of said Court and said Chief Constable, be increased by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore City; no vacancy in the position of any constable or clerk, however arising, shall be filled by said Chief Constable unless the Judges of said Court and said Chief Constable shall expressly find that the filling of such vacancy is necessary for the efficient operation of said Court. The positions of said Chief Constable and of all such constables and clerks shall be positions in the Classified City Service of Baltimore and the provisions of the Charter of said City with respect to said City Service are hereby expressly made applicable thereto, provided that, the Chief Constable at the time this amendment becomes effective shall continue authorized to main in said position and immediately become a member of said Classified City Service of Baltimore; all such positions shall be classified by the City Service Commission and all appointments, promotions, transfers, re-instatements, and removals with respect to such positions shall be made only in accordance with the provisions, rules and regulations of said Classified City Service in force from time to time. Such Chief Constable and all of such other constables and all such clerks shall receive from the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore City such compensation as said Mayor and City Council shall prescribe. Such constables and clerks shall perform such duties as may now or hereafter be prescribed by law or rule of Court.

After adoption of this section no constable shall be appointed by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore City pursuant to Section 42 or Section 43 of this Article IV, but constables in office upon the adoption of this section shall hold office for the remainder of their terms, and the constables first appointed under this section shall take office at the expiration of such terms.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election, to be held in this State in the year 1960, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (Three-fifths of all members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 40A of Article 3 of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", sub-title "Eminent Domain", the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become Section 40A of Article 3 of the Constitution of Maryland.

40A. Same—Baltimore City [] and Montgomery County.

The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties, or awarded by a Jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, but where such property is situated in Baltimore City and is desired by this State or by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, the General Assembly may provide for the appointment of appraisers by a Court of Record to value such property, and that, upon payment of the amount of such valuation to the party entitled to compensation, or into Court and securing the payment of any further sum that may be awarded by a jury, such property may be taken [,]: and where such property is situated in Montgomery County and in the judgment of and upon a finding by the County Council of said County that there is immediate need therefor for right of way for County roads or streets, the County Council may provide that such property may be taken immediately upon payment therefor to the owner or owners thereof, or into court, such amount as an appraiser appointed by a Court of Record shall estimate to be the fair market value of such property, provided that the Council shall secure the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury. THIS SECTION SHALL NOT APPLY IN MONTGOMERY COUNTY IF THE PROPERTY ACTUALLY TO BE TAKEN INCLUDES BUILDINGS OR IMPROVEMENTS.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election, to be held in this State in the year 1960, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

CHAPTER NO. 642

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", increasing the number of Judges in Prince George's County, RELATING TO THE ELIGIBILITY OF MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY FOR THE OFFICE OF JUDGE, and correcting an error in and removing obsolete language from said section and submitting this amendment to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (Three-fifths of all Members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", the same if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of Maryland:

21. From and after January 1, 1955, there shall be in the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh circuits at least one judge for each county, who shall be a resident of the county in which he shall hold office, and who shall be elected by the voters thereof, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. The number of judges for any of the circuits or for any of the counties may be increased or decreased by the General Assembly from time to time, and any vacancy so created shall be filled as provided in Section 5 of this Article except that in the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh judicial circuits there shall never be less than one judge for each county and in all of the circuits there shall never be less than three for each circuit. The senior judge in length of service shall be the chief judge of the circuit; the other judge or judges shall be associate judges. In the first and second judicial circuits no two of said judges of the Circuit Court shall at the time of their election or appointment, or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in any one county. In the first and second judicial circuits, in case any candidate or candidates for judge at any election shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of the circuit, then and in that event there shall be declared elected only that candidate or those candidates residing in said county, in the order of the votes received, whose election would provide the permitted number of judges from said county, and also the candidate or candidates residing in some other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of judges shall not be elected at any election, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices. From and after December 1, 1954, there shall be not less than three judges resident in Montgomery County and not less than two judges resident in Anne Arundel County, [and in Prince George's County,] and not less than three judges resident in Baltimore County. From and after December 1, 1960, there shall be not less than FOUR judges resident in Prince George's County. [The vacancies in Garrett, Montgomery, and Prince George's County created by the adoption of this amendment shall be filled as provided in Section 5 of this Article.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this article the vacancies in Anne Arundel, Baltimore, and St. Mary's Counties created by the adoption of this amendment shall not be filled by appointment as provided in Section 5 of this Article; but at the first biennial general election for Representatives in Congress, after the adoption of this amendment a judge shall be elected by the qualified voters of Anne Arundel, Baltimore, and St. Mary's Counties, respectively, to fill such vacancy in each county. Any other vacancy in the office of Judge of the Circuit Court for Anne Arundel, Baltimore, and St. Mary's Counties shall be filled as provided in Section 3 and 5 of this article.]

The said judges shall hold such terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now prescribed or may hereafter be prescribed by rules or regulations by the Court of Appeals or otherwise by law. One judge in each of the first seven circuits shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business; and the said judges, or any of them, may hold special terms of their Courts, when in their discretion, the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary.

All provisions of the Constitution of Maryland and all Acts of the General Assembly relating to the Court of Appeals or any other courts, and all rules heretofore adopted by the Court of Appeals, not inconsistent with the provisions of the sections amended or added by this amendment, shall remain in full force and effect unless and until amended or repealed by proper authority. All salaries now prescribed by law for associate judges of the Circuit Courts shall continue to apply to all judges (including chief judges) of the Circuit Court. No member of the General Assembly at which either of these amendments was proposed, or at which the number OR SALARY of judges for any of the EIGHT circuits or for any of the counties may be OR MAY HAVE BEEN increased or decreased by the General Assembly from time to time, if otherwise qualified, shall be ineligible for appointment or election as judge of the Court of Appeals or any other court by reason of his membership in such General Assembly.

In the event and to the extent of any inconsistency between the provisions of any section amended or added by these amendments and any of the other provisions of this Constitution or the provisions of any existing law, the provisions of the sections amended or added shall prevail, and such OTHER PROVISIONS SHALL BE REPEALED OR ABROGATED to the extent of such inconsistency, except Section 35A of Article III of this Constitution; provided, however, that in the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of the sections thus amended or added and any of the other provisions of THE SECTIONS THUS AMENDED OR ADDED AND ANY OF THE OTHER PROVISIONS OF this Constitution as amended by any other amendments which may be adopted at the same time or times as these amendments, i.e., at the election held in November, 1944, or at the election held in November, 1954, OR AT THE ELECTION HELD IN NOVEMBER, 1960, the changes made by these amendments and all such other amendments to this Constitution shall all be given effect.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election, to be held in this State in the year 1960, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment", as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Mathias' Program For The Future

Charles McC. Mathias, Republican candidate for Congress for the Sixth District, is winding up his campaign in the district's five counties, with indications of growing support from all sides. For several months, Mr. Mathias has been busily touring the district, earnestly putting forward a program for the future.

Mr. Mathias has taken a forthright stand on those questions that we all know will be of chief concern to the district's Representative in the next Congress.

He has supported inclusion of U.S. 40 through Allegany and Garrett counties in the new Interstate Route 70, a goal that would be an economic boon to the area.

He has outlined a six-point program for redevelopment of the Sixth District which would offer a stronger economic base for all of Western Maryland.

He has promised to work for more help to small businesses, both through the Small Business Administration and through revision of the present unrealistic income tax structure.

He is for carefully controlled federal aid for school construction, expansion of the National Defense Education Act to broaden the loan program for college students, and full income tax deductions for college tuition costs.

His program also includes efforts to revise the Landrum-Griffin labor act to eliminate undue hardships on small unions.

He strongly opposes coercive farm legislation and rigid support prices for farm products, such as were embodied in the Poage bill.

Mr. Mathias has not gone around making a lot of promises that all these things will come into being immediately upon his assumption of office. He has simply talked with as many people as possible, making his position on every issue abundantly clear. Obviously he has devoted considerable thought and study to the problems of the Sixth District, and has laid down the foundation of a positive program to overcome them. We think his program deserves support at the polls next Tuesday.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Shadow Of Alger Hiss

It was Richard Nixon who uncovered the nature of the Communist infiltration into the State Department in the Alger Hiss Case. He was a young member of the House of Representatives, fresh out of California, a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. He was young, active, immature and uninfluenced by the impediments of Washington life.

Bert Andrews, Washington correspondent of the "New York Herald Tribune," knew the whereabouts of Whittaker Chambers and that he possessed documentary evidence of the Hiss entanglements. This documentary evidence turned out to be the famous "Pumpkin Papers." Richard Nixon drove to the Chambers farm in Maryland, uncovered the "Pumpkin Papers" and ultimately confronted Hiss and Chambers. This led to the Hiss trials and the conviction of Alger Hiss for perjury in a matter relating to espionage.

Nixon thus became identifed with anti-Communism and with tough relentless exposure. The Alger Hiss Case was settled in the courts. Hiss had ample opportunity for defense and appeal and lost. As is customary in such situations, there are always those who believe, despite the evidence in court, that it really could not be that such an educated and good-looking man like Alger Hiss would be either a Communist or a spy. Hiss's own account of the situation does not add much knowledge to it, one way or the other. In fact, his statements on the case are nebulous.

Up to the moment of the exposure of Alger Hiss by Richard Nixon, Hiss had had a swift and even brilliant career in the State Department. His rise was phenomenal. He accompanied President Roosevelt to Yalta and was one of those who kept the minutes of that conference — minutes which fall short in many respects. He was a principal factor in the development of the United Nations and helped to write its Charter. He formulated the Marshall China policy which, as results show, gave Manchuria first to Soviet Russia and then to the Chinese Communists and finally produced the take-over of China by the Chinese Communists with indirect American aid. It was an amazing performance.

Now comes 1960 when Richard Nixon runs for President. Among the Park Avenue Liberals, many of whom write for newspapers and magazines and for the radio and television and who give big dinner parties where there is much talk and from which rumors emanate which, passing from mouth to mouth, soon are heard by all, like those jokes which have no author but which everyone soon hears, Hiss remains a Dreyfus tortured for his ideals. Those Park Avenue Liberals have always hated Richard Nixon for uncovering Alger Hiss. Indirectly, it was the Hiss Case which embarrassed many of them because the shock over him led to numerous investigations. For instance, at Harvard, Hiss had roommates who innocent or guilty, were investigated and embarrassed. Guilt by association is as old as the human race and while often most unfair, it is a natural conclusion that birds of a feather somehow flock together. And one thing leading to another, many who masqueraded as intellectuals or as non-political personalities were exposed either as subversives or spies. It was a sad time for Park Avenue. Many delightful human beings were severely damaged.

Now they have their chance for revenge. They say: "I don't know why, but I always disliked Richard Nixon." "He may be a very good man but somehow he does not appeal to me." It all sounds so innocent. An upstanding Democrat does not need that sort of persiflage. He says: "I'm for Kennedy" or he says: "I'm a Democrat." A man like Jim Farley, for instance, does not need to apologize for voting for Kennedy; he always votes for a Democrat.

But these others cannot say it straight because their consciences bother them. Nixon was the man, more than any other, who broke up the conspiracy to take over America by the Communists by his intervention in the Alger Hiss matter. These Park Avenue Liberals believed that they had control of the State Department through Hiss and his empire-building coterie; they had the Treasury through Harry Dexter White. They even exerted a great influence in the White House through Lauchlin Currie. It all went geplunk when Alger Hiss went to jail and the Rosenbergs were caught stealing the atom bomb. Not all of these rich men and women were Communists but they liked to play at being extraordinary.

Kennedy, Quietly Confident, Is Leading Nixon

By Joseph Alsop

EN ROUTE WITH KENNEDY

On this semi-final vote-hunting safari, the mood of the Democratic candidate is soberly confident.

The sobriety is impressive in itself. A less hard-headed man than Sen. Kennedy would be downright intoxicated by the size of the crowds he draws and the strange, vibrant rapport that he has with all these people. But from a practical political standpoint, the confidence is the interesting feature.

The first reason for this confidence that Kennedy now feels is the trend shown by his own opinion surveys. The Nixon camp has been passing out the hopeful figures produced by polls of key states by the Republican pulse-feeler, Claude Robinson. The Kennedy camp discloses none of the details of the polls taken for the Senator by Louis Harris. But it can be stated, on the best authority, that if Harris is right, Robinson ought to shut up shop.

On the same authority, it can also be said that the state-by-state results, which are often close, are less impressive than the pattern and the trend.

As to the pattern, it shows a modest-to-decisive Kennedy lead in all the big industrial states with the possible exception of Indiana, plus a real pick-up in the South. One state checks against the other. In the two most important states, New York and California, the Kennedy surveys also check with tests locally made, in New York by "The Daily News," and in California, by the Field Polling organization.

The trend of the surveys has shown a gradual but consistent movement of voters, away from Vice President Nixon, into the undecided group, and onwards to Sen. Kennedy. Ever since the first television debate, Nixon's support has been dropping, Kennedy's support has been rising. The undecided group remains large enough to swing the election in most states, and in most states, too, the proportion of undecided voters has stayed about the same.

The sobriety of the Kennedy mood is perhaps due to this persistently large number of undecided voters. But the crowds that turn out for Kennedy encourage the Kennedy camp to hope that a great many of the undecided will eventually decide for the Democrats.

There are two factors that need to be borne in mind in judging the Kennedy crowds and the comparable crowds that greet Vice President Nixon. One factor is money. The Democrats are short of cash, contrary to the common impression. The candidate's nationwide television time on Monday was within an ace of being canceled, for instance, just for want of funds to pay for it. Thus the Kennedy advance men can never attempt what the Nixon advance men have been doing as a matter of course.

In Michigan, for instance, the local Republican bigwigs boasted that no less than 90,000 telephone calls had been made to insure a big crowd at the Vice President's important rally in Grand Rapids. The Kennedy crowds turn out despite a very much smaller investment in telephone calls, in buses, and in all the other devices for getting out crowds.

As to the other crowd-factor, it is not easy to define, but it is very real nonetheless. Its nature is indicated by the striking difference between the Kennedy crowds and the Nixon crowds, which has been noted by just about every reporter who has traveled with both candidates.

Nixon, with his set speech full of "applause points," gets plenty of cheers. But between Kennedy and the people who come to see and hear him, there is this curious, electric or magnetic rapport already mentioned. It starts the old pros on the safari reminiscing about Franklin D. Roosevelt. It must, they say, "mean something," and one can hardly believe the old pros are wrong.

Finally, Kennedy has a more basic reason for his confidence at the end of the race. It derives from the way his opponent has chosen to run the race.

At the end of the Republican convention, in brief, the Vice President had positioned himself for the kind of national campaign that Gov. Nelson Rockefeller would have waged. In the field of foreign and defense policy, especially, Nixon was entirely free to offer a Rockefeller-style assessment of the national situation, and to make a Rockefeller-style appeal. Kennedy was deeply fearful that he would do so, since Kennedy's own call to the nation to "move forward" would then have sounded thin and meaningless.

Anyone who knows the Vice President well knows that he really agrees with Gov. Rockefeller. Yet he rejected the strategy which Kennedy expected him to adopt, choosing instead a Madison Ave. approach. If Kennedy is elected, this will be the rock bottom reason.

Letters To The Editor

Maurice H. Stans, Director of the Bureau of the Budget, has issued the following reply to Drew Pearson's charge of a conflict of interest arising out of Mr. Stans' former ownership of Alaska oil leases on lands administered by the Department of the Interior:

Sir:

Mr. Pearson is wrong. There is not and has not been a conflict of interest or any circumstance justifying an ethical question.

The facts are that since joining the Government in 1955, I have not received a single cent of income or profit from these leases, I now own no interest in them, and no income or interest can ever come to me, either directly or indirectly.

As part of a group of 400 individuals, I applied for these oil leases (of which I retained four, covering 10,240 acres) in 1951 and paid the regular federal rental of 25 cents per acre. The leases were approved and issued to me early in 1953. I joined the Bureau of the Budget in September of 1957, more than four years later.

On December 26, 1958, I gave my interest in them to the Alaska Charitable Trust, which I formed exclusively for "charitable, educational and religious" purposes, with a well-known Chicago lawyer as trustee. Prior to the time I thus divested myself of ownership, no agency of the Government, my knowledge, was required to take or did take any action affecting them.

The gift to the Charitable Trust is irrevocable and the trust agreement expressly states that no income or profits can ever inure to my benefit, directly or indirectly.

For five years, any income will go to charity, and at the end of five years, the trust must distribute all its assets to charity. The trust has properly filed federal tax returns, with a statement of the trust provisions, and there has been no secret as to its existence.

Mr. Pearson also says I own indirectly a 2½ per cent override in over 1,000,000 acres of oil leases. Actually, this interest was only .00125, and I gave this also to the trust.

The irony of all this attack is that the four leases are worth very little. I understand that they had a market value of only $100 each, or a total of $400, when I gave them away. Their only worth was prospective, in that oil or gas might some day be discovered, but at the time several unsuccessful wells had already been drilled.

Mr. Pearson complains that the trust has not disbursed any funds to charitable causes. There is a very good reason — unless oil is discovered within the five-year period, there will not be any income for the trust to distribute.

I do not know what more I could have done to divest myself of any personal or family interest in these leases. No portion of any income from them can ever benefit me or any member of my family. It occurred to me at the time that this was an overcautious sacrifice, but I chose to lean over backward in divesting myself of any potential benefits while in Government employ.

In my five years of service to the United States Government, I have made some other sacrifices which apparently do not interest Mr. Pearson, including giving up an annual income many times larger than the compensation I draw as Budget Director. I have not complained of this. Mr. Pearson ignores it, but attacks me for an imaginary conflict of interest on oil leases which I do not own and which will only have value if oil is discovered.

'Handy Andy' Schoeppel Of Kansas Having Rough Time In Campaign

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's Note—Drew Pearson today continues his report on some of the most interesting races in the current election campaign.)

EN ROUTE TO MIAMI—Out in Kansas shaggy-maned Sen. "Handy Andy" Schoeppel, long a fixture on Capitol Hill, is facing the fight of his life on an issue which cased the surprise defeat of another Senate so-called "fixture," John Bricker of Ohio.

Bricker, who had been governor, senator and ran for Vice President, was knocked out when Ohio voters became aroused over the huge fees drawn down by the Bricker law firm from the Pennsylvania Railroad and others with business before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee of which Bricker was ranking Republican member.

Now Andy Schoeppel is ranking Republican member of the same committee and operates one of the most successful law firms in Kansas with some interesting clients whose welfare is affected by his committee. Andy's opponent, Frank Theis, has been pounding this home with such effectiveness that it has got under the bushy-browed Kansan's skin to the extent that he even called Theis a liar and denied that he, Schoeppel, had been chairman of the Surface Transportation Subcommittee. Next day the AP confirmed the fact that Schoeppel had been chairman in 1954-55.

The significance of this chairmanship is the fact that Andy's law firm represents North American Van Lines, Yellow Van and Storage, and Freightways, Inc., all potent trucking firms subject to laws shaped by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee and the Senate Surface Transportation Subcommittee.

Clients Unlisted In Directory

It may or may not be significant that Andy's law firm does not list these trucking clients in the well-known legal directory, Martindale and Hubbell. Possibly the firm has been sensitive regarding its senior member's conflicting position in the Senate. Certainly Senator Schoeppel has been sensitive in the current campaign. He has been bellowing and denying and threatening, though not effectively disproving the charges regarding his position in the Senate and his position in his law firm.

His firm does list in Martindale and Hubbell, however, some other important clients—namely, Boeing Aircraft, which does a billion dollars worth of business with Uncle Sam and has a large plant at Wichita, Phillips Petroleum, with many important problems before the Federal Power Commission, over whose officers Schoeppel's committee has veto confirmation power; Monsanto Chemical, Coca-Cola, Foley Tractor, Aetna Casualty, State Farm Mutual and many others.

Probably the most significant of these, along with the trucking lines, are several oil and gas companies—Republic Natural Gas, Gulf Oil, Continental Oil, Colorado Interstate Gas, in addition to Phillips, not all of them listed in the legal directory.

Their importance lies in the fact that Schoeppel's Interstate Commerce Committee not only passes upon all members of the Federal Power Commission, but has potent influence over that commission, which in turn fixes rates, grants pipeline permits, and generally regulates the gas industry.

On top of this, Schoeppel's committee must pass on gas legislation, and he voted right down the line for the controversial natural gas bill which Eisenhower finally vetoed after revelation that lobbyist for Superior Oil had tried to bribe Sen. Francis Case of South Dakota with $2,500. Despite this incident and the highhanded tactics of the oil-gas lobby, good old Andy lined up faithfully with his oil and gas clients.

Some of these chickens are now coming home to roost, with the result that the strong Harris newspaper chain, normally Republican, has called for Schoeppel's defeat, charging that the Senator has been described as a "tired time-server" whose "irresponsibilty is downright dangerous" and "his ignorance pitiful."

Note—As of the beginning of the September court term, the U. S. District Court in Wichita listed 21 cases in which the Schoeppel law firm represented clients either suing the U. S. government or being sued by the government. No Senator or Congressman is permitted to get any financial reward from a case against the U. S. government, because he has taken an oath to defend the U. S. government. And while Senator Schoeppel has stated that he is not participating in any of his law firm's cases, many people wonder where the line of demarcation is drawn inside the law firm concerning Schoeppel's influence regarding federal cases.

Polling The Editors

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — This correspondent has just completed a poll of the editors of the daily newspapers of the country, asking their confidential judgment on the outcome of the Presidential election in their own states. It was conducted by mail in the last 10 days with the understanding that no names of individuals or newspapers would be published. The assurance was given that the answers would be used only for a statistical compilation.

The number of replies was higher than in any similar poll conducted by this writer in previous Presidential elections. A total of 1,580 letters were sent, and 1,313 replies have been received thus far, or 83.1 per cent. From several states the return was 95 to 100 per cent. Polling experts agree that any such response to a mail survey is exceptionally high.

The editors were asked to mark a simple questionnaire to show whether their state is "certain" for or "leaning" toward Nixon or Kennedy.

It is significant that many editors themselves were uncertain about the outcome in their state. Some pencilled their reasons for not knowing—namely, the "religious issue," which seems to have become the biggest question mark connected with the campaign. In California, for example, only one editor is "certain" that Kennedy will win that state and only one is "certain" that Nixon will win it. Of the others, 48 says that the state is "leaning" toward Kennedy, and 27 that it is "leaning" toward Nixon, while 7 call it a "toss-up."

It's the same story of doubt by the editors in Illinois, where none is "certain" that Kennedy will take the state and only 4 are "certain" that Nixon will win it. Of the remaining 51, there are 20 who see it as "leaning" toward Kennedy and 30 as "leaning" toward Nixon, with 1 "toss-up."

If the "certain" and "leaning" for each candidate are grouped together, with somewhat more weight given to the answers marked "certain," not only are a few states so close as to be virtual "tossups," but the electoral table that results is itself close. It adds up to 290 for Kennedy and 247 for Nixon, with 269 electoral votes needed to win.

If, on the other hand, the editors' judgment in only one big state is wrong—that is, if Nixon's home state of California goes for him—the result would be turned around to a Nixon victory with 279 votes, against 258 for Kennedy.

The reason why a forecast based on either tabulation can be wrong is that many of the editors in the rural part of a state may not be familiar with the voting situation in the big cities, while editors in the big cities cannot always appraise accurately what the vote is likely to be in the rural areas, particularly this year on the socalled "religious issue."

But here is the way the actual table comes out after noting in the first four columns all the answers received up to the time of writing, and then allocating the electoral vote on the basis of the majority of the judgments in each state:

You're Telling Me

By William Ritt

During medieval times, according to a noted historian, a fine suit of armor required at least a year to be produced. And, say, six months for alterations?

On hearing about a government employe whose job is to watch over a herd of 5,500 reindeer at Point Hope, Alaska, Junior says he's surprised Santa Claus has that many spares.

'Indigestion' Plagues High-Strung Persons

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The stomach, intestines, and other abdominal organs are influenced by bad habits and by the emotional system. Nervous tension plays a role in peptic ulcer, diarrhea, and spastic bowel. Appetite is affected by grief and anxiety.

The throat frequently "chokes up" when we are sad or angry, making swallowing difficult. A furred tongue and dry mouth go along with anxiety. Belching, bloating, and a variety of vague forms of indigestion are common among air swallowers and chronically unhappy people.

Overeating leads to obesity and excessive smoking may upset digestion and interfere with ulcer healing. Overindulgence in alcohol encourages cirrhosis of the liver as well as certain forms of pancreatitis.

It becomes obvious from this lineup why gastrointestinal complaints are so common. The word "complaints" should be emphasized because many of these conditions are more uncomfortable than serious. This includes mild cramping associated with spastic bowel and distress in the upper abdomen caused by indigestion and gas.

Almost all of us have twinges of abdominal pain from time to time as well as bouts of belching, gas, and constipation. These minor disorders are quickly forgotten except by the hypochondriac who takes a dim view of any form of distress.

The high-strung person tends to be bothered more often and takes medications that quiet or relax the body to obtain relief.

There are many sedatives and tranquilizers for this purpose, used alone or in combination with intestinal relaxants. But permanent relief is difficult to obtain unless the problem is understood—the star role played by emotions and inherent anxieties.

TOMORROW: Softened bones in oldsters.

INDIGESTION AND TV

J. S. writes: My husband spends hours watching TV slumped on the middle of his spine. Lately he has had indigestion. Could this poor sitting posture have anything to do with his digestive symptoms?

REPLY

Indigestion is a common complaint and has many origins. I doubt if sitting too long in a slumped position is responsible. We have heard of TV bottom, TV neck, phlebitis of a leg, and hardening of the coronary arteries as possible hazards of sitting in a slumped position for hours on end. However, chest pain or backache may in turn be referred to the abdomen.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

An anthology entitled "Letters to Sons and Daughters" contains this particularly touching note from Robert G. Ingersoll to his daughter on the occasion of her thirty-fourth birthday:

"Dear Eva: Thirty-four years of unbroken kindness, of cloudless sunshine, of perpetual joy, of constant love; Thirty-four years of happy smiles, of loving looks, of gentle words, of generous deeds! My love to one who has grown from a faultless child to be a perfect woman, wife, and mother."

Mathias' Program For The Future

Charles McC. Mathias, Republican candidate for Congress for the Sixth District, is winding up his campaign in the district's five counties, with indications of growing support from all sides. For several months, Mr. Mathias has been busily touring the district, earnestly putting forward a program for the future.

Mr. Mathias has taken a forthright stand on those questions that we all know will be of chief concern to the district's Representative in the next Congress.

He has supported inclusion of U.S. 40 through Allegany and Garrett counties in the new Interstate Route 70, a goal that would be an economic boon to the area.

He has outlined a six-point program for redevelopment of the Sixth District which would offer a stronger economic base for all of Western Maryland.

He has promised to work for more help to small businesses, both through the Small Business Administration and through revision of the present unrealistic income tax structure.

He is for carefully controlled federal aid for school construction, expansion of the National Defense Education Act to broaden the loan program for college students, and full income tax deductions for college tuition costs.

His program also includes efforts to revise the Landrum-Griffin labor act to eliminate undue hardships on small unions.

He strongly opposes coercive farm legislation and rigid support prices for farm products, such as were embodied in the Poage bill.

Mr. Mathias has not gone around making a lot of promises that all these things will come into being immediately upon his assumption of office. He has simply talked with as many people as possible, making his position on every issue abundantly clear. Obviously he has devoted considerable thought and study to the problems of the Sixth District, and has laid down the foundation of a positive program to overcome them. We think his program deserves support at the polls next Tuesday.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Shadow Of Alger Hiss

It was Richard Nixon who uncovered the nature of the Communist infiltration into the State Department in the Alger Hiss Case. He was a young member of the House of Representatives, fresh out of California, a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. He was young, active, immature and uninfluenced by the impediments of Washington life.

Bert Andrews, Washington correspondent of the "New York Herald Tribune," knew the whereabouts of Whittaker Chambers and that he possessed documentary evidence of the Hiss entanglements. This documentary evidence turned out to be the famous "Pumpkin Papers." Richard Nixon drove to the Chambers farm in Maryland, uncovered the "Pumpkin Papers" and ultimately confronted Hiss and Chambers. This led to the Hiss trials and the conviction of Alger Hiss for perjury in a matter relating to espionage.

Nixon thus became identifed with anti-Communism and with tough relentless exposure. The Alger Hiss Case was settled in the courts. Hiss had ample opportunity for defense and appeal and lost. As is customary in such situations, there are always those who believe, despite the evidence in court, that it really could not be that such an educated and good-looking man like Alger Hiss would be either a Communist or a spy. Hiss's own account of the situation does not add much knowledge to it, one way or the other. In fact, his statements on the case are nebulous.

Up to the moment of the exposure of Alger Hiss by Richard Nixon, Hiss had had a swift and even brilliant career in the State Department. His rise was phenomenal. He accompanied President Roosevelt to Yalta and was one of those who kept the minutes of that conference — minutes which fall short in many respects. He was a principal factor in the development of the United Nations and helped to write its Charter. He formulated the Marshall China policy which, as results show, gave Manchuria first to Soviet Russia and then to the Chinese Communists and finally produced the take-over of China by the Chinese Communists with indirect American aid. It was an amazing performance.

Now comes 1960 when Richard Nixon runs for President. Among the Park Avenue Liberals, many of whom write for newspapers and magazines and for the radio and television and who give big dinner parties where there is much talk and from which rumors emanate which, passing from mouth to mouth, soon are heard by all, like those jokes which have no author but which everyone soon hears, Hiss remains a Dreyfus tortured for his ideals. Those Park Avenue Liberals have always hated Richard Nixon for uncovering Alger Hiss. Indirectly, it was the Hiss Case which embarrassed many of them because the shock over him led to numerous investigations. For instance, at Harvard, Hiss had roommates who innocent or guilty, were investigated and embarrassed. Guilt by association is as old as the human race and while often most unfair, it is a natural conclusion that birds of a feather somehow flock together. And one thing leading to another, many who masqueraded as intellectuals or as non-political personalities were exposed either as subversives or spies. It was a sad time for Park Avenue. Many delightful human beings were severely damaged.

Now they have their chance for revenge. They say: "I don't know why, but I always disliked Richard Nixon." "He may be a very good man but somehow he does not appeal to me." It all sounds so innocent. An upstanding Democrat does not need that sort of persiflage. He says: "I'm for Kennedy" or he says: "I'm a Democrat." A man like Jim Farley, for instance, does not need to apologize for voting for Kennedy; he always votes for a Democrat.

But these others cannot say it straight because their consciences bother them. Nixon was the man, more than any other, who broke up the conspiracy to take over America by the Communists by his intervention in the Alger Hiss matter. These Park Avenue Liberals believed that they had control of the State Department through Hiss and his empire-building coterie; they had the Treasury through Harry Dexter White. They even exerted a great influence in the White House through Lauchlin Currie. It all went geplunk when Alger Hiss went to jail and the Rosenbergs were caught stealing the atom bomb. Not all of these rich men and women were Communists but they liked to play at being extraordinary.

'Who's Dead, Sonny?

'Handy Andy' Schoeppel Of Kansas Having Rough Time In Campaign

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's Note—Drew Pearson today continues his report on some of the most interesting races in the current election campaign.)

EN ROUTE TO MIAMI—Out in Kansas shaggy-maned Sen. "Handy Andy" Schoeppel, long a fixture on Capitol Hill, is facing the fight of his life on an issue which cased the surprise defeat of another Senate so-called "fixture," John Bricker of Ohio.

Bricker, who had been governor, senator and ran for Vice President, was knocked out when Ohio voters became aroused over the huge fees drawn down by the Bricker law firm from the Pennsylvania Railroad and others with business before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee of which Bricker was ranking Republican member.

Now Andy Schoeppel is ranking Republican member of the same committee and operates one of the most successful law firms in Kansas with some interesting clients whose welfare is affected by his committee. The significance of this chairmanship is the fact that Andy's law firm represents North American Van Lines, Yellow Van and Storage, and Freightways, Inc., all potent trucking firms subject to laws shaped by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee and the Senate Surface Transportation Subcommittee.

Clients Unlisted In Directory

It may or may not be significant that Andy's law firm does not list these trucking clients in the well-known legal directory, Martindale and Hubbell. Possibly the firm has been sensitive regarding its senior member's conflicting position in the Senate. Certainly Senator Schoeppel has been sensitive in the current campaign. Probably the most significant of these, along with the trucking lines, are several oil and gas companies—Republic Natural Gas, Gulf Oil, Continental Oil, Colorado Interstate Gas, in addition to Phillips, not all of them listed in the legal directory.

Their importance lies in the fact that Schoeppel's Interstate Commerce Committee not only passes upon all members of the Federal Power Commission, but has potent influence over that commission, which in turn fixes rates, grants pipeline permits, and generally regulates the gas industry.

On top of this, Schoeppel's committee must pass on gas legislation, and he voted right down the line for the controversial natural gas bill which Eisenhower finally vetoed after revelation that lobbyist for Superior Oil had tried to bribe Sen. Some of these chickens are now coming home to roost, with the result that the strong Harris newspaper chain, normally Republican, has called for Schoeppel's defeat, charging that the Senator has been described as a "tired time-server" whose "irresponsibilty is downright dangerous" and "his ignorance pitiful."

Note—As of the beginning of the September court term, the U. S. District Court in Wichita listed 21 cases in which the Schoeppel law firm represented clients either suing the U. S. government or being sued by the government. No Senator or Congressman is permitted to get any financial reward from a case against the U. S. government, because he has taken an oath to defend the U. S. government. And while Senator Schoeppel has stated that he is not participating in any of his law firm's cases, many people wonder where the line of demarcation is drawn inside the law firm concerning Schoeppel's influence regarding federal cases.

Kennedy, Quietly Confident, Is Leading Nixon

By Joseph Alsop

EN ROUTE WITH KENNEDY

On this semi-final vote-hunting safari, the mood of the Democratic candidate is soberly confident.

The sobriety is impressive in itself. A less hard-headed man than Sen. Kennedy would be downright intoxicated by the size of the crowds he draws and the strange, vibrant rapport that he has with all these people. But from a practical political standpoint, the confidence is the interesting feature.

The first reason for this confidence that Kennedy now feels is the trend shown by his own opinion surveys. The Nixon camp has been passing out the hopeful figures produced by polls of key states by the Republican pulse-feeler, Claude Robinson. The Kennedy camp discloses none of the details of the polls taken for the Senator by Louis Harris. But it can be stated, on the best authority, that if Harris is right, Robinson ought to shut up shop.

On the same authority, it can also be said that the state-by-state results, which are often close, are less impressive than the pattern and the trend.

As to the pattern, it shows a modest-to-decisive Kennedy lead in all the big industrial states with the possible exception of Indiana, plus a real pick-up in the South. One state checks against the other. In the two most important states, New York and California, the Kennedy surveys also check with tests locally made, in New York by "The Daily News," and in California, by the Field Polling organization.

The trend of the surveys has shown a gradual but consistent movement of voters, away from Vice President Nixon, into the undecided group, and onwards to Sen. Kennedy. Ever since the first television debate, Nixon's support has been dropping, Kennedy's support has been rising. The undecided group remains large enough to swing the election in most states, and in most states, too, the proportion of undecided voters has stayed about the same.

The sobriety of the Kennedy mood is perhaps due to this persistently large number of undecided voters. But the crowds that turn out for Kennedy encourage the Kennedy camp to hope that a great many of the undecided will eventually decide for the Democrats.

There are two factors that need to be borne in mind in judging the Kennedy crowds and the comparable crowds that greet Vice President Nixon. One factor is money. The Democrats are short of cash, contrary to the common impression. The candidate's nationwide television time on Monday was within an ace of being canceled, for instance, just for want of funds to pay for it. Thus the Kennedy advance men can never attempt what the Nixon advance men have been doing as a matter of course.

In Michigan, for instance, the local Republican bigwigs boasted that no less than 90,000 telephone calls had been made to insure a big crowd at the Vice President's important rally in Grand Rapids. The Kennedy crowds turn out despite a very much smaller investment in telephone calls, in buses, and in all the other devices for getting out crowds.

As to the other crowd-factor, it is not easy to define, but it is very real nonetheless. Its nature is indicated by the striking difference between the Kennedy crowds and the Nixon crowds, which has been noted by just about every reporter who has traveled with both candidates.

Nixon, with his set speech full of "applause points," gets plenty of cheers. But between Kennedy and the people who come to see and hear him, there is this curious, electric or magnetic rapport already mentioned. It starts the old pros on the safari reminiscing about Franklin D. Roosevelt. It must, they say, "mean something," and one can hardly believe the old pros are wrong.

Finally, Kennedy has a more basic reason for his confidence at the end of the race. It derives from the way his opponent has chosen to run the race.

At the end of the Republican convention, in brief, the Vice President had positioned himself for the kind of national campaign that Gov. Nelson Rockefeller would have waged. In the field of foreign and defense policy, especially, Nixon was entirely free to offer a Rockefeller-style assessment of the national situation, and to make a Rockefeller-style appeal. Kennedy was deeply fearful that he would do so, since Kennedy's own call to the nation to "move forward" would then have sounded thin and meaningless.

Anyone who knows the Vice President well knows that he really agrees with Gov. Rockefeller. Yet he rejected the strategy which Kennedy expected him to adopt, choosing instead a Madison Ave. approach. If Kennedy is elected, this will be the rock bottom reason.

Letters To The Editor

Maurice H. Stans, Director of the Bureau of the Budget, has issued the following reply to Drew Pearson's charge of a conflict of interest arising out of Mr. Stans' former ownership of Alaska oil leases on lands administered by the Department of the Interior:

Sir:

Mr. Pearson is wrong. There is not and has not been a conflict of interest or any circumstance justifying an ethical question.

The facts are that since joining the Government in 1955, I have not received a single cent of income or profit from these leases, I now own no interest in them, and no income or interest can ever come to me, either directly or indirectly.

As part of a group of 400 individuals, I applied for these oil leases (of which I retained four, covering 10,240 acres) in 1951 and paid the regular federal rental of 25 cents per acre. The leases were approved and issued to me early in 1953. I joined the Bureau of the Budget in September of 1957, more than four years later.

On December 26, 1958, I gave my interest in them to the Alaska Charitable Trust, which I formed exclusively for "charitable, educational and religious" purposes, with a well-known Chicago lawyer as trustee. Prior to the time I thus divested myself of ownership, no agency of the Government, my knowledge, was required to take or did take any action affecting them.

The gift to the Charitable Trust is irrevocable and the trust agreement expressly states that no income or profits can ever inure to my benefit, directly or indirectly.

For five years, any income will go to charity, and at the end of five years, the trust must distribute all its assets to charity. The trust has properly filed federal tax returns, with a statement of the trust provisions, and there has been no secret as to its existence.

Mr. Pearson also says I own indirectly a 2½ per cent override in over 1,000,000 acres of oil leases. Actually, this interest was only .00125, and I gave this also to the trust.

The irony of all this attack is that the four leases are worth very little. I understand that they had a market value of only $100 each, or a total of $400, when I gave them away. Their only worth was prospective, in that oil or gas might some day be discovered, but at the time several unsuccessful wells had already been drilled.

Mr. Pearson complains that the trust has not disbursed any funds to charitable causes. There is a very good reason — unless oil is discovered within the five-year period, there will not be any income for the trust to distribute.

I do not know what more I could have done to divest myself of any personal or family interest in these leases. No portion of any income from them can ever benefit me or any member of my family. It occurred to me at the time that this was an overcautious sacrifice, but I chose to lean over backward in divesting myself of any potential benefits while in Government employ.

In my five years of service to the United States Government, I have made some other sacrifices which apparently do not interest Mr. Pearson, including giving up an annual income many times larger than the compensation I draw as Budget Director. I have not complained of this. Mr. Pearson ignores it, but attacks me for an imaginary conflict of interest on oil leases which I do not own and which will only have value if oil is discovered.

Bureau of the Budget

You're Telling Me

During medieval times, according to a noted historian, a fine suit of armor required at least a year to be produced. And, say, six months for alterations?

Polling The Editors

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — This correspondent has just completed a poll of the editors of the daily newspapers of the country, asking their confidential judgment on the outcome of the Presidential election in their own states. It was conducted by mail in the last 10 days with the understanding that no names of individuals or newspapers would be published. The assurance was given that the answers would be used only for a statistical compilation.

The number of replies was higher than in any similar poll conducted by this writer in previous Presidential elections. A total of 1,580 letters were sent, and 1,313 replies have been received thus far, or 83.1 per cent. From several states the return was 95 to 100 per cent. Polling experts agree that any such response to a mail survey is exceptionally high.

The editors were asked to mark a simple questionnaire to show whether their state is "certain" for or "leaning" toward Nixon or Kennedy.

It is significant that many editors themselves were uncertain about the outcome in their state. Some pencilled their reasons for not knowing—namely, the "religious issue," which seems to have become the biggest question mark connected with the campaign. In California, for example, only one editor is "certain" that Kennedy will win that state and only one is "certain" that Nixon will win it. Of the others, 48 says that the state is "leaning" toward Kennedy, and 27 that it is "leaning" toward Nixon, while 7 call it a "toss-up."

It's the same story of doubt by the editors in Illinois, where none is "certain" that Kennedy will take the state and only 4 are "certain" that Nixon will win it. Of the remaining 51, there are 20 who see it as "leaning" toward Kennedy and 30 as "leaning" toward Nixon, with 1 "toss-up."

If the "certain" and "leaning" for each candidate are grouped together, with somewhat more weight given to the answers marked "certain," not only are a few states so close as to be virtual "tossups," but the electoral table that results is itself close. It adds up to 290 for Kennedy and 247 for Nixon, with 269 electoral votes needed to win.

If, on the other hand, the editors' judgment in only one big state is wrong—that is, if Nixon's home state of California goes for him—the result would be turned around to a Nixon victory with 279 votes, against 258 for Kennedy.

The reason why a forecast based on either tabulation can be wrong is that many of the editors in the rural part of a state may not be familiar with the voting situation in the big cities, while editors in the big cities cannot always appraise accurately what the vote is likely to be in the rural areas, particularly this year on the socalled "religious issue."

But here is the way the actual table comes out after noting in the first four columns all the answers received up to the time of writing, and then allocating the electoral vote on the basis of the majority of the judgments in each state:

'Indigestion' Plagues High-Strung Persons

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The stomach, intestines, and other abdominal organs are influenced by bad habits and by the emotional system. Nervous tension plays a role in peptic ulcer, diarrhea, and spastic bowel. Appetite is affected by grief and anxiety.

The throat frequently "chokes up" when we are sad or angry, making swallowing difficult. A furred tongue and dry mouth go along with anxiety. Belching, bloating, and a variety of vague forms of indigestion are common among air swallowers and chronically unhappy people.

Overeating leads to obesity and excessive smoking may upset digestion and interfere with ulcer healing. Overindulgence in alcohol encourages cirrhosis of the liver as well as certain forms of pancreatitis.

It becomes obvious from this lineup why gastrointestinal complaints are so common. The word "complaints" should be emphasized because many of these conditions are more uncomfortable than serious. This includes mild cramping associated with spastic bowel and distress in the upper abdomen caused by indigestion and gas.

Almost all of us have twinges of abdominal pain from time to time as well as bouts of belching, gas, and constipation. These minor disorders are quickly forgotten except by the hypochondriac who takes a dim view of any form of distress.

The high-strung person tends to be bothered more often and takes medications that quiet or relax the body to obtain relief.

There are many sedatives and tranquilizers for this purpose, used alone or in combination with intestinal relaxants. But permanent relief is difficult to obtain unless the problem is understood —the star role played by emotions and inherent anxieties.

TOMORROW: Softened bones in oldsters.

INDIGESTION AND TV

J. S. writes: My husband spends hours watching TV slumped on the middle of his spine. Lately he has had indigestion. Could this poor sitting posture have anything to do with his digestive symptoms?

REPLY

Indigestion is a common complaint and has many origins. I doubt if sitting too long in a slumped position is responsible. We have heard of TV bottom, TV neck, phlebitis of a leg, and hardening of the coronary arteries as possible hazards of sitting in a slumped position for hours on end. However, chest pain or backache may in turn be referred to the abdomen.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Vittorio DeSica is not only Italy's great matinee idol and film editor, but an accomplished linguist: He speaks English and French as eloquently as he does Italian, and can rattle off a polite phrase in German and Spanish with facility, too. "English is absolutely required," he explains, "for discussing contracts. I need French to make time with a beautiful girl. As for Italian—that I need mostly these days when I cut myself shaving."

An anthology entitled "Letters to Sons and Daughters" contains this particularly touching note from Robert G. Ingersoll to his daughter on the occasion of her thirty-fourth birthday:

"Dear Eva: Thirty-four years of unbroken kindness, of cloudless sunshine, of perpetual joy, of constant love: Thirty-four years of happy smiles, of loving looks, of gentle words, of generous deeds! My love to one who has grown from a faultless child to be a perfect woman, wife, and mother."

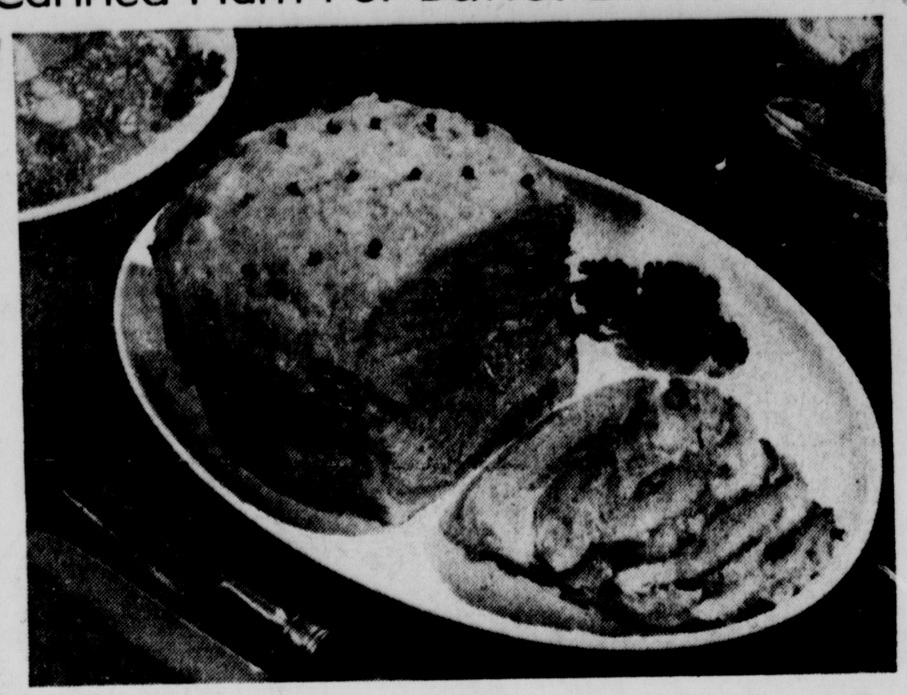
Canned Ham For Buffet Dinner



What's so unusual about serving a canned ham for a buffet dinner? Actually nothing! It's what the kitchen architect does with it to dress it up that makes it a menu highlight or just a casual entree.

And for this the homemaker has plenty of leisure time, thanks to the many packers that place canned hams on the market.

A canned ham is completely cooked when purchased. No additional cooking is necessary, only reheating. Just place the ham on a rack in an open roasting pan and heat to an internal temperature of 125 to 130° F. To do this use a moderate oven (325° F.)

It's always best to check the instructions on the label of the can for accurate results.

You can purchase a canned ham weighing between 2 and 10 pounds. There is no waste in this ham since it is completely boneless and much of the fat has been removed.

Since the flavor of cured and smoked meats intensifies when frozen, it is recommended that cured pork product not be frozen, including canned hams.

A canned ham can easily be turned into something spectacular by the use of glazes or toppings. One in particular which you might enjoy using is called Baked Canned Ham with Fruit Trio Toppinng.

The Fruit Trio Topping is spread over the top of the ham after the meat has almost completed its reheating period.

The basis for this topping is 1 ripe banana. Mash the banana with a fork . . . then drain one 8¾-ounce can of crushed pineapple and add the pineapple to the mashed banana. Stir in 2 tablespoons of defrosted orange juice concentrate and 1 tablespoon of flour. Mix these ingredients thoroughly and spread over the top of the warmed canned ham. Stud the ham with whole cloves and return the meat to the oven for an additional 15 to 20 minutes for the glaze to set. This recipe yields about 1 cup of topping. This same topping can be used on an elegant ham slice, too.

Remember, when serving this glorious canned ham for a buffet setting it is easy to keep the rest of the accompaniments simple.

A vegetable casserole, a molded salad, hot rolls and a make-ahead dessert would adequately complete the menu.

Freeze Some Breakfasts For Good Mornings Ahead

During one of the quiet days suddenly stretched because the children are back at school, bake and freeze a batch of muffins, hot cakes, and waffles for quick and easy better breakfasts in the months ahead. The same satisfying cereals that make your basic cereal and milk so nutritious, add flavor and extra nutrition to baked goods which keep superbly in the freezer, and are quick to reheat or simple to defrost.

Better Meals Build Better Families—Surprise your family with pancakes, muffins, and waffles on weekdays for this is easily feasible with a supply of these breadstuffs safely tucked away in your freezer.

Molasses Bran Muffins

2 cups whole bran cereal
½ cup molasses
1½ cups milk
1 egg beaten
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda

Soften whole bran cereal in molasses and milk (5 to 15 minutes). Add egg to first mixture. Sift together flour, salt, and soda. Combine with bran mixture. Fill greased muffin pan ⅔ full and bake in hot oven (400°F) about 20 minutes. Yield: 1 dozen medium-sized muffins.

Whole Wheat Raisin Muffins

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
½ cup seedless raisins
1 egg, beaten
½ cup milk
¼ cup melted fat
1½ cups whole wheat flakes

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar. Add raisins. Combine egg, milk, and slightly cooled fat. Add to flour mixture, stirring only enough to dampen flour. Fold in whole wheat flakes, being careful not to overmix. Fill well-greased muffin pans, 2½ inches in diameter, ⅔ full. Bake in hot oven (400°F) about 15 to 18 minutes. Yield: 12 muffins. (For small muffins, use 1¾-inch muffin pans and bake 15 minutes.) Yield: 24 small muffins.

Oatmeal Pancakes

2 cups prepared buttermilk or plain pancake mix
1 cup rolled oats, quick or regular
4 eggs
½ cup melted fat
2 cups milk

Add ingredients to mixing bowl in the order listed. Stir just until dry ingredients are moistened. Pour ¼ cup batter onto heated griddle. (Griddle is correct temperature if drops of water "dance" when sprinkled on it). Cook cakes until they are puffy, full of bubbles, and edges cooked. Turn and cook other side. Yield: 18 to 20 4½-inch cakes.

Meat Loaf De Luxe

2½ pounds ground beef
¼ cup finely chopped carrots
½ cup finely chopped onions
¼ cup finely chopped celery
¼ cup diced mushrooms
¼ cup diced parsley
½ cup tomato sauce
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 can (10½ oz.) Mushrooms in brown gravy
Parsley for garnish

Mix beef, carrots, onions, celery, diced mushrooms, diced parsley, tomato sauce, egg, salt and pepper together thoroughly. Pack mixture in loaf pan. Bake in 350° F. for 2 hours. Heat in sauce pan mushrooms in brown gravy and pour over meat loaf. Garnish meat loaf with parsley. Serves 8 to 10.

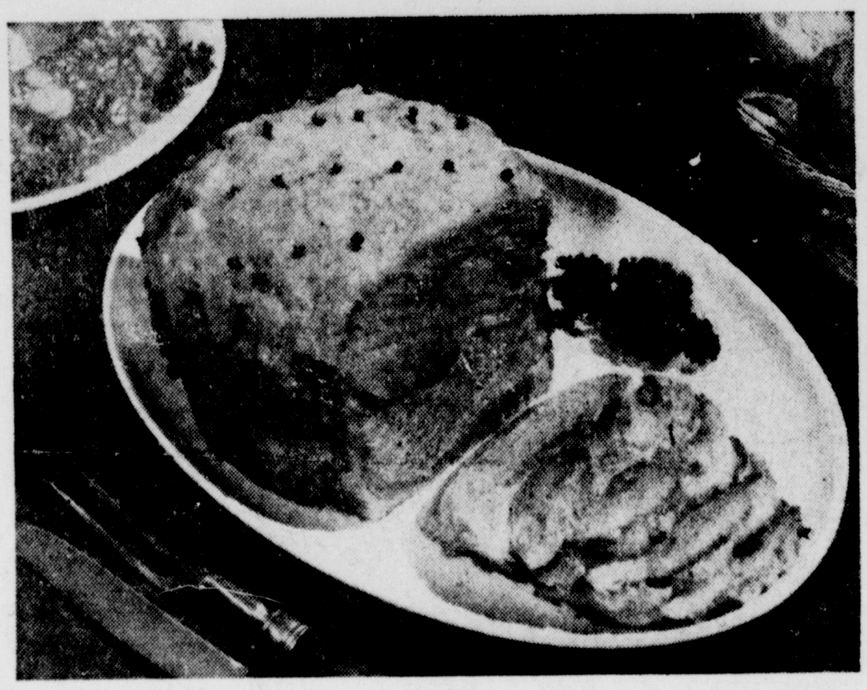
Canned Ham For Buffet Dinner



What's so unusual about serving a canned ham for a buffet dinner? Actually nothing! It's what the kitchen architect does with it to dress it up that makes it a menu highlight or just a casual entree.

And for this the homemaker has plenty of leisure time, thanks to the many packers that place canned hams on the market.

A canned ham is completely cooked when purchased. No additional cooking is necessary, only reheating. Just place the ham on a rack in an open roasting pan and heat to an internal temperature of 125 to 130° F. To do this use a moderate oven (325° F.)

It's always best to check the instructions on the label of the can for accurate results.

You can purchase a canned ham weighing between 2 and 10 pounds. There is no waste in this ham since it is completely boneless and much of the fat has been removed.

In thinking about storage, canned hams weighing over 3 pounds should be kept under refrigeration.

Since the flavor of cured and smoked meats intensifies when frozen, it is recommended that cured pork product not be frozen, including canned hams.

A canned ham can easily be turned into something spectacular by the use of glazes or toppings. One in particular which you might enjoy using is called Baked Canned Ham with Fruit Trio Toppinng.

The Fruit Trio Topping is spread over the top of the ham after the meat has almost completed its reheating period.

The basis for this topping is 1 ripe banana. Mash the banana with a fork . . . then drain one 8¾-ounce can of crushed pineapple and add the pineapple to the mashed banana. Stir in 2 tablespoons of defrosted orange juice concentrate and 1 tablespoon of flour. Mix these ingredients thoroughly and spread over the top of the warmed canned ham. Stud the ham with whole cloves and return the meat to the oven for an additional 15 to 20 minutes for the glaze to set. This recipe yields about 1 cup of topping. This same topping can be used on an elegant ham slice, too.

Remember, when serving this glorious canned ham for a buffet setting it is easy to keep the rest of the accompaniments simple.

A vegetable casserole, a molded salad, hot rolls and a make-ahead dessert would adequately complete the menu.

Freeze Some Breakfasts For Good Mornings Ahead

During one of the quiet days suddenly stretched because the children are back at school, bake and freeze a batch of muffins, hot cakes, and waffles for quick and easy better breakfasts in the months ahead. The same satisfying cereals that make your basic cereal and milk so nutritious, add flavor and extra nutrition to baked goods which keep superbly in the freezer, and are quick to reheat or simple to defrost.

Better Meals Build Better Families—Surprise your family with pancakes, muffins, and waffles on weekdays for this is easily feasible with a supply of these breadstuffs safely tucked away in your freezer.

Molasses Bran Muffins

2 cups whole bran cereal
½ cup molasses
1½ cups milk
1 egg beaten
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda

Soften whole bran cereal in molasses and milk (5 to 15 minutes). Add egg to first mixture. Sift together flour, salt, and soda. Combine with bran mixture. Fill greased muffin pan ⅔ full and bake in hot oven (400°F) about 20 minutes. Yield: 1 dozen medium-sized muffins.

Whole Wheat Raisin Muffins

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
½ cup seedless raisins
1 egg, beaten
½ cup milk
¼ cup melted fat
1½ cups whole wheat flakes

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar. Add raisins. Combine egg, milk, and slightly cooled fat. Add to flour mixture, stirring only enough to dampen flour. Fold in whole wheat flakes, being careful not to overmix. Fill well-greased muffin pans, 2½ inches in diameter, ⅔ full. Bake in hot oven (400°F) about 15 to 18 minutes. Yield: 12 muffins. (For small muffins, use 1¾-inch muffin pans and bake 15 minutes.) Yield: 24 small muffins.

Oatmeal Pancakes

2 cups prepared buttermilk or plain pancake mix
1 cup rolled oats, quick or regular
4 eggs
½ cup melted fat
2 cups milk

Add ingredients to mixing bowl in the order listed. Stir just until dry ingredients are moistened. Pour ¼ cup batter onto heated griddle. (Griddle is correct temperature if drops of water "dance" when sprinkled on it). Cook cakes until they are puffy, full of bubbles, and edges cooked. Turn and cook other side. Yield: 18 to 20 4½-inch cakes.

Meat Loaf De Luxe

2½ pounds ground beef
¼ cup finely chopped carrots
½ cup finely chopped onions
¼ cup finely chopped celery
¼ cup diced mushrooms
¼ cup diced parsley
½ cup tomato sauce
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 can (10½ oz.) Mushrooms in brown gravy
Parsley for garnish

Mix beef, carrots, onions, celery, diced mushrooms, diced parsley, tomato sauce, egg, salt and pepper together thoroughly. Pack mixture in loaf pan. Bake in 350° F. for 2 hours. Heat in sauce pan mushrooms in brown gravy and pour over meat loaf. Garnish meat loaf with parsley. Serves 8 to 10.

EASY COCKTAIL DIP

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Good heavens, you're Alice Pressley's little boy!"

Here's a quickie breakfast idea — Cinnamon Dusted Muffins. Add seedless raisins to a rich muffin batter and bake. The minute they come from the oven, roll them quickly in melted butter, then, in a sugar-cinnamon mixture.

Today's Home

CHICAGO (UPI) — The current trend toward elegance in home decor extends even to the walls, where it takes the form of two-tone stippled finishes, textured surfaces and multicolor paint jobs.

Do-it-yourselfers can achieve most of these highly decorative wall effects with the new paints on the market and a little know-how.

For a two-tone stippled effect, first paint the wall in the chosen background color, using either an alkyd or oil base paint. Use a brush or roller and allow the wall to dry. Then, select either a contrasting or harmonious stippling color and brush it out heavily on a piece of metal, wood or cardboard.

Dip a slightly damp sponge into the brushed-out paint and press it against the wall to transfer the color to the base coat in an irregular pattern. Repeat the process until the entire area is covered.

If using a special stippling brush or roller, put a full coat of the second or stippling color on the wall and pat it with the stippling brush or roller while still wet. This will remove small areas of the second color, permitting the under-color to show.

To achieve textured walls, use either texture paints or add texture powders to certain paints recommended for the purpose by paint dealers. In either case, the resulting paint has a special, heavy consistency and produces a rough, plaster-like effect that makes a good cover-up for old, scarred walls.

Brush on texture paints and pattern them while still wet by going over the wall with a special roller, sponge, comb, whisk broom, wad of crumpled paper or any other object which will produce a pattern.

Multi-color paints come ready-mixed in a wide selection of color combinations, including some with gold or silver flecks. Most of them must be sprayed on, but a few can be applied with a brush or roller.

Preparation of walls for all these special finishes is the same as for all painting jobs. Clean the surface, fill any cracks or holes with patching plaster or commercial filler and sand the surface smooth, unless using texture paint.

Quick-Fix Cheese Sauce Improves Timbales

3-Minute Cheese Sauce

One and ⅔ cups (large can) undiluted evaporated milk, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 cups (about 8-ounces) grated process American cheese.

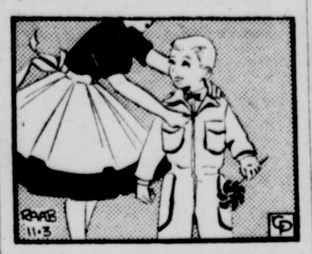
Simmer evaporated milk and salt in saucepan over low heat to just below boiling (about 2 minutes). Add cheese. Stir until cheese melts (about 1 minute longer). Add ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, if desired.

Chicken Timbales with Cheese Sauce (Makes 8 to 10 Servings)

One teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1⅔ cups (large can) undiluted evaporated milk, 4 eggs, beaten; 2 tablespoons melted butter, 3 cups finely chopped cooked chicken, 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs, ½ cup finely chopped onion, ¼ cup chopped parsley, 3-Minute Cheese Sauce.

Combine salt, pepper, evaporated milk, eggs and butter; mix well. Add chicken, crumbs, onions and parsley; mix well. Turn into buttered baking cups. Place in pan of hot water. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour, or until firm. Serve with cheese sauce. Garnish with pickle slices, if desired.

WIFE PRESERVERS



If your tot is all dressed up for a party before it's time to go, put him in a seersucker coverall to keep his good clothes fresh.

Household Hints

By United Press International

To clean a gold leaf frame, use a damp cloth only. Any abrasive causes injjry.

To remove stains and discolorations from china and earthenware, rub them with a salted cloth moistened with water.

Ink stains from a nail point pen should not be washed. Water tends to set them. A dry cleaner can usually remove the stain if the garment has not been washed.

To insure "hot" potatoes for second helpings, keep additional potatoes in the top of a double boiler or place in a covered casserole in a moderate oven until needed.

To protect metal tools against rust, all metal parts should be covered with a thin coating of petroleum jelly. The jelly keeps out the air and moisture which cause rust damage.

When purchasing cauliflower, avoid heads that have an open, ricy look. These heads are old and usually have withered and yellow leaves surrounding the head.

Use a steam iron to raise the nap on a carpet that has been matted by furniture legs. Hold the iron near the nap but not touching it.

Now from Pillsbury!

Whiter! Lighter! Finer Texture!
This different flour, milled a different way, gives bread texture like angel food cake. (See Pillsbury loaf on left.) Reason: more flour particles contain protein, so essential for better bread.

Higher cake than bread flour ever made yet!
Never before could so perfect a bread flour do so well with a cake! Cake made with new Pillsbury Flour has real volume . . . high, light and fine. And only Pillsbury mills this new flour!

Takes the "scare" right out of bread making even for beginners

Here's a flour so different that even a beginner can turn out a fine loaf of bread with it. (See pictures.)

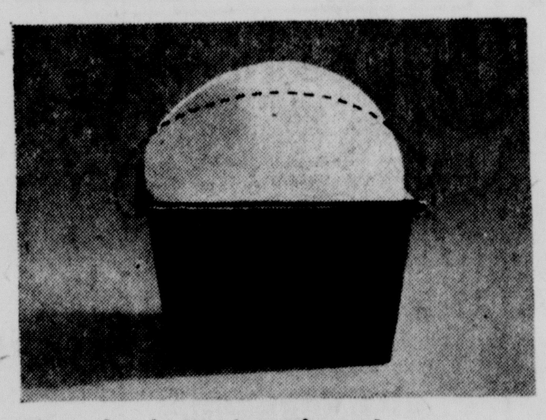
So different that one lady in Scott County tried it and, after thirty years of bread making, turned out the finest loaves of her career.

So different that even though it costs us more, we're selling it for the regular price. It will pay us in the long run. You'll buy more.

So different that your loaves will stay fresh and moist longer . . . if you can keep the family from eating them up long enough to prove it.

Making bread is a happy thing to do. It makes you feel good. And it makes you proud, when you turn out perfectly shaped, glowing loaves. Try it. Try it with this different flour.

Bread dough handles nicer!
Both doughs above have been kneaded equally; new Pillsbury Flour dough (left) already cleans board, isn't sticky. It's easy to work with! Requires shorter kneading time!



Strong dough! Won't mushroom!
Dough made with ordinary flour sometimes mushrooms. But it can't happen with Pillsbury's new Flour. This dough firms up, stands up . . . in the pan, in the oven. Better-balanced protein!

These Meat Ball Kabobs Are Wonderful On Rice

Here's a new twist on the meat ball theme: Insert a skewer through them. Then barbecue over hot coals outdoors or under the broiler indoors. Serve on rice with extra barbecue sauce. Good eating!

Barbecued Meat Ball Kabobs on Rice

(Makes 4 servings)

One pound ground beef, ½ cup rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked), 1 egg, ¼ cup chopped onion, ½ teaspoon oregano, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons milk, 16 medium-sized stuffed olives. Also: 12 medium-sized fresh mushrooms, 1 green pepper, cut in 12 pieces; 12 pineapple chunks, barbecue sauce, melted butter or margarine, buttered rice.

For meat balls, combine first 8 ingredients. Shape meat mixture around each olive, making 16 meat balls. Leave small opening at end of each olive (skewer will be inserted through olive). On four 12-inch metal skewers, alternate meat balls, mushrooms, green pepper pieces and pineapple chunks. Brush meat balls with barbecue sauce; brush mushrooms, pepper and pineapple with melted butter. Place kabobs over coals or in broiler 6 to 8 inches from source of heat. Cook about 8 minutes. Turn, brush again. Cook about 4 minutes or until done. Serve kabobs on rice with additional barbecue sauce.

How To Get Best Buys In Nutritious Foods

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Institute of Home Economics believes a "true bargain" in food is one that gives good returns in nutritional value for the money.

Such nutritional value is not necessarily the "weekend special" the lower-priced "plentiful food" of the moment, or the "best buy" of individual grocery stores, reports the home-ec arm of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Accordingly, the home economists have listed some examples of food likely to be "nutritional" bargains.

Dark-green vegetables—chard, collards, kale, mustard and turnip greens, spinach, and other dark-green leaves are exceptionally rich in vitamin A. They are excellent buys when in season and low priced. Even when in short supply and more costly, they are economical sources of this essential because they provide so much of it. Many of the dark-green leaves furnish appreciable amounts of calcium, iron, riboflavin and vitamin C.

Broccoli, counted as among the more expensive vegetables, gives good returns in vitamins and minerals. The home economists listed broccoli as a much better buy than many green vegetables that are low priced but give only small amounts of important nutrients.

Dark-yellow vegetables—carrots furnish an abundant supply of vitamin A and are generally inexpensive throughout the year. Carrots are a combination of low cost and high food value. Winter squash and the darker yellow varities of sweet potatoes also provide good amounts of vitamin A in relatin to their cost. Skins of sweet potatoes also contain worthwhile amounts of vitamin C.

Potatoes — ascorbic acid, certain of the B vitamins, and iron usually are provided economically by potatoes. These contributions make potatoes a good buy.

Cabbage—available the year round, generally at a favorable price, and is an economical buy for vitamin C.

Citrus fruits and tomatoes—oranges and grapefruit are economical buys because of their high vitamin C content. Canned and forzen juices are apt to be good buys throughout the year. Fresh fruit is most economical during the winter and spring when in season and in good market supply. Tomatoes furnish somewhat less vitamin C in a serving than citrus fruits, but they are a fairly economical source of this nutrient. Tomato juice and canned tomatoes usually are better buys than the fresh.

Dry beans and dry peas—these furnish important amounts of good-quality protein, iron, food energy, and certain of the B vitamins. With their low cost, these foods are one of the top buys in food value. They can be used as alternates for meat, or along with meat to make it go further. Either way means money saved.

Whole grain and enriched bread and cereal—generally inexpensive. The whole grain and enriched products nearly always are the best buys because they offer more food value. These foods contain worthwhile quantities of several vitamins and minerals as well as protein and calories.

Fats and sweets—very economical sources of calories. These are apt to be among the cheapest items for food energy, but this is their main contribution.

Milk — high-priced, but gives good returns in food value because of the liberal offering of calcium and valuable amounts of top-grade proteins and riboflavin. Some milk is fortified with vitamin A or D to give extra food value. Certain forms of milk are less expensive than others and thus are better bargains in nutrition. Non-fat dry milk is cheap compared to others. It furnishes about the same food value as whole milk, except that with the removal of butterfat the vitamin A content is greatly reduced and the calorie value is lowered.

Meats—there is such a wide range in price depending on the cut, grade, and kind of meat that it is difficult to point out best buys. The lean, or muscle, parts of beef, lamb, pork, and poultry are much alike in food value, except that pork is outstanding for thiamine. The home economists compare meats on the basis of the cost of a serving of the lean or meaty portion to see which is the most economical. Fish or eggs for use as meat alternates frequently can be purchased at lower cost.

Variety meats—liver contains a wealth of vitamin A, generous quantities of certain of the B vitamins, is a top source of iron, and also furnishes high-quality protein. It also provides important amounts of vitamin C, unusual in a meat. A consumer gets all this food value at low cost in use of beef, lamb, or pork liver. Calves' liver is higher priced but still rates as a good buy because of its high food value. Other variety meats such as heart and kidney also give liberal amounts of several nutrients such as protein, iron, and the B vitamins. These meats frequently are available at relatively low cost.

Between 1940 and 1955, among 35 to 45 year old married women living with their husbands, the proportion in the labor force more than doubled.

"I'm afraid Herbert has reached the age when he thinks that if he were twenty years younger he'd be irresistible to women."

Cranberry Harvest Dessert Sauce

1¾ cups jellied cranberry sauce
1 cup thick sweet applesauce
¼ cup chopped raisins
¾ cup shredded coconut
Pinch allspice

Combine all ingredients; chill.

Spiced Cranberry Dessert Sauce

1¾ cups whole berry cranberry sauce
½ cup dark brown sugar
⅛ teaspoon cinnamon

Thoroughly combine all ingredients; chill.

Cranberries Offer 'Sassy' Ideas For Dessert

When they say "Pass the sass" in New England, they mean cranberry sauce. But don't blame their Down East accent.

The Indian name for cranberries was "sassamanesh," and those time-saving Yankees have shortened it to "sass."

Three basic toppings are suggested—ranging from the lightest, "Cranberry Holiday Sauce," to "Cranberry Harvest Sauce" with coconut, to the darkest, "Spiced Cranberry Sauce." Variations on them—for ice cream, puddings and other uses—are suggested.

Finally, there's a good recipe for custard . . . and a thought on combining waffles with ice cream. Both of these particularly lend themselves to the tangy taste of cranberries in the toppings.

Cranberry Holiday Desert Sauce

1¾ cups whole or jellied cranberry sauce
½ cup raisins
⅛ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
3 tablespoon fruit juice (any favorite flavor)
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

In a saucepan, mix cranberry sauce with raisins, seasonings and juice; cook over low heat until clear and thickened, about 3 minutes. Cool. Fold whipped cream into cooled sauce. Serve cold.

Baked Cup Custard

4 eggs
¾ cup granulated sugar
3 cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
Shredded coconut

Preheat oven to 300° F. Grease 6 custard cups. Beat eggs in large bowl until fluffy. Add sugar, salt and cinnamon; beat until thick. Stir in milk and vanilla; beat to combine. Place filled cups in baking pan; place on oven rack. Fill pan with hot water to ¾ inch from top. Bake one hour, or until silver knife inserted in center of serving plate. Top with shredded custard comes out clean. Remove coconut and serve with your favfrom oven and cool. Refrigerate. orite cranberry dessert sauce. When cold, run spatula around inside of each cup and invert on Prepare waffle mix as directed on package or use frozen waffles. When waffles are cool, layer with your favorite ice cream and top with your favorite cranberry dessert sauce.

Cranberries Offer 'Sassy' Ideas For Dessert

When they say "Pass the sass" in New England, they mean cranberry sauce. But don't blame their Down East accent.

The Indian name for cranberries was "sassamanesh," and those time-saving Yankees have shortened it to "sass."

Three basic toppings are suggested—ranging from the lightest, "Cranberry Holiday Sauce," to "Cranberry Harvest Sauce" with coconut, to the darkest, "Spiced Cranberry Sauce." Variations on them—for ice cream, puddings and other uses—are suggested.

Finally, there's a good recipe for custard . . . and a thought on combining waffles with ice cream. Both of these particularly lend themselves to the tangy taste of cranberries in the toppings.

Cranberry Holiday Desert Sauce

1¾ cups whole or jellied cranberry sauce
½ cup raisins
⅛ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
3 tablespoon fruit juice (any favorite flavor)
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

In a saucepan, mix cranberry sauce with raisins, seasonings and juice; cook over low heat until clear and thickened, about 3 minutes. Cool. Fold whipped cream into cooled sauce. Serve cold.

Baked Cup Custard

4 eggs
¾ cup granulated sugar
3 cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
Shredded coconut

Preheat oven to 300° F. Grease 6 custard cups. Beat eggs in large bowl until fluffy. Add sugar, salt and cinnamon; beat until thick. Stir in milk and vanilla; beat to combine. Place filled cups in baking pan; place on oven rack. Fill pan with hot water to ¾ inch from top. Bake one hour, or until silver knife inserted in center of custard comes out clean. Remove from oven and cool. Refrigerate. When cold, run spatula around inside of each cup and invert on serving plate. Top with shredded coconut and serve with your favorite cranberry dessert sauce.

Prepare waffle mix as directed on package or use frozen waffles. When waffles are cool, layer with your favorite ice cream and top with your favorite cranberry dessert sauce.

An American Girl Learns Another Way of Life

On a German farm, the potato finds glory in the kitchen. It is made into salads and pancakes, it is boiled, baked, mashed and diced, often for two meals a day.

And now, an American girl has introduced potatoes-fried-in-ketchup. The culinary contribution of Sarah Ann House, a 20-year-old co-ed from Harrellsville, S. C., it was enjoyed heartily by the Heinrich Glasers, one of the five German families she has been living with since she arrived in Germany last April. She will return to the States, and to her classes at Wake Forest College, in Winston-Salem, N. C., in November. The Glaser farm is in Nordheim.

Sarah is one of the American young people who have been sent abroad under the International Farm Youth Exchange, sponsored in the United States by the National 4-H Club Foundation. While Sarah is in Germany, a German farm boy is living on her father's farm near Harrellsville. Some 1,000 families the world over have taken part in the program this year. The exchange is conducted for developing international understanding.

The Glasers developed a quick liking for Sarah, and she for them. Papa Glaser called her "my second daughter." Son Robert, 17, and daughter Erika, 20, adopted her as their "sister." Sarah made herself useful at once. She washed dishes, set the table, helped with the vegetable garden, did house-cleaning and laundering, and went shopping. "We're not here to learn how to farm," Sarah says. "We're here to learn about the people."

"You can smell the difference," explains Herr Heinrich Glaser, as he shows his American guest, Sarah Ann House, how to tell sugar beets from fodder beets. Sugar beets are a major crop on the Glaser farm.

As her host "mother", Frau Glaser, checks stove, Sarah Ann House prepares to set kitchen table for lunch.

Sarah joins in game of blind man's buff. Blindfolded player finally guessed her identity by perfume she wore.

Work Starts On Route 219 In Garrett Co.

OAKLAND — The George F. Hazelwood Company of here has started on the project to eliminate one of the worst curves on Route 219.

This traffic hazard, practically L shaped, is located about two miles north of McHenry and has been the scene of many accidents.

The State Roads Commission awarded the contract to the Cumberland firm for relocating 1.72 miles of the road at a cost of $435,000 a mile.

The job calls for the excavation of 300,000 cubic yards of earth and the Hazelwood company has many large pieces of earth-moving equipment working at the job.

The contract extends from the Hoye's Run Road southward to McHenry and a spokesman for the company said work will be continued until the weather causes a shutdown.

The plans call for a single lane highway, but rights-of-way have been obtained for a future dual highway.

The new roadway will be the southbound lane of the proposed highway and will be 26 feet wide.

Police Solve Theft Of Cars And Jewelry

City Police yesterday solved the theft of $695 worth of rings from a local jewelry store and the disappearance of a number of automobiles from a downtown parking lot.

Two Cumberland women were picked up by Detective Capt. James E. Van and Detectives Thomas See and Kenneth W. Morrissey in the theft of the rings.

They said the two women entered the jewelry store and while one kept the clerk busy on the pretext of buying some rings, the other woman opened a display case and took five rings valued at $695.

The rings were missed some time later by the proprietor, and police were notified.

After the women were picked up, police said, they admitted the theft and the rings were recovered.

Detective Morrissey and Lt. Donald Smith were instrumental in solving the theft of several automobiles from the parking lot.

Police said car owners were reporting their automobiles missing from the lot, or were noting that the cars had been moved and gas tanks were empty.

Two teen-age boys who were attendants at the lot had been taking the vehicles and going for "joy rides, police said.

The youths, 16 and 17 years old, were caught in one of the cars Wednesday night and were questioned by police. They admitted taking at least three cars from the lot and driving them around.

Both were released in the custody of their parents.

Post Office Buys Adjacent Property Here

The federal government has purchased the property on South Mechanic Street in the rear of the Post Office building.

A deed was recorded in the land records of Circuit Court yesterday listing the conveyance of the property from Rose E. Harbaugh to the United States of America. Tax stamps indicated the price paid for the property was $22,500.

The property fronts 33 feet on South Mechanic Street and extends back to the Gurley Garage building a distance of 108 feet. A masonry wall about four or five feet high separates the Post Office property and the Harbaugh property.

For many years the property was used for a circulating library business and was also used as a residence.

Post Office officials said that the property was bought by the government for expansion of the area where large tractor trailers and other vehicles travel in hauling mail to and from the local Post Office.

With the extra space the Post Office will have a better area for maneuvering of the mail trucks. The added property will not be used for any additional parking. The Post Office personnel which is allotted space on the present lot behind the building will continue to have a parking area.

Police Solve Theft Of Cars And Jewelry

City Police yesterday solved the theft of $695 worth of rings from a local jewelry store and the disappearance of a number of automobiles from a downtown parking lot.

Two Cumberland women were picked up by Detective Capt. James E. Van and Detectives Thomas See and Kenneth W. Morrissey in the theft of the rings.

They said the two women entered the jewelry store and while one kept the clerk busy on the pretext of buying some rings, the other woman opened a display case and took five rings valued at $695.

The rings were missed some time later by the proprietor, and police were notified.

After the women were picked up, police said, they admitted the theft and the rings were recovered.

Detective Morrissey and Lt. Donald Smith were instrumental in solving the theft of several automobiles from the parking lot.

Police said car owners were reporting their automobiles missing from the lot, or were noting that the cars had been moved and gas tanks were empty.

Two teen-age boys who were attendants at the lot had been taking the vehicles and going for "joy rides, police said.

The youths, 16 and 17 years old, were caught in one of the cars Wednesday night and were questioned by police. They admitted taking at least three cars from the lot and driving them around.

Both were released in the custody of their parents.

Post Office Buys Adjacent Property Here

The federal government has purchased the property on South Mechanic Street in the rear of the Post Office building.

A deed was recorded in the land records of Circuit Court yesterday listing the conveyance of the property from Rose E. Harbaugh to the United States of America. Tax stamps indicated the price paid for the property was $22,500.

The property fronts 33 feet on South Mechanic Street and extends back to the Gurley Garage building a distance of 108 feet. A masonry wall about four or five feet high separates the Post Office property and the Harbaugh property.

For many years the property was used for a circulating library business and was also used as a residence.

Post Office officials said that the property was bought by the government for expansion of the area where large tractor trailers and other vehicles travel in hauling mail to and from the local Post Office.

With the extra space the Post Office will have a better area for maneuvering of the mail trucks. The added property will not be used for any additional parking. The Post Office personnel which is allotted space on the present lot behind the building will continue to have a parking area.

Colts Face Green Bay In Crucial NFL Battle Sunday

Packers Have Copped Last Four Games

Avenging Of 35-21 Loss Would Give Baltimore Lead

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts are in the same position they were a year ago, but know they can't afford to lose Sunday to the Green Bay Packers.

That would leave them with a 4-3 record which they had at the same stage of the National Football League race in 1959.

They won their last five games and went on to defeat the New York Giants for the second straight year in the championship playoff.

But Coach Weeb Ewbank is certain the Colts won't be able to recoup the same way this time.

"We've got to beat the Packers if we're going to win the Western Conference," he realizes. "Nobody else is going to do it for us."

Packers Won Opener

The Packers have won four straight, including a 35-21 conquest of the Colts Oct. 9, since losing their opener to Chicago. So another victory would leave them with only one loss and two up on the Colts with six games to go.

The Colts have played one more game than Green Bay and therefore would go back into first place in the conference with five triumphs by winning Sunday.

Raymond Berry, the great pass catching end, disclosed after last Sunday's 45-7 romp over the Dallas Cowboys that the Colts were feeling worried.

But he said the decisive victory "May have broken the tension that was building up and we'll play out normal game the rest of the way."

Berry agreed with many others that the Colt troubles were due mostly to their offense. "We haven't moved the way we should," he said.

Colts Beat Themselves

When Green Bay beat them, the Packers intercepted four passes by Quarterback John Unitas and recovered two fumbles.

"We beat ourselves," declared Coach Ewbank.

"IT'S ALMOST OVERWHELMING"—That was the comment of Vernon Law of Meridian, Idaho, pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates, when he learned yesterday he had been chosen the major league's outstanding hurler for 1960. "Practically everything good that can happen to a person has happened to me this year," Law added. (AP Photofax)

Gaffney To Play Tonight; Bush To Miss Keyser Game

Bob Gaffney, Allegany High School's high scoring halfback, who limped off the field with a slightly pulled leg muscle in last Friday's game at Frederick, has participated in practice sessions this week and will see action when they meet Westminster in an important C. V. A. League game tonight at 8:30 o'clock in Westminster.

Gene Dickerson, who suffered a broken nose during practice this week, will be replaced at left guard by either Bob Wharton or Charles Dillow. Coach Ed Schwarz last night stated that Dickerson is expected to play against Beall in the afternoon game here Saturday, November 12.

Coach Jerry Calhoun yesterday announced that Don Bush, Beall's high scoring back, will miss the big game with Keyser tonight at Frostburg. Don suffered a small chip fracture of the ankle in last week's game against Charles Town and is not expected to return to action until the Allegany game.

Akron Will Stage $50,000 Golf Event

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A brand new golf tournament, with a $50,000 price tag and a restricted entry, was added Thursday to the 1961 national program.

It's the American Golf Classic, scheduled next Aug. 24-27 at Firestone Country Club's rugged 7,165-yard par 70 course where this year's PGA was staged.

The event will be an invitational affair restricted to about 100 professionals and not more than 20 amateurs.

Sets Passing Mark

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jim Luce of Augustana College (S.D.) completed 22 of 25 passes in his final collegiate game last week to break an all-time record for accuracy and take over the small college leadership in forward passing.

Luce's accuracy mark of 88 per cent against North Dakota constitues a new one-game collegiate mark and his season's total of 105 completions vaults him into first place.

Red Wings Win

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Red Wings, unleashing a spectacular display of power that recalled the great Red Wing teams of a decade ago, stormed the Boston nets for six fast goals in the third period to wipe out a three-goal deficit and win, 8-5, Thursday night.

Beall, Bruce Wins Today Mean Title Tilt Monday

Valley Will Host Mounties; Aggies Visit Westernport

Bruce High School's shutout specialists and the high scoring Mountaineers of Beall High School, tied for first place in the W.M.I. Soccer League, will swing into action today in games at Westernport and Lonaconing.

The Bulldogs, who have posted five shutout wins and had only one point scored against them, entertain the Flintstone Aggies while Beall, which is the highest scoring team in the league with 26 points, and the individual leader in Jim Duncan who has 18 tallies to his credit, tackles the Valley High Black Knights on the latter's pitch. The Beall-Valley game is scheduled for 1:30 p.m.

The deadlocked leaders own 5-0-1 records and the tie game was the 1-1 affair which they played in their initial meeting.

If Beall and Bruce win today the stage will be set for their final meeting next Monday at Frostburg where the championship will be at stake in the final game of the campaign.

Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's Mountaineers have piled up 26 points while holding the opposition to six in six games. Bruce has rolled up a total of 19 goals. Marshall Jones has accounted for eight of the Bulldogs' tallies.

Beall holds an 8-3 decision over the Black Knights while Leonard Ritchie's Bulldogs turned back Flintstone in the series opener, 3-0.

Turkey Day Game Officials Named

Four officials from West Virginia will handle the annual Thanksgiving Day football game between Allegany High School and Fort Hill High School, it was announced yesterday by John R. Shelton, president of the West Virginia Football Officials Association.

Those named are John Semon, Morgantown, referee; Robert Powell, Fairmont, umpire; John Warash, Fairmont, head linesman, and Glenn Ellis, Morgantown, field judge.

The Italian pair, Rio Marin and Santa Severa, made the trip in a cargo plane. Handlers said Santa Severa, a 3-year-old filly, took the trip well, but Rio Marin acted up and was given a sedative.

Orange Bowl Officials Will Scout Navy-Duke

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — Orange Bowl officials will scout the Duke-Navy football game Saturday and the Tennessee-Mississippi game Nov. 12 with an eye toward stocking the post-season classic here Jan. 2.

Cepeda's Two-Run Homer Gives Giants 4-2 Win In Japan

OSAKA (UPI)—Orlando Cepeda belted a two-run homer Thursday to help the San Francisco Giants defeat the Japan All-Stars, 4-2 before 30,000 fans at Nishinomiya Stadium near Osaka.

The big left fielder hit the homer in the sixth inning off southpaw Soichi Kaneda of the Kokutetsu Swallows with big Willie McCovey, who had singled, on base.

The Giants now have won five games, lost three and been tied in one game which was called 7-7 after the 10th inning because of darkness.

A total of 19 Japanese players, most of them players of the Osaka area, were used by the Japanese skipper for the day, manager Shigeru Mizuhara of the Yomiuri Giants.

Sam Jones allowed only two men to reach third in the first five innings as he held the All-Stars scoreless on three hits. But he was touched for two hits and a run in the bottom half of the sixth inning.

Righthander George Maranda took over from Jones in the seventh inning and the Japanese All-Stars threatened in the eighth inning to tie the score.

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The Pitt Panthers leave for South Bend, Ind., Friday morning determined to make the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame their second road victims of the season.

Pitt has won but a single game on the road this year. That was last Saturday's 10-0 victory over Syracuse. But off Notre Dame's showing to date, the Panthers feel confident they can hand the Irish their sixth loss of the season.

Canadiens Win, 3-1

MONTREAL (UPI)—Jean Beliveau scored a three-goal "hat trick" in the first period to power the Montreal Canadiens to a 3-1 victory Thursday night over the Toronto Maple Leafs and move into undisputed possession of first place.

The largest crowd of the season 14,747, saw Beliveau score his sixth, seventh and eighth goals of the season all in a span of 13 minutes and 26 seconds of the first period. Two of his goals were power plays.

Alderson Gridder Scores 162 Points

ALDERSON, W. Va. (UPI) — Unbeaten Alderson leads West Virginia's Class A football race and the big reason is Allan Galloway, a 6-foot-1, 175-pound speedster who is the state's leading scholastic scorer.

Galloway has scored 162 points, an average of over 20 a game as Alderson rolled over its first eight opponents. The Indians close their schedule Friday night against arch - rival Hinton at Hinton.

A victory would assure Alderson of a spot in the Class A playoff game later this month.

BOSTON (UPI)—Vern Law, the World champion Pittsburgh Pirates' "cop on the beat" all season, won the Cy Young Award Thursday as the major league pitcher of the year.

The 30-year old right-hander from Meridian, Idaho was voted the award by eight of the 16 writers who participated in the annual balloting by the Baseball Writers' Association of America. Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves received four votes and Ernie Broglio and Lindy McDaniel of the St. Louis Cardinals got one each. Two writers abstained.

Won 20 For Champs

Law, who was scouted by a United States Senator and signed by the Pirates with the aid of Bing Crosby's golden voice, had a 20-9 record and a 3.08 earned run average for the Pirates this year. He appeared in 35 games, pitched 272 innings, struck out 120 batters and walked only 40.

The 6-foot, 2-inch, 200-pounder, who is a Mormon elder, was the steady man of the staff all season—thus earning the title "cop on the beat." He stopped three Pirates losing streaks — in May, June and August—and did not experience a slump until the Pirates had all but mathematically clinched their first National League pennant since 1927.

Law also gained credit for two victories over the New York Yankees in the World Series although the writers did not consider performances in the classic when they cast their ballots.

Spotted By Senator

Law was spotted by the late Sen. Herman Welker (R-Ida.), who in 1947 tipped Crosby, a Pirate stockholder and classmate of Welker at Gonzaga College in Spokane, Wash. Several major league clubs were after Law but he decided in the Pirates' favor after Crosby made a telephone call to his mother.

Law had only so-so success with Santa Rosa in the far West league, Davenport in the Three III and New Orleans in the Southern the next three years but the Pirates were then in the throes of their rebuilding program and brought him up anyway. He was a sub-.500 pitcher for three seasons, with one year out for military service, before reaching 10-10 in 1955.

He fell to 8-16 in 1956 but then began to come fast with 10-8 and 2.86 earned run average in 1957, 14-12 in 1958 and 18-9 in 1959. He is essentially a control pitcher with a good sinker and changeup.

Previous winners of the award, named in honor of the Hall of Famer who won 511 major league games, were Don Newcombe in 1956, Spahn in 1957, Bob Turley in 1958 and Early Wynn in 1959. This is the first year in which no American League pitcher received a single vote.

NOT KING-SIZED — Recent claim that San Jose State has the "world's smallest college fullback" irked Valparaiso University so much that it presents its own pocket-sized fullback, Rick (Quick) Willer, who weighs in at 147 pounds. Willer, from North Miami, Fla., is the team's second best rusher and has carried the ball from scrimmage more than any other back.

Perry Is Gopher Ball Champ, Gave Up 35 Home Runs

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Perry of the Cleveland Indians served up 35 home run pitches during 1960 and is the gopher-ball champion of the major leagues for the year. A record 15 home runs were hit by New York Yankee batters off his pitching.

Despite the home run tendency, Perry was an 18-game winner and last week was chosen American League sophomore of the year in the annual AP poll of baseball writers.

Figures compiled by The Associated Press Thursday also disclosed that Jay Hook of the Cincinnati Reds and Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phils were the most homer-generous pitchers in the National League. Each yielded 31.

First football cheer, says National Geographic, was based on a specific American battle cry. At the Princeton-Rutgers game in 1869 the cheers were derived from the rocket yell of the 7th Regiment of New York which passed through Princeton during the Civil War.

Colts Face Green Bay In Crucial NFL Battle Sunday

Packers Have Copped Last Four Games

Avenging Of 35-21 Loss Would Give Baltimore Lead

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts are in the same position they were a year ago, but know they can't afford to lose Sunday to the Green Bay Packers.

That would leave them with a 4-3 record which they had at the same stage of the National Football League race in 1959.

They won their last five games and went on to defeat the New York Giants for the second straight year in the championship playoff.

But Coach Weeb Ewbank is certain the Colts won't be able to recoup the same way this time.

"We've got to beat the Packers if we're going to win the Western Conference," he realizes. "Nobody else is going to do it for us."

Packers Won Opener

The Packers have won four straight, including a 35-21 conquest of the Colts Oct. 9, since losing their opener to Chicago. So another victory would leave them with only one loss and two up on the Colts with six games to go.

The Colts have played one more game than Green Bay and therefore would go back into first place in the conference with five triumphs by winning Sunday.

Raymond Berry, the great pass catching end, disclosed after last Sunday's 45-7 romp over the Dallas Cowboys that the Colts were feeling worried.

But he said the decisive victory "May have broken the tension that was building up and we'll play out normal game the rest of the way."

Berry agreed with many others that the Colt troubles were due mostly to their offense. "We haven't moved the way we should," he said.

Colts Beat Themselves

When Green Bay beat them, the Packers intercepted four passes by Quarterback John Unitas and recovered two fumbles.

"We beat ourselves," declared Coach Ewbank.

"IT'S ALMOST OVERWHELMING"—That was the comment of Vernon Law of Meridian, Idaho, pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates, when he learned yesterday he had been chosen the major league's outstanding hurler for 1960. "Practically everything good that can happen to a person has happened to me this year," Law added. (AP Photofax)

Gaffney To Play Tonight; Bush To Miss Keyser Game

Bob Gaffney, Allegany High School's high scoring halfback, who limped off the field with a slightly pulled leg muscle in last Friday's game at Frederick, has participated in practice sessions this week and will see action when they meet Westminster in an important C. V. A. League game tonight at 8:30 o'clock in Westminster.

Gene Dickerson, who suffered a broken nose during practice this week, will be replaced at left guard by either Bob Wharton or Charles Dillow. Coach Ed Schwarz last night stated that Dickerson is expected to play against Beall in the afternoon game here Saturday, November 12.

Coach Jerry Calhoun yesterday announced that Don Bush, Beall's high scoring back, will miss the big game with Keyser tonight at Frostburg. Don suffered a small chip fracture of the ankle in last week's game against Charles Town and is not expected to return to action until the Allegany game.

Akron Will Stage $50,000 Golf Event

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A brand new golf tournament, with a $50,000 price tag and a restricted entry, was added Thursday to the 1961 national program.

It's the American Golf Classic, scheduled next Aug. 24-27 at Firestone Country Club's rugged 7,165-yard par 70 course where this year's PGA was staged.

The event will be an invitational affair restricted to about 100 professionals and not more than 20 amateurs.

Sets Passing Mark

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jim Luce of Augustana College (S.D.) completed 22 of 25 passes in his final collegiate game last week to break an all-time record for accuracy and take over the small college leadership in forward passing.

Luce's accuracy mark of 88 per cent against North Dakota constitues a new one-game collegiate mark and his season's total of 105 completions vaults him into first place.

Red Wings Win

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Red Wings, unleashing a spectacular display of power that recalled the great Red Wing teams of a decade ago, stormed the Boston nets for six fast goals in the third period to wipe out a three-goal deficit and win, 8-5, Thursday night.

Beall, Bruce Wins Today Mean Title Tilt Monday

Valley Will Host Mounties; Aggies Visit Westernport

Bruce High School's shutout specialists and the high scoring Mountaineers of Beall High School, tied for first place in the W.M.I. Soccer League, will swing into action today in games at Westernport and Lonaconing.

The Bulldogs, who have posted five shutout wins and had only one point scored against them, entertain the Flintstone Aggies while Beall, which is the highest scoring team in the league with 26 points, and the individual leader in Jim Duncan who has 18 tallies to his credit, tackles the Valley High Black Knights on the latter's pitch. The Beall-Valley game is scheduled for 1:30 p.m.

The deadlocked leaders own 5-0-1 records and the tie game was the 1-1 affair which they played in their initial meeting.

If Beall and Bruce win today the stage will be set for their final meeting next Monday at Frostburg where the championship will be at stake in the final game of the campaign.

Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's Mountaineers have piled up 26 points while holding the opposition to six in six games. Bruce has rolled up a total of 19 goals. Marshall Jones has accounted for eight of the Bulldogs' tallies.

Beall holds an 8-3 decision over the Black Knights while Leonard Ritchie's Bulldogs turned back Flintstone in the series opener, 3-0.

Clifton Van Roby and George Shaffer will officiate in the Beall-Valley contest while Bob Kirk and "Moose" Arnone will handle the game at Westernport.

Cepeda's Two-Run Homer Gives Giants 4-2 Win In Japan

OSAKA (UPI)—Orlando Cepeda belted a two-run homer Thursday to help the San Francisco Giants defeat the Japan All-Stars, 4-2 before 30,000 fans at Nishinomiya Stadium near Osaka.

The big left fielder hit the homer in the sixth inning off southpaw Soichi Kaneda of the Kokutetsu Swallows with big Willie McCovey, who had singled, on base.

The Giants now have won five games, lost three and been tied in one game which was called 7-7 after the 10th inning because of darkness.

A total of 19 Japanese players, most of them players of the Osaka area, were used by the Japanese skipper for the day, manager Shigeru Mizuhara of the Yomiuri Giants.

Sam Jones allowed only two men to reach third in the first five innings as he held the All-Stars scoreless on three hits. But he was touched for two hits and a run in the bottom half of the sixth inning.

Righthander George Maranda took over from Jones in the seventh inning and the Japanese All-Stars threatened in the eighth inning to tie the score.

Alderson Gridder Scores 162 Points

ALDERSON, W. Va. (UPI) — Unbeaten Alderson leads West Virginia's Class A football race and the big reason is Allan Galloway, a 6-foot-1, 175-pound speedster who is the state's leading scholastic scorer.

Galloway has scored 162 points, an average of over 20 a game as Alderson rolled over its first eight opponents. The Indians close their schedule Friday night against arch-rival Hinton at Hinton.

Biggest Winner

BALTIMORE — Biggest money-winning horse of 1960 is Bally Ache, winner of the $175,100 Preakness, who died unexpectedly on October 29. His purse earnings for ten victories were $454,545.

Frostburg State Booters Beat Mount Saint Mary's, 3-0

Kelly, Young, Garon Score Field Goals

Babcock's Bobcats Bag 4th Straight, Up Record To 5-3

Scoring field goals in the first, third and fourth periods, Frostburg State Teachers College registered its fourth straight soccer victory over Mt. St. Mary's College of Emmitsburg, Md., yesterday on a wind-swept field at Frostburg by the score of 3-0 and made its season record five wins against three losses.

The Bobcats of Coach Kenneth Babcock, who have turned back Grove City, American University, Slippery Rock and Mt. St. Mary's in that order, windup their nine-game schedule Saturday by playing Virginia Military Institute in Lexington, Va., at 11 a.m.

Kelly Scores First Goal

After a scoreless second period, Ronald "Butch" Young, inside left, scored on an assist from Roy Sigler 4 minutes after the third quarter started.

With nine minutes gone on the final heat, John Garon, substitute forward, tallied the final goal of the contest. Young received an assist on this play.

Young has scored five of the 14 goals credited to Bobcat players this season. Ed Truly has four to his credit, Scarpelli, two, and Sigler, Kelly and Garon one each. Frostburg's eight opponents also have chalked up 14 goals.

Goalies Make 21 Saves

Jeff Whitmore, Frostburg goalie, made nine saves while Jones of the Mounties had 12 to his credit. The Bobcats took 22 shots at the goal and the Frederick county team took ten. Mt. St. Mary's failed to get a corner kick and Frostburg had four.

It was the second shutout victory for the Mountain City eleven which has been blanked once this season.

Hamey Succeeds George Weiss

Roy Becomes New G.M. Of Yankees

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy Hamey, 58, succeeded George Weiss, 66, as general manager of the New York Yankees Thursday as the lastest step of a youth movement that previously resulted in the firing of 70-year-old Manager Casey Stengel.

Dan Topping, Yankee co-owner, said Hamey would work on a year-to-year basis at his own request. No terms were disclosed but Hamey was believed to have settled for somewhat less than Weiss' reported $100,000 salary.

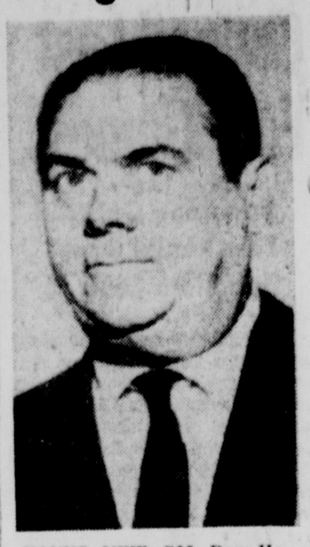
Topping said Jack White, general manager at Richmond, would be with the Yanks in 1961 but did not outline his duties.

"I am not going to meddle with success," said Hamey, who spent 19 of his 36 years in baseball in the Yankee organization. "However, we intend to intensify our efforts in the procurement of raw talent. You can't keep on winning pennants by making trades. You must develop your own.

"This is a young ball club. We certainly are not going to trade away our young players. There is no secret that we could use some pitching although our staff may be better than everybody seems to think. We will be active in the field trying to get as good a pitcher as we can afford to trade for."

Although Hamey said no deals now being considered appeared certain to be made, it was known that the Yanks are trying to get Johnny Antonelli, a left-handed pitcher, from the San Francisco Giants.

Weiss will serve in an advisory capacity after Dec. 31.



YANKS NEW GM—Roy Hamey is shown in the New York Yankees office yesterday after he was named general manager of the team. Hamey, 58, who formerly was associated with the Pirates and Phillies, succeeds George Weiss, who resigned Wednesday. (AP Photofax)

Huge Sports Center Planned In New York

Three Arenas Will Cost $38 Million

NEW YORK (UPI)—The owners of Madison Square Garden revealed plans Thursday for a vast new $38,000,000 indoor sports center and convention "city" with three different arenas including one with 25,000 seats.

The modernistic buildings, covering three city blocks at an undisclosed site, will be ready for use before the opening of the 1964 World's Fair in New York City, according to President Irving M. Felt of the Graham-Page Corporation. Graham-Paige owns the present garden.

In addition to the main arena, largest in the world, two auxiliary arenas will be built. One will seat 2,500 and the other 3,000, permitting two "fringe" sports to be staged simultaneously with a major event.

Restaurants, indoor and outdoor swimming pools, an ice skating rink, bowling lanes and parking for 3,000 cars will be included.

"I can't wait to get my hands on this new place," said Garden President Ned Irish. "The present garden was opened in 1925 when boxing was the big thing and it's now out-moded. It seats 15,000 but there are 6,000 balcony seats that're almost useless."

The main arena in the new center will have no columns at all obstructing vision and, according to architect Charles Luckman of New York, will have more than 80 per cent of its seats "practically on the 50 yard line, to borrow a football term." Few seats, he said, will be on the ends.

The new project is a bid for political and other major conventions that now by-pass New York City because of lack of facilities as well as a set-up to house hockey, basketball, the circus, horse shows and other events on the current garden schedule.

Tick Tock Scores With Hartack Up

Ulloa From Chile Has First Winner

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 3 (AP)—Howell E. Jackson's 7-year-old Tick Tock scored a neck decision over the 3-year-old Chief of Chiefs in the Erlton Purse today before 14,881 fans.

Fresh Marble set all the pace and was just another neck away in third place.

America's leading rider, Bill Hartack was up on Tick Tock, and engaged Panama's top saddlesmith, Jose Ulloa astride Chief of Chiefs from the Ada L. Rice barn. It was a pretty stretch duel with the winner just up at the wire.

Tick Tock, who was prepping for Tuesday's $20,000 added Princeton Handicap, sped the six furlongs in 1.11 4/5 and paid $5.20, $2.80 and $2.20. Chief of Chiefs returned $2.60 and $2.20 while Fresh Marble paid $2.60.

Back of the top three came Vanessa's Boy, King's Castle and Fall Wind.

Ulloa, a 20-year-old from Brunes, Chile, scored his first victory North of the border in the preceding race when he brought home New Commander in Mrs. Rice's silks.

Archie Moore Is Placed 10th Among Heavies

NBA Names Brown Boxer Of Month

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — Archie Moore, stripped of his light heavyweight title by the Naweeks ago for failing to defend tional Boxing Association two within the prescribed limit, suffered further humiliation Thursday when the N.B.A. dropped him from the light heavy weight class and rated him 10th among heavyweights.

A week following the N.B.A.'s announcement, Archie, recognized as champion in New York and Florida, dropped a 10-round decision to Italian Giulio Rinaldi.

"Archie has been weighing well over the class limit of 175 pounds and in his defeat by Rinaldi he weighed in at 190¼, failing to make the contracted 185 pounds to the pain of a $1,000 forfeit loss," explained Tony Petronella, N.B.A. committee chairman.

"It is our feeling that Moore cannot make the light heavyweight limit of 175 pounds and our view, in rating him in the heavies, is a realistic one," said Petronella.

Meanwhile, the N.B.A. named lightweight champion Joe Brown its "boxer of the month" for successfully defending his title — for a record ninth time—against Cisco Andrade on Oct. 28. Brown also kayoed battling Torres earlier in the month in a non-title fight. In releasing its monthly ratings the committee said it regarded Brown as an "exemplary champion."

Arnold Johnson's Widow Wants To Keep KC Stock

Owns 52 Per Cent, Throws Snag Into Sale Of The Club

CHICAGO (AP) — The widow of former Kansas City Athletics owner Arnold M. Johnson Thursday informed Probate Court she did not wish to sell Johnson's 52 per cent of the A's stock.

This threw a snag into expected sale of the American League club to one of two bidding groups from Kansas City and St. Louis.

The former Mrs. Johnson, now the wife of Warren W. Humes of New York City, is co-executor of the stock, along with the City National Bank of Chicago which is seeking to sell the stock.

The terms of Johnson's will state the bank and his widow must be in agreement before his 52 per cent of club stock can be sold. Johnson died on March 10.

In a closed hearing, Probate Court Judge Robert J. Dunne heard testimony from attorneys for Mrs. Humes, for the bank and for rival bidding groups from Kansas City and St. Louis, who want to buy the stock if it should be sold.

Both groups are reportedly offering around $3.5 million for the Kansas City franchise.

In addition to the football game, parents will be escorted on tours of the campus, are invited to a luncheon and to a reception following the game, and will be serenaded in the evening by the glee club and a band concert.

McKeever's Condition Reported Satisfactory

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Mike McKeever, outstanding University of Southern California guard, was in satisfactory condition Thursday at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, where he is recovering from a Tuesday night brain operation.

McKeever was kicked in the head during a pileup in last Saturday's Stanford game, apparently causing a blood clot on the right side of his brain. Doctors also found another blood clot, which they said might have been as much as two years old.

They declared McKeever out for the season. He might never play football again, ruining all chances of Mike and his twin brother Marlin entering professional play as a team, just as they have been through high school and college.

Heavy Title Bout "90 Per Cent Set"

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson said Thursday a third title fight with Sweden's Ingemar Johansson was "90 per cent set" for some time between next January and March.

The likely sites are Miami or Los Angeles if the fight is held outdoors and New York if held indoors, he said. An indoor bout is a remote possibility, however.

The poised and articulate champion stressed that if the fight were held in Miami he would have to be certain there would be no segregated seating. Patterson is a Negro.

Bowl Game Proposed To Aid Families Of Plane Crash Victims

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The California Collegiate Athletic Association Thursday waited NCAA approval on its proposal to stage a benefit bowl game to aid the families of California Polytechnic football players killed or injured in last Saturday's plane crash at Toledo.

Dr. Ferron Losee, Los Angeles State College athletic director, proposed the game and two of the top small colleges in the country, undefeated Fresno State and Bowling Green, both enthusiastically agreed they would like to participate.

Cal Poly was returning from a game with Bowling Green when the chartered plane crashed with a loss of 22 lives, 17 of them players.

Journey Canceled

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—The DeSoto Lakes Open Golf Tournament, tentatively scheduled for Bradenton next March, has been canceled, an official of the Professional Golfers Association said Thursday.

The DeSoto event was set for the week after the St. Petersburg Open. Ed Carter, PGA tournament director, said officials felt that holding one tournament only a few miles from another within the space of a week could endanger the success of both.

Hamey Succeeds George Weiss

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy Hamey, 58, succeeded George Weiss, 66, as general manager of the New York Yankees Thursday as the lastest step of a youth movement that previously resulted in the firing of 70-year-old Manager Casey Stengel.

Dan Topping, Yankee co-owner, said Hamey would work on a year-to-year basis at his own request. No terms were disclosed but Hamey was believed to have settled for somewhat less than Weiss' reported $100,000 salary.

Topping said Jack White, general manager at Richmond, would be with the Yanks in 1961 but did not outline his duties.

"I am not going to meddle with success," said Hamey, who spent 19 of his 36 years in baseball in the Yankee organization. "However, we intend to intensify our efforts in the procurement of raw talent. You can't keep on winning pennants by making trades. You must develop your own.

"This is a young ball club. We certainly are not going to trade away our young players. There is no secret that we could use some pitching although our staff may be better than everybody seems to think. We will be active in the field trying to get as good a pitcher as we can afford to trade for."

Although Hamey said no deals now being considered appeared certain to be made, it was known that the Yanks are trying to get Johnny Antonelli, a left-handed pitcher, from the San Francisco Giants.

Weiss will serve in an advisory capacity after Dec. 31.

Handley At Fort Hill, Allegany Invades Westminster

Three Schools Waging Title Fight In PVC

Beall Entertains Keyser; Southern Visits Petersburg

Coach Charley Lattimer's Fort Hill Sentinels put a 7-0 record on the line when they face the Judges of Handley High School tonight at 8 o'clock at the stadium and they figure to make it eight in a row for the campaign over a Virginia team that has only one victory to its credit in seven outings.

Handley is no longer represented in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League and will be the third non-league opponent of the Sentinels who are 5-0 on conference play.

The only CVAL team met by Handley this season is Westminster which beat Coach Hunter Waddex's eleven by the score of 27-66. Fort Hill handed the Owls from Carroll County a 21-0 setback. Handley's 10-game schedule includes games with seven Virginia schools, Westminster, Fort Hill and Martinsburg.

Fort Hill and Handley will be meeting for the 16th time since 1937 and the locals have a 10-4 edge in wins. One game ended in a tie. The Sentinels have copped the last five games of the series.

Allegany Visits Owls

Allegany High School's Campers need a win to tie Fort Hill for first place in the C.V.A.L. and they hope to attain that goal tonight when they lock horns with Herb Ruby's Owls at Westminster. This game is set for 8:30 o'clock.

Coach Ed Schwarz's gridders are 7-0 for the season, own a two-year winning streak of nine games and have won four in a row in the league. Allegany never has beaten Westminster on the gridiron, losing four straight to the Owls opened in 19566. Last week Westminster (1-2-1) posted its first league victory by thumping the Bulldogs at Martinsburg, 46-0. Allegany holds a 42-0 decision over the West Virginians.

PVC Title At Stake

The Potomac Valley Conference lowers the curtain on its 1960 campaign today and the final games will determine the championship.

Jerry Calhoun's Beall Mountaineers are in the driver's seat at the present time with a 3-0 record and they can capture their first conference football crown if they defeat Keyser under the lights tonight in Frostburg.

Keyser (3-1) can retain the title it shared with the West Virginia School for the Deaf the past two years if it wins at Beall and Petersburg (5-1) is upset by Southern's Highlanders.

Vikings Have Chance

The Petersburg-Southern game is set for 2 p.m., today at Petersburg. Coach Wayne Barr's Vikings can annex the title for the first time in the 24-year history of the P.V.C. if they win over the Garrett countians and Keyser tops Beall.

Beall has lost seven games in a row to Keyser, hasn't beaten the Golden Tornado since 1951 and trails in the series eight games to three.

Petersburg leads in its series with Southern at 3-1-1. The Highlanders, coached by Earl Adolfson, have a 4-3 overall record and are 2-2 in the conference this season.

Ridgeley at Hancock

Coach Tom O'Connor's Ridgeley Blackhawks lower the curtain on their nine-game schedule by battling Paul Imphong's Hancock High eleven today at 2 p.m. in Washington county.

This also will be the last game of the season for Hancock which has won four games and lost two. Ridgeley is 5-3 in games played to date.

The Friday schedule is rounded out by C.V.A.L. contests at Martinsburg and Hagerstown.

North, South Tangle

North Hagerstown, winless and tie once in seven games played thus far, tackles the Rebels of South Hagerstown (1-5-2) in the Hub city tonight. Both teams have failed to win a league game. Mel Henry's eleven is 0-4-1 and Doug Cochran's Rebels are 0-3-1 in the seven-school circuit.

Frederick's Cadets (3-2-0) oppose the Martinsburg Bulldogs (1-3-1) in a league tilt tonight in Martinsburg.

Coliseum Is Made Available For AL

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The baseball and scheduling committees of the Coliseum Thursday agreed to permit a new American League baseball team to play in the stadium in 1961 on the same basis and terms as the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The committee's recommendation will be placed before a full meeting of the commission Thursday for approval.

At the same time, the two committees, meeting jointly, passed on the Dodgers' 1961 dates and agreed that if the National League club was not in its own stadium at the start of the 1962 season, it would be permitted to use the Coliseum until its own park is finished.

Big Nick Passes On 1923 Bulldogs Star

JVs Grab Spotlight Archer Sets Record

By C. V. BURNS

THE DEATH of Somerville Nicholson this week set many of the "oldtimers" to reminiscing.

They retraced the jolly, big fellow's athletic career back to his high school days when he played football at Allegany County Academy on Washington street, his performances as a member of "Uncle Bill" Lewis' Knights of Goodfellowship quint that won the City Basketball League championship in 1914-15, his selection as All-Maryland center in 1916-17 when he played football at Western Maryland College, and last but not least his brilliant play as regular center of the Cumberland Bulldogs football team in 1922 and 1923.

Nick, as he was more familiarly known by his many friends, was fullback and captain of the Allegany County Academy eleven in 1912.

In 1922, Raymond "Ike" Law organized the Cumberland Bulldogs football team which played its games at South End Park and Nicholson was the pivot man on that eleven.

When James K. Ford, James F. "Jimmy" McGuire and Irving Millenson formed the Mid City Baseball Association late in 1922 Mid City Park was built on Wineow Street for the Colts and Law's Bulldogs played their home games their in 1923.

The Bulldogs of 1923 was the best independent eleven ever to represent Cumberland. Nicholson was the center on the team whose personnel embraced many former college players. The roster included Fred "Ike" Mills, George Parrish, Glyn Davis, Joe Elliott, Roscoe Bartlett, Johnny Cain, "Dutch" Schutte, Eddie Costello, "Puss" Watson, Holly Keller and Valentine "Dutch" Lentz, one of the state's greatest all-around athletes of that era.

Independent football was a popular sport in those days and the Bulldogs' classy 1923 club beat such highly touted Pennsylvania elevens as the California Yellowjackets, Victoria Indians of Altoona, Connellsville Tornadoes, Mount Pleasant, United, etc. All those teams were loaded with former collegians. Stan Keck, the All-American tackle from Princeton was among the many topnotchers who played here.

Herb Armstrong, now an official of the Baltimore Orioles, came here to referee one of the more important games played by the Bulldogs.

The ageless "Ike" Law, who still keeps spry by bowling in several different leagues and teaching youngsters to swim, describes Nicholson as one of the "most conscientious" athletes he has ever known.

"He loved to play football and when he was with the Bulldogs his fighting spirit seemed to inspire his teammates," Law declared.

Nicholson, who died Monday at the age of 63, earned a football letter at West Virginia University where he played center and tackle. He was on the Keyser Collegians basketball team one season, and also played football for the Strip A. C., operated in the 1920s by Art Rooney, now president of the Pittsburgh Steelers, and his brother Dan Rooney, now a Catholic priest.

In 1923-24, Nicholson was head basketball coach at Allegany County High School on Greene Street and he also coached several Central YMCA quints.

Later he was catcher for the B.P.O. Elks in the Cumberland Twilight League which included Derby Stakem's Bathing Beauties, Clement Bray's Orchestra, City Hall, Liberty Street Hustlers, etc. The Bathing Beauties got that name because a swimming pool was once located in the building now occupied by the Club bowling alleys.

Our first contact with Nicholson was 40 years ago when we started our newspaper career. Nick was a reporter on the Daily News. So were Isaac Love, Garland Magruder and Harold Krimm.

In our book Nicholson was a great guy. Many of his friends referred to him as "Some Nick" and he was just that.

SOMERVILLE NICHOLSON
(1923 Bulldogs' Center)

WHEN the Fort Hill Jayvees windup their season Monday, November 14, with Allegany they'll be putting a 12-game winning streak on the line and they'll be striving to beat the Little Campers for the fourth straight year.

Since late in 1957 when they lost to the Northern High varsity eleven 19-7, Coach John Frank's teams have gone undefeated in 23 consecutive games. The Little Sentinels have won 22 of those games. Since the 6-6 tie with Keyser in the initial game of the 1959 season, Fort Hill has bagged 12 in a row, including a 6-0 mark this season.

The Little Sentinels won the last two games of the 1957 season from Keyser 13-12 and Allegany 6-0.

In 1958 they copped eight in a row from Keyser 20-0 and 18-0, Ridgeley 12-0, Romney 19-7, LaSalle 26-0, Beall 28-0, Hancock varsity 34-14 and Allegany 32-0.

After the 6-6 deadlock with Keyser in 1959 they wound up with 6-0-1 by trimming Ridgeley 22-0, Romney 21-0, Keyser 26-7, Beall 33-6, LaSalle 33-0 and Allegany 32-0.

This season the Little Sentinels have beaten Keyser 12-7 and 20-6 LaSalle 13-7 and 20-0 and Beall 32-6 and 20-0.

John Frank, native of Frostburg, is head coach of the Fort Hill Jayvees for the fourth straight year. Ed Dawson and Clem Dawson are his assistants. All are graduates of Frostburg State Teachers College.

EDGAR BARRETT, sports publicist for West Virginia University, points out that a record of dubious but remarkable distinction has been chalked up in the past six weeks.

After playing West Virginia, every team on the schedule has either lost or tied the following week.

'Taint funny, however, because the same fate befell the Mountaineers. They are winless this season.

Maryland lost to Texas, Virginia Tech to Clemson, Illinois to Ohio State, Richmond to The Citadel, Pitt was tied by Texas Christian, and Syracuse lost to Pitt.

Barrett remarks that the Mountaineers believed it was delayed reaction and adds that these teams should have slipped a week sooner.

JOE BOGNANNI, of Baltimore, has established a new archery deer kill record for Maryland.

He downed a nine-point, 240-pound buck in Dorchester county. The animal dressed out at 197 pounds when checked at Salem.

Officials of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission claim it's the biggest deer dropped with a bow and arrow since the archers first got their special season in 1951.

Phaeton Wins Laurel Race

Veteran Nick Shuk Rings Up "Triple"

LAUREL, Md., Nov. 3 (AP)—With Karl Korte riding with great confidence, F. Ambrose Clark's Phaeton regained the lead in the late stages of the Capitol Hill Purse, featured eighth race here today, and gained a photo decision at $4.60 for $2.

It was the second win of the program for the Clark Stable and Phaeton scored by a neck from Tinkham Vealle's Alsvin, who was about three and a half panels to the good of Mrs. Daniel Shea's Cold Cut.

The Clark Stable, of New York, won the sixth race with Prince Fearless, who was ridden by Frankie Lovato and was eight lengths in front of his nearest opponent at the end of a seven furlongs test.

Phaeton traveled six furlongs over a fast track in the Capitol Hill and was in front on the turn, but gave up command to Alsvin as the field of seven starters straightened away in the stretch.

Korte found it necessary to get after Phaeton with heels and whip to regain the lead on the inside in the final sixteenth of a mile and to ride out the three quarters of a mile in 1.12 3/5.

Veteran Nick Shuk shared saddle honors for the date with Korte when he rode three of the first five winners. The popular Maryland reinsman won the first and second races with Terrace Park and Waltzing Harp to complete a $109.60 daily double.

He returned in the fifth race to score his easiest win of the afternoon on River Oaks Stable's Money Engineer, who returned only $5.20 to the form players.

Everett Scott, 67, Ex-Infielder, Dies

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UPI) — Everett (Deacon) Scott, 67, who played 13 years in major league baseball and once held the record for most consecutive games, died Wednesday.

Scott, who broke into the majors with the Boston Red Sox in 1914, had been ill for a long period.

He was an infielder, mainly a shortstop, and later played four years with the New York Yankees including two World Series. His lifetime batting average was .249.

Scott's consecutive games record of 1,307 was later eclipsed by the Yankees' Lou Gehrig with 2,130.

Handley At Fort Hill, Allegany Invades Westminster

Beall Entertains Keyser; Southern Visits Petersburg

Coach Charley Lattimer's Fort Hill Sentinels put a 7-0 record on the line when they face the Judges of Handley High School tonight at 8 o'clock at the stadium and they figure to make it eight in a row for the campaign over a Virginia team that has only one victory to its credit in seven outings.

Handley is no longer represented in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League and will be the third non-league opponent of the Sentinels who are 5-0 on conference play.

The only CVAL team met by Handley this season is Westminster which beat Coach Hunter Maddex's eleven by the score of 27-66. Fort Hill handed the Owls from Carroll County a 21-0 setback. Handley's 10-game schedule includes games with seven Virginia schools, Westminster, Fort Hill and Martinsburg.

Fort Hill and Handley will be meeting for the 16th time since 1937 and the locals have a 10-4 edge in wins. One game ended in a tie. The Sentinels have copped the last five games of the series.

Allegany Visits Owls

Allegany High School's Campers need a win to tie Fort Hill for first place in the C.V.A.L. and they hope to attain that goal tonight when they lock horns with Herb Ruby's Owls at Westminster. This game is set for 8:30 o'clock.

Coach Ed Schwarz's gridders are 7-0 for the season, own a two-year winning streak of nine games and have won four in a row in the league. Allegany never has beaten Westminster on the gridiron, losing four straight to the Owls opened in 19566. Last week Westminster (1-2-1) posted its first league victory by thumping the Bulldogs at Martinsburg, 46-0. Allegany holds a 42-0 decision over the West Virginians.

PVC Title At Stake

The Potomac Valley Conference lowers the curtain on its 1960 campaign today and the final games will determine the championship.

Jerry Calhoun's Beall Mountaineers are in the driver's seat at the present time with a 3-0 record and they can capture their first conference football crown if they defeat Keyser under the lights tonight in Frostburg.

Keyser (3-1) can retain the title it shared with the West Virginia School for the Deaf the past two years if it wins at Beall and Petersburg (5-1) is upset by Southern's Highlanders.

Vikings Have Chance

The Petersburg-Southern game is set for 2 p.m., today at Petersburg. Coach Wayne Barr's Vikings can annex the title for the first time in the 24-year history of the P.V.C. if they win over the Garrett countians and Keyser tops Beall.

Beall has lost seven games in a row to Keyser, hasn't beaten the Golden Tornado since 1951 and trails in the series eight games to three.

Petersburg leads in its series with Southern at 3-1-1. The Highlanders, coached by Earl Adolfson, have a 4-3 overall record and are 2-2 in the conference this season.

Ridgeley at Hancock

Coach Tom O'Connor's Ridgeley Blackhawks lower the curtain on their nine-game schedule by battling Paul Imphong's Hancock High eleven today at 2 p.m. in Washington county.

This also will be the last game of the season for Hancock which has won four games and lost two. Ridgeley is 5-3 in games played to date.

The Friday schedule is rounded out by C.V.A.L. contests at Martinsburg and Hagerstown.

North, South Tangle

North Hagerstown, winless and tie once in seven games played thus far, tackles the Rebels of South Hagerstown (1-5-2) in the Hub city tonight. Both teams have failed to win a league game. Mel Henry's eleven is 0-4-1 and Doug Cochran's Rebels are 0-3-1 in the seven-school circuit.

Frederick's Cadets (3-2-0) oppose the Martinsburg Bulldogs (1-3-1) in a league tilt tonight in Martinsburg.

Coliseum Is Made Available For AL

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The baseball and scheduling committees of the Coliseum Thursday agreed to permit a new American League baseball team to play in the stadium in 1961 on the same basis and terms as the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The committee's recommendation will be placed before a full meeting of the commission Thursday for approval.

At the same time, the two committees, meeting jointly, passed on the Dodgers' 1961 dates and agreed that if the National League club was not in its own stadium at the start of the 1962 season, it would be permitted to use the Coliseum until its own park is finished.

Big Nick Passes On 1923 Bulldogs Star

JVs Grab Spotlight Archer Sets Record

By C. V. BURNS

THE DEATH of Somerville Nicholson this week set many of the "oldtimers" to reminiscing.

They retraced the jolly, big fellow's athletic career back to his high school days when he played football at Allegany County Academy on Washington street, his performances as a member of "Uncle Bill" Lewis' Knights of Goodfellowship quint that won the City Basketball League championship in 1914-15, his selection as All-Maryland center in 1916-17 when he played football at Western Maryland College, and last but not least his brilliant play as regular center of the Cumberland Bulldogs football team in 1922 and 1923.

Nick, as he was more familiarly known by his many friends, was fullback and captain of the Allegany County Academy eleven in 1912.

In 1922, Raymond "Ike" Law organized the Cumberland Bulldogs football team which played its games at South End Park and Nicholson was the pivot man on that eleven.

When James K. Ford, James F. "Jimmy" McGuire and Irving Millenson formed the Mid City Baseball Association late in 1922 Mid City Park was built on Wineow Street for the Colts and Law's Bulldogs played their home games their in 1923.

The Bulldogs of 1923 was the best independent eleven ever to represent Cumberland. Nicholson was the center on the team whose personnel embraced many former college players. The roster included Fred "Ike" Mills, George Parrish, Glyn Davis, Joe Elliott, Roscoe Bartlett, Johnny Cain, "Dutch" Schutte, Eddie Costello, "Puss" Watson, Holly Keller and Valentine "Dutch" Lentz, one of the state's greatest all-around athletes of that era.

Independent football was a popular sport in those days and the Bulldogs' classy 1923 club beat such highly touted Pennsylvania elevens as the California Yellowjackets, Victoria Indians of Altoona, Connellsville Tornadoes, Mount Pleasant, United, etc. All those teams were loaded with former collegians. Stan Keck, the All-American tackle from Princeton was among the many top-notchers who played here.

Herb Armstrong, now an official of the Baltimore Orioles, came here to referee one of the more important games played by the Bulldogs.

The ageless "Ike" Law, who still keeps spry by bowling in several different leagues and teaching youngsters to swim, describes Nicholson as one of the "most conscientious" athletes he has ever known.

"He loved to play football and when he was with the Bulldogs his fighting spirit seemed to inspire his teammates," Law declared.

Nicholson, who died Monday at the age of 63, earned a football letter at West Virginia University where he played center and tackle. He was on the Keyser Collegians basketball team one season, and also played football for the Strip A. C., operated in the 1920s by Art Rooney, now president of the Pittsburgh Steelers, and his brother Dan Rooney, now a Catholic priest.

In 1923-24, Nicholson was head basketball coach at Allegany County High School on Greene Street and he also coached several Central YMCA quints.

Later he was catcher for the B.P.O. Elks in the Cumberland Twilight League which included Derby Stakem's Bathing Beauties, Clement Bray's Orchestra, City Hall, Liberty Street Hustlers, etc. The Bathing Beauties got that name because a swimming pool was once located in the building now occupied by the Club bowling alleys.

Our first contact with Nicholson was 40 years ago when we started our newspaper career. Nick was a reporter on the Daily News. So were Isaac Love, Garland Magruder and Harold Grimm.

In our book Nicholson was a great guy. Many of his friends referred to him as "Some Nick" and he was just that.

SOMERVILLE NICHOLSON
(1923 Bulldogs' Center)

WHEN the Fort Hill Jayvees windup their season Monday, November 14, with Allegany they'll be putting a 12-game winning streak on the line and they'll be striving to beat the Little Campers for the fourth straight year.

Since late in 1957 when they lost to the Northern High varsity eleven 19-7, Coach John Frank's teams have gone undefeated in 23 consecutive games. The Little Sentinels have won 22 of those games. Since the 6-6 tie with Keyser in the initial game of the 1959 season, Fort Hill has bagged 12 in a row, including a 6-0 mark this season.

The Little Sentinels won the last two games of the 1957 season from Keyser 13-12 and Allegany 6-0.

In 1958 they copped eight in a row from Keyser 20-0 and 18-0, Ridgeley 12-0, Romney 19-7, LaSalle 26-0, Beall 28-0, Hancock varsity 34-14 and Allegany 32-0.

After the 6-6 deadlock with Keyser in 1959 they wound up with 6-0-1 by trimming Ridgeley 22-0, Romney 21-0, Keyser 26-7, Beall 33-6, LaSalle 33-0 and Allegany 32-0.

This season the Little Sentinels have beaten Keyser 12-7 and 20-6 LaSalle 13-7 and 20-0 and Beall 32-6 and 20-0.

John Frank, native of Frostburg, is head coach of the Fort Hill Jayvees for the fourth straight year. Ed Dawson and Clem Dawson are his assistants. All are graduates of Frostburg State Teachers College.

EDGAR BARRETT, sports publicist for West Virginia University, points out that a record of dubious but remarkable distinction has been chalked up in the past six weeks.

After playing West Virginia, every team on the schedule has either lost or tied the following week.

'Taint funny, however, because the same fate befell the Mountaineers. They are winless this season.

Maryland lost to Texas, Virginia Tech to Clemson, Illinois to Ohio State, Richmond to The Citadel, Pitt was tied by Texas Christian, and Syracuse lost to Pitt.

Barrett remarks that the Mountaineers believed it was delayed reaction and adds that these teams should have slipped a week sooner.

JOE BOGNANNI, of Baltimore, has established a new archery deer kill record for Maryland.

He downed a nine-point, 240-pound buck in Dorchester county. The animal dressed out at 197 pounds when checked at Salem.

Officials of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission claim it's the biggest deer dropped with a bow and arrow since the archers first got their special season in 1951.

Phaeton Wins Laurel Race

Veteran Nick Shuk Rings Up "Triple"

LAUREL, Md., Nov. 3 (AP)—With Karl Korte riding with great confidence, F. Ambrose Clark's Phaeton regained the lead in the late stages of the Capitol Hill Purse, featured eighth race here today, and gained a photo decision at $4.60 for $2.

It was the second win of the program for the Clark Stable and Phaeton scored by a neck from Tinkham Vealle's Alsvin, who was about three and a half panels to the good of Mrs. Daniel Shea's Cold Cut.

The Clark Stable, of New York, won the sixth race with Prince Fearless, who was ridden by Frankie Lovato and was eight lengths in front of his nearest opponent at the end of a seven furlongs test.

Phaeton traveled six furlongs over a fast track in the Capitol Hill and was in front on the turn, but gave up command to Alsvin as the field of seven starters straightened away in the stretch.

Korte found it necessary to get after Phaeton with heels and whip to regain the lead on the inside in the final sixteenth of a mile and to ride out the three quarters of a mile in 1.12 3/5.

Veteran Nick Shuk shared saddle honors for the date with Korte when he rode three of the first five winners. The popular Maryland reinsman won the first and second races with Terrace Park and Waltzing Harp to complete a $109.60 daily double.

He returned in the fifth race to score his easiest win of the afternoon on River Oaks Stable's Money Engineer, who returned only $5.20 to the form players.

Everett Scott, 67, Ex-Infielder, Dies

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UPI) — Everett (Deacon) Scott, 67, who played 13 years in major league baseball and once held the record for most consecutive games, died Wednesday.

Scott, who broke into the majors with the Boston Red Sox in 1914, had been ill for a long period.

He was an infielder, mainly a shortstop, and later played four years with the New York Yankees including two World Series. His lifetime batting average was .249.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your advice to the parents whose child was born blind was inadequate. A book by Helen Keller may be a comfort, but much more can be done for these people. May I tell you—so you can tell others?

Twelve years ago my husband (who was 23 at the time) was injured in an automobile accident. It left him totally blind. We thought it was the end of the world. We had the popular misconception that blind people were useless, and that there was no future beyond selling pencils or making brooms.

After a year of pure hell a friend told us about the New York State Commission for the Blind. We later learned that most states have a similar setup for partially blind as well as the totally sightless. There are also private agencies which offer services free of charge.

With the help of an agency my husband went to college and got a master's degree in sociology. He now works with handicapped children. We lead a normal, productive life and have three fine sons.

Blindness is the end of one road of course—but the next road can be smooth and exciting as well, if people know where to go for help. In America no one needs to suffer as we did. Please, won't you pass this word along?—Mrs. C. J.

DEAR MRS. C. J.: This letter will appear in 397 newspapers and millions of people will see it, thanks to you. It is service such as this that makes my work a genuine thrill. God bless you and my thanks for writing.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I used to think you made up some of the letters in your column, but after this experience in our own family I would believe ANYTHING.

Our son went with a lovely girl for two years. The girl's father died when she was 13 and she and her mother were like sisters. We knew they were close—but we didn't realize they were crazy.

We should have known something was wrong when the mother moved to the college town and took a selling job to be near her daughter.

After graduation, B and J had a nice wedding. On the wedding night, J complained of a sideache and a headache. The next day she said her eyes hurt. That night her back ached. The next morning she left him a note saying she couldn't bear to think of her mother alone, so she had taken the bus home.

What can our son do?

—SHOCKED PARENTS

DEAR SHOCKED PARENTS: The only thing your son can do is get his wife (?) to a psychiatrist. He can't force her to go, however; she'd have to consent—and this may be a real problem.

People often disguise sick behavior under such fancy labels as "filial love" and "family devotion." If the girl won't get help, he should see his clergyman and a lawyer—in that order.

Market Advances Again But Volume Declines

NEW YORK (UI) — After deliberating throughout most of the session Thursday traders decided to grant the stock market a gain — its fourth in as many days.

The gain, a small one, came on decreased volume and in the wake of cautious advice by brokers attempting to assess the relative merits of the two presidential candidates.

Election guessing took precedence over other matters, even the day's business background which revealed a downturn in auto production, a 65 per cent boost in copper consumption, and the second straight week of lower carloadings.

The copper report may have helped that group to outperform the industrialist while rail buyers ignored the carloadings to give the carriers another strong pick-up on average. Prime gainers in both groups included Magma Copper 3½; Phelps-Dodge 1½, Anaconda 1¼, Kennecott 1, Union Pacific ⅞, Norfolk & Western 1⅞ and Kansas City Southern ⅞.

Most other groups were mixed with individual issues responding to corporate developments.

General Tire & Rubber, which said it will report a 20 per cent drop in earnings for this fiscal year, jumped 2 points. Lionel, which reported a good third quarter, lost ⅜ as traders took profits on the news.

Hammond Organ fell ⅞ in continued reaction to a 70,000 share offering to stockholders. Borden, up 4 Wednesday on news it is marketing a new weight-control food, lost ⅜ Thursday. George Roper, a manufacturer of gas and oil heaters 48 per cent owned by Sears, Roebuck, rose 1⅞. Sears added ⅜.

Market Advances Again But Volume Declines

NEW YORK (UI) — After deliberating throughout most of the session Thursday traders decided to grant the stock market a gain — its fourth in as many days.

The gain, a small one, came on decreased volume and in the wake of cautious advice by brokers attempting to assess the relative merits of the two presidential candidates.

Election guessing took precedence over other matters, even the day's business background which revealed a downturn in auto production, a 65 per cent boost in copper consumption, and the second straight week of lower carloadings.

The copper report may have helped that group to outperform the industrialist while rail buyers ignored the carloadings to give the carriers another strong pick-up on average. Prime gainers in both groups included Magma Copper 3½; Phelps-Dodge 1½, Anaconda 1¼, Kennecott 1, Union Pacific ⅞, Norfolk & Western 1⅞ and Kansas City Southern ⅞.

Most other groups were mixed with individual issues responding to corporate developments.

General Tire & Rubber, which said it will report a 20 per cent drop in earnings for this fiscal year, jumped 2 points. Lionel, which reported a good third quarter, lost ⅜ as traders took profits on the news.

Hammond Organ fell ⅞ in continued reaction to a 70,000 share offering to stockholders. Borden, up 4 Wednesday on news it is marketing a new weight-control food, lost ⅜ Thursday. George Roper, a manufacturer of gas and oil heaters 48 per cent owned by Sears, Roebuck, rose 1⅞. Sears added ⅜.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(While Louella Parsons is on vacation her column will be written by Dorothy Manners).

HOLLYWOOD — A spectacular Joe Levine deal along the same spectacular lines that are so typical of this movie magician is the contract Joe has just set with MGM for three pictures. They include "Wonders of Aladdin" starring Donald O'Connor with Anna Maria Alberghetti being sought as his co-star; "The Thief of Baghdad" which Steve ("Hercules") Reeves is competing in Tunis—and the third is also for Reeves, "Morgan, the Pirate." "Aladdin" starts in Tunis Dec. 2.

Joe says he has also reached an agreement with Jimmy McHugh to supervise the musical scoring and all the special music for the three outstanding productions—a nice deal, indeed, for composer McHugh. Looks like Jimmy is sitting pretty for the coming year. Joe Vogel, of MGM, negotiated the triplicate production contract with Levine.

Mara Lane took down with the flu and took off for Palm Springs, so her role in Danny Kaye's "On the Double" has been taken over by another British belle, Diana Dors.

Luckily, Diana was handy. She was on the Paramount lot expecting to start "Ladies' Man" with Jerry Lewis the end of the month. But when Mara fell ill, Jerry Nicely said Diana could move into her spot—thus saving producers Shavelson and Rose a casting headache.

If there was a little private pang in the heart of ex-Queen Soraya over the arrival of an heir to the Shan of Iran, she did not wear her heart on her sleeve at several social affairs.

For the first time since her arrival in Beverly Hills, Soraya arrived at parties with an escort. Both times the lucky man was Hugh O'Brian. Hugh was with her at a small dinner hosted by the Jamie Del Amos and the following night at a Halloween cocktail party at Moon Mullins'. The two affairs were given at the time the news about the infant heir to the Peacock throne was at its height.

Although you couldn't have slipped a piece of paper between Laurence Harvey and Joan (Mrs. Harry) Cohn at the Kirk Douglas farewell party—that's how close the young Englishman stayed glued to the side of the attractive widow, Larry still insists they do not have matrimony in mind. Asked how much longer he would remain a bachelor, he said:

"I spent my 'teens in the military service of England—my 20s in marriage to one woman—and I intend to spend my 30's growing up."

At the wedding of Daphne Fairbanks, I saw the Ray Millands, the Joseph Cottens (honeymooners themselves), Rocky and Maria Cooper (Gary was working), and Merle Oberon and Bruno Pagliai with Noel Coward. Of course, such non-Americans as Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones were very much present.

Farm Pond Installed At Midland Club

All five supervisors, Wilbert R. Paul, chairman; Charles S. Harvey, Floyd Buser, Ernest R. Slider and D. T. Puffinberger, attended the Friday meeting in the office of County Agent Joseph M. Steger.

Mr. Gordon also reported that a farm pond survey was made on the farm of Dr. S. E. Enfield, Ellerslie. Tile drainage surveys were conducted on the farms of Charles Cole, Flintstone, and Homer Twigg, Twiggtown.

Fire Losses May Hit New High This Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nation's fire losses are expected to reach an all-time high by the end of 1960, the International Association of Fire Chiefs reported.

"Unless fire losses decrease substantially this month and next, losses for 1960 will total over $1,072,000,000, an increase of 4 per cent from last year," the fire chiefs declared.

The prediction is based on monthly loss tabulations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which reported that those for the first eight months of this year amounted to $747,006,000, almost $30 million above the first eight months of 1959.

Floating Hospital Arrives In Surabaya

SURABAYA, East Java (UPI)—The American floating medical ship, S.S. Hope, arrived here late Thursday on the second stop of its Indonesian medical training mission.

The ship, staffed by volunteer doctors and nurses, is to remain here for four weeks, treating a limited number of patients and teaching local medical personnel modern diagnostic, therapeutic and surgical techniques.

During its 10-day Jakara visit, 56 patients were treated aboard the Hope, officials said.

731 Papers Backing Nixon, 208 Kennedy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Editor & Publisher Magazine, in its final tabulation of newspaper support in the presidential campaign, reported Thursday that 731 newspapers were supporting Vice President Richard M. Nixon and 208 endorsing Sen. John F. Kennedy.

The magazine said Kennedy had received the backing of the largest number of English - language dailies to support a Democratic candidate since the E&P poll was begun in 1932.

Auto Production Drops

DETROIT (UPI)—Car production in the United States will drop three per cent to an estimated 145,308 units this week, Automotive News reported Thursday.

The trade paper said the estimated output compares with production of 150,106 cars last week and 63,615 in the same week last year.

Compact car output was estimated at 48,067 units this week, compared with the all time high of 49,905 last week, Automotive News said.

The "nose" is an indispensable person in the perfume industry, the National Geographic Magazine says. The highly skilled creator of new perfumes can identify some 4,000 substances just by smelling them.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(While Louella Parsons is on vacation her column will be written by Dorothy Manners).

HOLLYWOOD — A spectacular Joe Levine deal along the same spectacular lines that are so typical of this movie magician is the contract Joe has just set with MGM for three pictures. They include "Wonders of Aladdin" starring Donald O'Connor with Anna Maria Alberghetti being sought as his co-star; "The Thief of Baghdad" which Steve ("Hercules") Reeves is competing in Tunis—and the third is also for Reeves, "Morgan, the Pirate." "Aladdin" starts in Tunis Dec. 2.

Joe says he has also reached an agreement with Jimmy McHugh to supervise the musical scoring and all the special music for the three outstanding productions—a nice deal, indeed, for composer McHugh. Looks like Jimmy is sitting pretty for the coming year. Joe Vogel, of MGM, negotiated the triplicate production contract with Levine.

Mara Lane took down with the flu and took off for Palm Springs, so her role in Danny Kaye's "On the Double" has been taken over by another British belle, Diana Dors.

Luckily, Diana was handy. She was on the Paramount lot expecting to start "Ladies' Man" with Jerry Lewis the end of the month. But when Mara fell ill, Jerry Nicely said Diana could move into her spot—thus saving producers Shavelson and Rose a casting headache.

If there was a little private pang in the heart of ex-Queen Soraya over the arrival of an heir to the Shan of Iran, she did not wear her heart on her sleeve at several social affairs.

For the first time since her arrival in Beverly Hills, Soraya arrived at parties with an escort. Both times the lucky man was Hugh O'Brian. Hugh was with her at a small dinner hosted by the Jamie Del Amos and the following night at a Halloween cocktail party at Moon Mullins'. The two affairs were given at the time the news about the infant heir to the Peacock throne was at its height.

Although you couldn't have slipped a piece of paper between Laurence Harvey and Joan (Mrs. Harry) Cohn at the Kirk Douglas farewell party—that's how close the young Englishman stayed glued to the side of the attractive widow, Larry still insists they do not have matrimony in mind. Asked how much longer he would remain a bachelor, he said:

"I spent my 'teens in the military service of England—my 20s in marriage to one woman—and I intend to spend my 30's growing up."

Our London operator who gets around in the more rarefied circles reports: "London is more Hollywood than Hollywood these days—the sun is even shining!

At the wedding of Daphne Fairbanks, I saw the Ray Millands, the Joseph Cottens (honeymooners themselves), Rocky and Maria Cooper (Gary was working), and Merle Oberon and Bruno Pagliai with Noel Coward. Of course, such non-Americans as Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones were very much present.

"It was a handsome and sentimental affair not at all ostentatious. The Guards' Chapel holds only 250 people—more were at the reception.

Farm Pond Installed At Midland Club

All five supervisors, Wilbert R. Paul, chairman; Charles S. Harvey, Floyd Buser, Ernest R. Slider and D. T. Puffinberger, attended the Friday meeting in the office of County Agent Joseph M. Steger.

Mr. Gordon also reported that a farm pond survey was made on the farm of Dr. S. E. Enfield, Ellerslie. Tile drainage surveys were conducted on the farms of Charles Cole, Flintstone, and Homer Twigg, Twiggtown.

Fire Losses May Hit New High This Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nation's fire losses are expected to reach an all-time high by the end of 1960, the International Association of Fire Chiefs reported.

"Unless fire losses decrease substantially this month and next, losses for 1960 will total over $1,072,000,000, an increase of 4 per cent from last year," the fire chiefs declared.

The prediction is based on monthly loss tabulations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which reported that those for the first eight months of this year amounted to $747,006,000, almost $30 million above the first eight months of 1959.

Floating Hospital Arrives In Surabaya

SURABAYA, East Java (UPI)—The American floating medical ship, S.S. Hope, arrived here late Thursday on the second stop of its Indonesian medical training mission.

The ship, staffed by volunteer doctors and nurses, is to remain here for four weeks, treating a limited number of patients and teaching local medical personnel modern diagnostic, therapeutic and surgical techniques.

During its 10-day Jakara visit, 56 patients were treated aboard the Hope, officials said.

731 Papers Backing Nixon, 208 Kennedy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Editor & Publisher Magazine, in its final tabulation of newspaper support in the presidential campaign, reported Thursday that 731 newspapers were supporting Vice President Richard M. Nixon and 208 endorsing Sen. John F. Kennedy.

The magazine said Kennedy had received the backing of the largest number of English - language dailies to support a Democratic candidate since the E&P poll was begun in 1932.

Auto Production Drops

DETROIT (UPI)—Car production in the United States will drop three per cent to an estimated 145,308 units this week, Automotive News reported Thursday.

The trade paper said the estimated output compares with production of 150,106 cars last week and 63,615 in the same week last year.

Compact car output was estimated at 48,067 units this week, compared with the all time high of 49,905 last week, Automotive News said.

County Leaders Of State Back Two Tax Plans

Sales And Income Proposals Supported

By BUDD THALMAN

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The State Association of County Commissioners Thursday gave its endorsement to two controversial tax proposals—one calling for a local option sales tax and the other for an increase in the State income tax.

Both proposals were approved by the association in a special meeting to consider the report of its legislative committee, headed by H.T. Slaughter of Talbot County.

Delbert Null of Frederick County, president of the association, urged the group to adopt the sales tax proposal. Null said "if we want to use a sales tax after it's on the books, that's our business, not Gov. Tawes'" The governor has voiced repeated opposition to such a proposal.

The association's proposal calls for authority to levy a sales tax up to one per cent on a local option basis for the counties and Baltimore City. The tax would be collected by the State in the same manner as the State sales tax is now collected. A certain amount of the proceeds would be retained by the State to cover he administrative expenses involved.

Little Opposition

There was little opposition to passage of the resolutions.

The association's income tax proposal calls for an increase in the present tax from 3 to 3½ per cent.

It grew out of two bills suggested at the group's Ocean City meeting in August. One called for a return to a full one-third sharing of the income tax yield and the other suggested a local option income tax.

Newton Butts, budget director of Montgomery County, drew up the alternate plan. Butts explained that by increasing the tax one-half of one per cent and fixing the counties' share at 1.15 per cent of the income taxable under the law, the counties would be returning to very near one-third sharing.

Butts said his plan would increase State revenue slightly and give the counties an estimated $10 million to $11 million more than they are now receiving. He added that by taking a share of the taxable income rather than the total yield, the counties did not interfer with the State's flexibility to raise or lower the tax rate.

Rowan Objects

Token opposition to the proposal was voiced by John Rowan of Allegany County and Paul Pitcher of Anne Arundel County.

Rowan claimed county residents pay sufficient taxes, and Pitcher said that "if there is any further tax for any reason, I would hope we approach it from another direction other than income." Pitcher is one of the proponets of the sales tax.

The association also favored a proposal urging the General Assembly in future actions affecting teachers' salaries to restrict itself to seeing only that State-directed minimum salary scales are enforced. The group felt all determinations as to salaries in excess of these scales should be left to the discretion of responsible local officials.

Other Actions

In other actions, the association:

1. Supported Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein's position in the current controversy over liquor tax stamps. Goldstein says each bottle of liquor for sale in the state should be stamped separately while others favor a single stamp for a whole case.

2. Approved a proposal calling for an act permitting counties, on a local option basis, to levy and collect personal property taxes, on small boats of less than 100 feet in length.

3. Urged legislation to relieve the counties of any obligation to participate financially either in the mental health programs or the chronic disease programs conducted by the State. It was claimed the amount of money the State would lose was not worth the bookkeeping required at both levels.

4. Approved a proposal for an act to give counties without planning and zoning programs the power to regulate establishment of junk yards.

5. Recommended approval of questions 13 and 14 on the Nov. 8 ballot. Both deal with farm land assessments.

6. Approved a proposal calling for certain changes in the present State hunting laws and dealing with gunning and shooting along public rights-of-way.

The association also heard a presentation of the "Bailey report" which would affect the distribution of gasoline tax and motor vehicle revenue fund money to the counties and Baltimore City. No action was taken on the report.

County Building Remains Heavy During October

50 Permits Issued For $296,320 Work

Allegany County building permits appeared to defy the seasonal trend in October when 50 permits were issued by James G. Stevenson, clerk of the county commissioners, for building estimated to cost a total of $296,320.

Both totals are well above the levels of the previous month and the corresponding month of 1959. In September only 34 permits were issued for construction estimated at $163,970. Last October there were 30 permits and the total estimated cost of construction was $182,875.

The number of permits was the fourth best for 1960 and the year's high of 54 issued in July. The total cost of construction ranks fifth among the 10 months of this year.

With the year five-sixths gone, there have been 363 permits issued this year compared with 353 in the same period of 1959. The total cost of construction at $3,256,800 is $870,380 above the $2,386,420 level after 10 months of 1959.

Some observers believe the efforts of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory to get housing facilities for new employes may be a reason for the unseasonably high totals for October.

More than half of the October permits were for new dwellings outside the corporate limits of the seven towns of the county. The total includes 26 new dwellings, one dwelling and garage, two additions to dwellings, nine garages, and one each of the following:

Cemetery equipment house, machine shelter, garage and one-room apartment, storage room, playroom, furnace room, garage and apartment, bedroom and kitchen, convert chicken coop to dwelling, shed and storage, business room and privy.

The October building permits authorized construction in 19 different election districts of the county, District 29 in LaVale, the usual leader, is well ahead, with 13, followed by District 6, West Side suburban, with eight, and District 7, Cresaptown-Rawlings, with four permits.

Three other districts had three permits each during October. They were Districts 16, North Branch, 20, Corriganville-Ellerslie, and 21, East Side suburban.

Three other districts had two permits each in October. Included were Districts 8, Westernport suburban, 23, East Side suburban, and 24, Eckhart. Districts with a single permit last month included 3, Flintstone; 4, South End suburban; 5, North End suburban, 11, Frostburg suburban; 13, Mt. Savage; 19, Shaft; 22, East Side suburban; 26, Frostburg suburban; 31, McCoole, and 33, Kifer.

Abrasive Grit Is Glued To Deck Of Bridge Here

The Wiley Ford Bridge is open again after an abrasive was applied by the State Roads Commission.

John D. Bushby, District 6 engineer, said the span across the Potomac River was opened to traffic Wednesday at 2 p.m.

The heavy application of the grit is expected to end complaints that the bridge was slippery when wet.

The service will be available from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Two College Presidents Visit City

Two college presidents were in Cumberland yesterday to make a bid for support of the Association of Independent Colleges in Maryland, Inc.

The association is an organization set up to provide a way for business and other interests to help support the independent colleges of the state. It now has seven members.

Dr. Andrew G. Truxal, president of Hood College, and Dr. Lowell S. Ensor, president of Western Maryland College, met with civic leaders and businessmen to express thanks for past support and to encourage further help for the private colleges.

They visited West Virginia Pulp and Paper's Luke mill, Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, Barton's Dairy, the Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Company, First National Bank, First Federal Savings and Loan Association and Allegany Instrument Company.

They also met with representatives of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, and had lunch at the Fort Cumberland Hotel with a group that included Mayor J. Edwin Keech; J. Goodloe Jackson, president of the Board of Education, Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools; R. Bowen Hardesty, president of Frostburg State Teachers College, business leaders, and newspaper and radio representatives.

Dr. Truxal said some Cumberland area industries have been actively supporting the association, which admits to membership only non-tax-supported colleges deriving less than 30 per cent of their support from church or other institutional sources. Contributions to the association are used for operating expenses at the colleges, but not for capital funds.

Present members of the association, besides Hood and Western Maryland, are St. John's College at Annapolis, Washington College at Chestertown, and the College of Notre Dame, Loyola and Mount St. Agnes colleges of Baltimore.

Boyd Payton Begins Serving Prison Term

Men Lose 16-Month Battle For Freedom

HENDERSON, N. C. (AP)—A union leader and seven companions, convicted of plotting to cripple a struck cotton mill here, were imprisoned Thursday after emotional farewells to their families and faithful supporters.

Boyd Payton, Carolinas director of the Textile Workers Union of America, led the group as it surrendered to Vance County officers while rank-and-file unionists, packed in the hall of the ancient courthouse, sang, "Solidarity Forever." Many of the crowd wept when the men were led away.

It marked the end of a 16-month battle for freedom begun in July, 1959, when the eight were found guilty of a conspiracy to destroy by dynamite and fire vital installations at Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills. All maintained they were innocent.

The arrests came during a bitter, turbulent strike which resulted in a call for National Guardsmen during the spring and summer of 1959.

Payton, Lawrence Gore and Charles Auslander, three union officials, received 6 to 10 years. Warren Walker, Calvin Pegram, Johnny Martin and Edward Abbott, all local union men, were sentenced to 5 to 7 years each, and Malcolm Jarrell, another local member, to 2 to 3 years.

TWUA President William Pollock, who came here from New York, said the eight "were sentenced to harsh and vindictive terms for a crime that never occurred."

Catholic Veterans To Distribute Pins

Members of Victor Tambolleo Post 1712, Catholic War Veterans, will distribute Cross of Peace lapel pins after all Masses Sunday at St. Mary's Church.

Proceeds will be used towards the purchase of Christmas food baskets which will be distributed to deserving families of the three local parishes and St. Michael's parish in Frostburg.

Foley And Mathias End Debates

Rival Congressional candidates John R. Foley and Charles McC. Mathias yesterday wound up a series of 16 face-to-face debates at Wheaton in Montgomery County.

Mr. Mathias, Republican seeking to unseat Mr. Foley, Democrat, accused Foley of "making cheap political noises when you are incapable of understanding new and imaginative ideas . . . such as I have been proposing in the field of education throughout this campaign."

He charged that Rep. Foley "again proved his legislative immaturity" when Foley called Mathias' plan for government-insured loans to qualified high school graduates to help them go to college. Mr. Foley had called the program "stale and tired."

Mr. Mathias countered with a reminder that Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic Presidential candidate, called for the same program in a speech at Los Angeles on Wednesday.

The candidates also disagreed on medical care for the aged.

Rep. Foley said he favors the financing of such care on a pay-as-you-go basis through Social Security. Mr. Mathias backed a plan based on greater local initiative and allowing those who wish to do so to exclude themselves from any automatic payment plan.

Light System Is Going Up

Many favorable comments are being heard here on the mercury vapor lighting system which is being installed in Cumberland's downtown shopping district.

The new lights double the amount of illumination and will enable anyone with reasonable eyesight to read a newspaper on Baltimore Street at night.

Potomac Edison Company crews have already erected the lights on green standards, from the B&O tracks to Centre Street.

The new lighting system is to be placed on North Centre and North Mechanic streets to Bedford Street. Existing poles will be used on these streets.

The installation is being speeded so the lights will be up before Christmas decorations are strung along the business area.

Public Health Services Cost $848,849 In County

He said a report from the State Department of Health on expenditures in this county indicates that $760,836 of the budget came from state and federal funds and $88,013, or about 10 per cent, came from Allegany County funds.

The Allegany County funds, he said, included $83,413 spent for general local health services, $4,000 for chronic disease hospital care and $600 for out-patient services in local hospitals for people who have medical care cards.

Medical care costs totaled $194,553, up sharply from the previous year's $157,681.46.

The medical care program provides medical and dental services and medicines for the indigent (all those on relief rolls) and the medically indigent (those who are unable to pay the cost of health services from their limited incomes).

He said Baltimore County, with a population of about half a million, was next, with $119,000, in medical care expenditures while Washington County spent $107,000.

Metropolitan Newspapers Back Mathias

Star, Sun Announce Editorial Support

The strongest endorsement came from the Washington Evening Star, which said its support was based "on a conviction that he is better fitted to serve the Sixth District as a whole" than is the Democratic incumbent, Rep. John R. Foley.

The Evening Star said in its editorial that Rep. Foley has "a doctrinaire approach to legislation in general (and to federal spending in particular) which, no matter how sincere, hardly can be representative of the vastly divergent views and interests of the district, especially in heavily populated Montgomery County."

In the western areas of the district, the editorial noted, there are different kinds of problems than in the metropolitan area.

"Mind Of His Own"

"Mr. Mathias, a Frederick lawyer and state legislator, has indicated a particular sensitivity to the complexity of these situations, and he has been commendably slow in handing out campaign promises.

"His political philosophy is generally conservative, and he has a mind of his own. We believe he would use it to serve all of the Sixth District without catering to the extremes of either right or left," The Evening Star's editorial concluded.

The Star endorsed Richard E. Lankford, a Democrat, for re-election in the adjoining Fifth District.

The Baltimore Sun yesterday morning noting that Rep. Foley had a substantial labor law practice before his election, said. "He is typical in many respects of the sort of Congressman who follows the AFL-CIO line with out question.

Views Called "Moderate"

"Mr. Mathias, a young lawyer from Frederick, highly respected in his community, has served with distinction in the Maryland legislature. In politics, he is a moderate whose views are more typical of the people of his district than Mr. Foley's are. He would add strength to the Maryland delegation, and The Sun endorses him."

The Washington Post yesterday morning also discussed the Sixth District campaign in an editorial which referred to Mr. Mathias' criticism of some of Rep. Foley's votes in the House of Representatives, and to Rep. Foley's attacks on Mr. Mathias' voting record.

"We are not much impressed by this battle over voting records," said The Post. The editorial concluded that both candidates are "progressive minded men who give first consideration to the needs of their country." The editorial did not recommend either candidate over the other.

Little League Parents To Meet

Jack Cornett, manager and coach of the Ridgeley Indians, said plans will be discussed for programs to acquire equipment for the team, and other ideas for next summer's season will be reviewed. Parents and all interested boosters of the Ridgeley Indians are urged to attend, he said.

6-Point Plan Backed By Sen. Beall

Terms Cooperation 'Pleasure And Duty'

United States Senator J. Glenn Beall yesterday wholeheartedly endorsed the six-point program of the Western Maryland Central Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

In a letter to Mayor J. Edwin Keech, Senator Beall commended the AFL-CIO Council for its aggressive and foresighted thinking and assured "it not only will be a pleasure, but my duty" to cooperate in every way possible.

The U.S. Senator was replying to a letter from Mayor Keech which urged support from area legislators for the plan endorsed by the Mayor and Council on October 24.

He congratulated Mayor Keech and members of the Council and the Western Maryland Central Labor Council "for the position you have taken," and said he would be "only too happy to cooperate in accomplishing the objectives."

Plan Adopted

The AFL-CIO Council early this fall adopted the long-range plan to achieve full employment by creating conditions which would make it desirable for area industries to expand and for new industries to locate in Western Maryland.

The program provides for the inclusion of Route 40 in Western Maryland in the Interstate Highway system, development of the Upper Potomac River Basin, a coal research station and an import quota system to protect area industries and workers from low-cost imports.

Senator Beall told Mayor Keech he has long advocated the extension of Interstate Route 70 through Maryland and into Pennsylvania and has asked the Bureau of Public Roads to make it part of the system.

Approval Needed

He said that to make Route 40 in this area part of the program requires, under the Highway Act, the acquiescence and approval of the states affected.

In this case, he explained, both the Maryland and West Virginia highway commissions requested in 1959 and again in 1960 that Route 40 be made part of the federal system by including it in Interstate Route 70.

He said that to date the Pennsylvania Highway Commission has declined to give its approval and under the law all states must approve a project before it can be consummated.

He said he explained to representatives of the AFL-CIO council when they were in his office in Washington recently that "if we could get the Pennsylvania Highway Commission to make the same request that the Maryland and West Virginia highway commissions have made "there would be no question in my mind that the mileage could be made part of the system."

Area Comes First

In reference to the Upper Potomac River Basin, Senator Beall pointed out that he has personally sponsored every appropriation for the development of the project over the past 18 years and has worked closely with the Corps of Engineers on the plan.

He said it is interesting to note that in the present appropriation for the river study, it is understood that no money is to be used for surveys or the construction of any dams east of Harpers Ferry.

"The Virginia and West Virginia Senators, along with myself, are insistent" he said, that the upper end of the Potomac River be developed first before any surveys or dams are made.

He assured Mayor Keech he will maintain that position.

Nixon Carries East Side Class

Vice President Richard M. Nixon carried Miss Orpha A. Clark's sixth grade class at East Side School in a special election yesterday, 16 to 13 for Senator John F. Kennedy.

Yesterday's voting was the culmination of a project entitled "How Can We Take A Vital Part In The Election?"

Mr. Nixon's 16 votes actually came very close to parallelling Allegany County's Republican majority. The 16 votes of 29 cast constituted a 55.2 per cent vote. In the entire county there are 22,752 registered Republicans or 55.9 per cent of the 40,663 eligible to vote next Tuesday.

Miss Clark said only one of her 30 pupils failed to vote. She said the lone girl said she just could not make up her mind between the two aspirants. Twenty-nine votes out of 30 registrants is much better than the adult record. That meant that 96.7 per cent of the pupils voted.

Parked Car Struck On Greene Street

A man trying out an automobile from a used car lot, was shaken up when his vehicle plowed into a parked car on Greene Street near Johnson Street yesterday afternoon.

Officer Leo Downey said the driver told him he was driving west on Greene Street when he was forced aside by another vehicle and struck the parked car. Damage to both vehicles was approximately $400.

No charges were preferred.

Garrett County Girls Awarded Heavy Damages

Defendants Share $47,500 Verdict

A jury deliberated for 2½ hours yesterday afternoon before returning a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs in the $200,000 damage suits heard this week in Garret County Circuit Court as a result of the tragic B&O train-school bus accident at the Loch Lynn-Mountain Lake Park crossing on September 10, 1959.

The four-day trial ended when the jury awarded damages against both the railroad and the bus driver, Leroy Campbell, granting $25,000 to Sandra Jean Patton, 14, and $22,500 to Mary Jane Lee, 17. The verdict also gave approximately $700 in medical expenses to the girls' parents.

The railroad and the bus driver were sued jointly by Miss Patton, through her father, James Patton, and by Miss Lee, through her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Lee, all of Deer Park.

The cases were consolidated for the purpose of trial before a jury. The girls sustained broken backs as a result of the collision, which took the lives of eight other school children.

Testimony Disputed

Closing arguments by the attorneys were begun yesterday morning and continued until nearly 2 p. m. The case went to the jury at 2:05 p. m. and the jurors returned a verdict at 4:30.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs pointed out in their closing statements that B&O employes had testified that the train was going 15 to 18 miles per hour when it struck the bus, but that this was refuted when the engine's speed tape was admitted as evidence and showed the train was traveling 40 miles per hour at the time of the wreck.

Noting that medical testimony indicated Miss Patton was more severely injured than Miss Lee, the plaintiffs' attorneys asked for the exact amounts that were awarded by the jury.

Equal Burden

Attorneys for the railroad asked that the jury set the damages not on the railroad but on the bus driver. However, the verdict indicated that both defendants were to share the burden equally.

Defense lawyers did not say last night what action will be taken on behalf of Mr. Campbell and the railroad, but indicated that a motion for an appeal may be forthcoming.

Attorneys in the case were Stuart F. Hamill Jr., Oakland, and John B. Fox, Baltimore, for the plaintiffs; Walter W. Dawson, Oakland, Stuart E. Bushong and Irvin Rutledge, Hagerstown, for the B&O; and Lewis R. Jones, Oakland, and William B. Somerville for Mr. Campbell.

Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley presided at the trial and J. Paul Riley was foreman of the jury of 10 men and two women.

County Leaders Of State Back Two Tax Plans

Sales And Income Proposals Supported

By BUDD THALMAN

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The State Association of County Commissioners Thursday gave its endorsement to two controversial tax proposals—one calling for a local option sales tax and the other for an increase in the State income tax.

Both proposals were approved by the association in a special meeting to consider the report of its legislative committee, headed by H.T. Slaughter of Talbot County.

Delbert Null of Frederick County, president of the association, urged the group to adopt the sales tax proposal. Null said "if we want to use a sales tax after it's on the books, that's our business, not Gov. Tawes'" The governor has voiced repeated opposition to such a proposal.

The association's proposal calls for authority to levy a sales tax up to one per cent on a local option basis for the counties and Baltimore City. The tax would be collected by the State in the same manner as the State sales tax is now collected. A certain amount of the proceeds would be retained by the State to cover he administrative expenses involved.

Little Opposition

There was little opposition to passage of the resolutions.

The association's income tax proposal calls for an increase in the present tax from 3 to 3½ per cent.

It grew out of two bills suggested at the group's Ocean City meeting in August. One called for a return to a full one-third sharing of the income tax yield and the other suggested a local option income tax.

Newton Butts, budget director of Montgomery County, drew up the alternate plan. Butts explained that by increasing the tax one-half of one per cent and fixing the counties' share at 1.15 per cent of the income taxable under the law, the counties would be returning to very near one-third sharing.

Butts said his plan would increase State revenue slightly and give the counties an estimated $10 million to $11 million more than they are now receiving. He added that by taking a share of the taxable income rather than the total yield, the counties did not interfer with the State's flexibility to raise or lower the tax rate.

Rowan Objects

Token opposition to the proposal was voiced by John Rowan of Allegany County and Paul Pitcher of Anne Arundel County.

Rowan claimed county residents pay sufficient taxes, and Pitcher said that "if there is any further tax for any reason, I would hope we approach it from another direction other than income." Pitcher is one of the proponets of the sales tax.

The association also favored a proposal urging the General Assembly in future actions affecting teachers' salaries to restrict itself to seeing only that State-directed minimum salary scales are enforced. The group felt all determinations as to salaries in excess of these scales should be left to the discretion of responsible local officials.

Other Actions

In other actions, the association:

1. Supported Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein's position in the current controversy over liquor tax stamps. Goldstein says each bottle of liquor for sale in the state should be stamped separately while others favor a single stamp for a whole case.

2. Approved a proposal calling for an act permitting counties, on a local option basis, to levy and collect personal property taxes, on small boats of less than 100 feet in length.

3. Urged legislation to relieve the counties of any obligation to participate financially either in the mental health programs or the chronic disease programs conducted by the State. It was claimed the amount of money the State would lose was not worth the bookkeeping required at both levels.

4. Approved a proposal for an act to give counties without planning and zoning programs the power to regulate establishment of junk yards.

5. Recommended approval of questions 13 and 14 on the Nov. 8 ballot. Both deal with farm land assessments.

6. Approved a proposal calling for certain changes in the present State hunting laws and dealing with gunning and shooting along public rights-of-way.

The association also heard a presentation of the "Bailey report" which would affect the distribution of gasoline tax and motor vehicle revenue fund money to the counties and Baltimore City. No action was taken on the report.

County Building Remains Heavy During October

50 Permits Issued For $296,320 Work

Allegany County building permits appeared to defy the seasonal trend in October when 50 permits were issued by James G. Stevenson, clerk of the county commissioners, for building estimated to cost a total of $296,320.

Both totals are well above the levels of the previous month and the corresponding month of 1959. In September only 34 permits were issued for construction estimated at $163,970. Last October there were 30 permits and the total estimated cost of construction was $182,875.

The number of permits was the fourth best for 1960 and the year's high of 54 issued in July. The total cost of construction ranks fifth among the 10 months of this year.

With the year five-sixths gone, there have been 363 permits issued this year compared with 353 in the same period of 1959. The total cost of construction at $3,256,800 is $870,380 above the $2,386,420 level after 10 months of 1959.

Some observers believe the efforts of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory to get housing facilities for new employes may be a reason for the unseasonably high totals for October.

More than half of the October permits were for new dwellings outside the corporate limits of the seven towns of the county. The total includes 26 new dwellings, one dwelling and garage, two additions to dwellings, nine garages, and one each of the following:

Cemetery equipment house, machine shelter, garage and one-room apartment, storage room, playroom, furnace room, garage and apartment, bedroom and kitchen, convert chicken coop to dwelling, shed and storage, business room and privy.

The October building permits authorized construction in 19 different election districts of the county, District 29 in LaVale, the usual leader, is well ahead, with 13, followed by District 6, West Side suburban, with eight, and District 7, Cresaptown-Rawlings, with four permits.

Three other districts had three permits each during October. They were Districts 16, North Branch, 20, Corriganville-Ellerslie, and 21, East Side suburban.

Three other districts had two permits each in October. Included were Districts 8, Westernport suburban, 23, East Side suburban, and 24, Eckhart. Districts with a single permit last month included 3, Flintstone; 4, South End suburban; 5, North End suburban, 11, Frostburg suburban; 13, Mt. Savage; 19, Shaft; 22, East Side suburban; 26, Frostburg suburban; 31, McCoole, and 33, Kifer.

Abrasive Grit Is Glued To Deck Of Bridge Here

The Wiley Ford Bridge is open again after an abrasive was applied by the State Roads Commission.

John D. Bushby, District 6 engineer, said the span across the Potomac River was opened to traffic Wednesday at 2 p.m.

The deck of the bridge was given a coarse surface of carborundum grit imbedded in epoxy resin glue applied to the wood planks.

The heavy application of the grit is expected to end complaints that the bridge was slippery when wet.

Two College Presidents Visit City

Two college presidents were in Cumberland yesterday to make a bid for support of the Association of Independent Colleges in Maryland, Inc.

The association is an organization set up to provide a way for business and other interests to help support the independent colleges of the state. It now has seven members.

Dr. Andrew G. Truxal, president of Hood College, and Dr. Lowell S. Ensor, president of Western Maryland College, met with civic leaders and businessmen to express thanks for past support and to encourage further help for the private colleges.

They visited West Virginia Pulp and Paper's Luke mill, Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, Barton's Dairy, the Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Company, First National Bank, First Federal Savings and Loan Association and Allegany Instrument Company.

They also met with representatives of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, and had lunch at the Fort Cumberland Hotel with a group that included Mayor J. Edwin Keech; J. Goodloe Jackson, president of the Board of Education, Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools; R. Bowen Hardesty, president of Frostburg State Teachers College, business leaders, and newspaper and radio representatives.

Dr. Truxal said some Cumberland area industries have been actively supporting the association, which admits to membership only non-tax-supported colleges deriving less than 30 per cent of their support from church or other institutional sources. Contributions to the association are used for operating expenses at the colleges, but not for capital funds.

Present members of the association, besides Hood and Western Maryland, are St. John's College at Annapolis, Washington College at Chestertown, and the College of Notre Dame, Loyola and Mount St. Agnes colleges of Baltimore.

Boyd Payton Begins Serving Prison Term

Men Lose 16-Month Battle For Freedom

HENDERSON, N. C. (AP)—A union leader and seven companions, convicted of plotting to cripple a struck cotton mill here, were imprisoned Thursday after emotional farewells to their families and faithful supporters.

Boyd Payton, Carolinas director of the Textile Workers Union of America, led the group as it surrendered to Vance County officers while rank-and-file unionists, packed in the hall of the ancient courthouse, sang, "Solidarity Forever." Many of the crowd wept when the men were led away.

It marked the end of a 16-month battle for freedom begun in July, 1959, when the eight were found guilty of a conspiracy to destroy by dynamite and fire vital installations at Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills. All maintained they were innocent.

The strike has continued, but the mills have been operating at full capacity with nonunion labor.

Payton, Lawrence Gore and Charles Auslander, three union officials, received 6 to 10 years. Warren Walker, Calvin Pegram, Johnny Martin and Edward Abbott, all local union men, were sentenced to 5 to 7 years each, and Malcolm Jarrell, another local member, to 2 to 3 years.

TWUA President William Pollock, who came here from New York, said the eight "were sentenced to harsh and vindictive terms for a crime that never occurred."

Foley And Mathias End Debates

Rival Congressional candidates John R. Foley and Charles McC. Mathias yesterday wound up a series of 16 face-to-face debates at Wheaton in Montgomery County.

Mr. Mathias, Republican seeking to unseat Mr. Foley, Democrat, accused Foley of "making cheap political noises when you are incapable of understanding new and imaginative ideas . . . such as I have been proposing in the field of education throughout this campaign."

He charged that Rep. Foley "again proved his legislative inmaturity" when Foley called Mathias' plan for government-insured loans to qualified high school graduates to help them go to college. Mr. Foley had called the program "stale and tired."

Mr. Mathias countered with a reminder that Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic Presidential candidate, called for the same program in a speech at Los Angeles on Wednesday.

The candidates also disagreed on medical care for the aged.

Rep. Foley said he favors the financing of such care on a pay-as-you-go basis through Social Security. Mr. Mathias backed a plan based on greater local initiative and allowing those who wish to do so to exclude themselves from any automatic payment plan.

Public Health Services Cost $848,849 In County

Health services in Allegany County cost $848,849 during the 1959-60 fiscal year, according to Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer.

He said a report from the State Department of Health on expenditures in this county indicates that $760,836 of the budget came from state and federal funds and $88,013, or about 10 per cent, came from Allegany County funds.

The Allegany County funds, he said, included $83,413 spent for general local health services, $4,000 for chronic disease hospital care and $600 for out-patient services in local hospitals for people who have medical care cards.

The state and federal funds were spent in this manner:

General local health services, $131,617; chronic disease hospitals, $69,299; out-patient services $600; laboratory operations, $44,718, and care of crippled children, $15,657; hospital in-patient program, $257,404; care of county residents in tuberculosis hospitals, $46,328.

Medical care costs totaled $194,553, up sharply from the previous year's $157,681.46.

The medical care program provides medical and dental services and medicines for the indigent (all those on relief rolls) and the medically indigent (those who are unable to pay the cost of health services from their limited incomes).

Allegany County, Dr. van Strien said, leads all Maryland counties in medical care costs, regardless of size and population.

He said Baltimore County, with a population of about half a million, was next, with $119,000, in medical care expenditures while Washington County spent $107,000.

Metropolitan Newspapers Back Mathias

Star, Sun Announce Editorial Support

The strongest endorsement came from the Washington Evening Star, which said its support was based "on a conviction that he is better fitted to serve the Sixth District as a whole" than is the Democratic incumbent, Rep. John R. Foley.

The Evening Star said in its editorial that Rep. Foley has "a doctrinaire approach to legislation in general (and to federal spending in particular) which, no matter how sincere, hardly can be representative of the vastly divergent views and interests of the district, especially in heavily populated Montgomery County."

In the western areas of the district, the editorial noted, there are different kinds of problems than in the metropolitan area.

"Mind Of His Own"

"Mr. Mathias, a Frederick lawyer and state legislator, has indicated a particular sensitivity to the complexity of these situations, and he has been commendably slow in handing out campaign promises.

"His political philosophy is generally conservative, and he has a mind of his own. We believe he would use it to serve all of the Sixth District without catering to the extremes of either right or left," The Evening Star's editorial concluded.

The Star endorsed Richard E. Lankford, a Democrat, for re-election in the adjoining Fifth District.

The Baltimore Sun yesterday morning noting that Rep. Foley had a substantial labor law practice before his election, said. "He is typical in many respects of the sort of Congressman who follows the AFL-CIO line with out question.

Views Called "Moderate"

"Mr. Mathias, a young lawyer from Frederick, highly respected in his community, has served with distinction in the Maryland legislature. In politics, he is a moderate whose views are more typical of the people of his district than Mr. Foley's are. He would add strength to the Maryland delegation, and The Sun endorses him."

The Washington Post yesterday morning also discussed the Sixth District campaign in an editorial which referred to Mr. Mathias' criticism of some of Rep. Foley's votes in the House of Representatives, and to Rep. Foley's attacks on Mr. Mathias' voting record.

"We are not much impressed by this battle over voting records," said The Post. The editorial concluded that both candidates are "progressive minded men who give first consideration to the needs of their country." The editorial did not recommend either candidate over the other.

Little League Parents To Meet

6-Point Plan Backed By Sen. Beall

Terms Cooperation 'Pleasure And Duty'

United States Senator J. Glenn Beall yesterday wholeheartedly endorsed the six-point program of the Western Maryland Central Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

In a letter to Mayor J. Edwin Keech, Senator Beall commended the AFL-CIO Council for its aggressive and foresighted thinking and assured "it not only will be a pleasure, but my duty" to cooperate in every way possible.

The U.S. Senator was replying to a letter from Mayor Keech which urged support from area legislators for the plan endorsed by the Mayor and Council on October 24.

He congratulated Mayor Keech and members of the Council and the Western Maryland Central Labor Council "for the position you have taken," and said he would be "only too happy to cooperate in accomplishing the objectives."

Plan Adopted

The AFL-CIO Council early this fall adopted the long-range plan to achieve full employment by creating conditions which would make it desirable for area industries to expand and for new industries to locate in Western Maryland.

The program provides for the inclusion of Route 40 in Western Maryland in the Interstate Highway system, development of the Upper Potomac River Basin, a coal research station and an import quota system to protect area industries and workers from low-cost imports.

Senator Beall told Mayor Keech he has long advocated the extension of Interstate Route 70 through Maryland and into Pennsylvania and has asked the Bureau of Public Roads to make it part of the system.

Approval Needed

He said that to make Route 40 in this area part of the program requires, under the Highway Act, the acquiescence and approval of the states affected.

In this case, he explained, both the Maryland and West Virginia highway commissions requested in 1959 and again in 1960 that Route 40 be made part of the federal system by including it in Interstate Route 70.

He said that to date the Pennsylvania Highway Commission has declined to give its approval and under the law all states must approve a project before it can be consummated.

He said he explained to representatives of the AFL-CIO council when they were in his office in Washington recently that "if we could get the Pennsylvania Highway Commission to make the same request that the Maryland and West Virginia highway commissions have made "there would be no question in my mind that the mileage could be made part of the system."

Area Comes First

In reference to the Upper Potomac River Basin, Senator Beall pointed out that he has personally sponsored every appropriation for the development of the project over the past 18 years and has worked closely with the Corps of Engineers on the plan.

He said it is interesting to note that in the present appropriation for the river study, it is understood that no money is to be used for surveys or the construction of any dams east of Harpers Ferry.

"The Virginia and West Virginia Senators, along with myself, are insistent" he said, that the upper end of the Potomac River be developed first before any surveys or dams are made.

He assured Mayor Keech he will maintain that position.

Nixon Carries East Side Class

Vice President Richard M. Nixon carried Miss Orpha A. Clark's sixth grade class at East Side School in a special election yesterday, 16 to 13 for Senator John F. Kennedy.

Yesterday's voting was the culmination of a project entitled "How Can We Take A Vital Part In The Election?"

Mr. Nixon's 16 votes actually came very close to parallelling Allegany County's Republican majority. The 16 votes of 29 cast constituted a 55.2 per cent vote. In the entire county there are 22,752 registered Republicans or 55.9 per cent of the 40,663 eligible to vote next Tuesday.

Miss Clark said only one of her 30 pupils failed to vote. She said the lone girl said she just could not make up her mind between the two aspirants. Twenty-nine votes out of 30 registrants is much better than the adult record. That meant that 96.7 per cent of the pupils voted.

No charges were preferred.

Defendants Share $47,500 Verdict

A jury deliberated for 2½ hours yesterday afternoon before returning a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs in the $200,000 damage suits heard this week in Garret County Circuit Court as a result of the tragic B&O train-school bus accident at the Loch Lynn-Mountain Lake Park crossing on September 10, 1959.

The four-day trial ended when the jury awarded damages against both the railroad and the bus driver, Leroy Campbell, granting $25,000 to Sandra Jean Patton, 14, and $22,500 to Mary Jane Lee, 17. The verdict also gave approximately $700 in medical expenses to the girls' parents.

The railroad and the bus driver were sued jointly by Miss Patton, through her father, James Patton, and by Miss Lee, through her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Lee, all of Deer Park.

The cases were consolidated for the purpose of trial before a jury. The girls sustained broken backs as a result of the collision, which took the lives of eight other school children.

Testimony Disputed

Closing arguments by the attorneys were begun yesterday morning and continued until nearly 2 p. m. The case went to the jury at 2:05 p. m. and the jurors returned a verdict at 4:30.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs pointed out in their closing statements that B&O employes had testified that the train was going 15 to 18 miles per hour when it struck the bus, but that this was refuted when the engine's speed tape was admitted as evidence and showed the train was traveling 40 miles per hour at the time of the wreck.

Noting that medical testimony indicated Miss Patton was more severely injured than Miss Lee, the plaintiffs' attorneys asked for the exact amounts that were awarded by the jury.

Equal Burden

Attorneys for the railroad asked that the jury set the damages not on the railroad but on the bus driver. However, the verdict indicated that both defendants were to share the burden equally.

Defense lawyers did not say last night what action will be taken on behalf of Mr. Campbell and the railroad, but indicated that a motion for an appeal may be forthcoming.

Attorneys in the case were Stuart F. Hamill Jr., Oakland, and John B. Fox, Baltimore, for the plaintiffs; Walter W. Dawson, Oakland, Stuart E. Bushong and Irvin Rutledge, Hagerstown, for the B&O; and Lewis R. Jones, Oakland, and William B. Somerville for Mr. Campbell.

Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley presided at the trial and J. Paul Riley was foreman of the jury of 10 men and two women.
